

Double Boxing Bout Feature Thursday Event

Carr And McCarver Meet Again Here, Spangler To Fight Pearson.

A double main bout will feature a boxing program to be put on at the company K armory in Shelby Thursday night, the preliminaries to begin at 8:45.

In one of the two main bouts Shelby ring fans will have the opportunity of seeing Tommy McCarver and Babe Carr, lightweights, meet again. In the other main Jerome Spangler, a favorite with Shelby fans, will take on Jimmy Pearson, the county boy with a good reputation for putting his opponents out on their back.

A Hot Go

The McCarver-Carr bout promises to get the ringside spectators steamed up. Carr has the best reputation out of Shelby, having fought in several states, but of recent months McCarver has been coming along fast. Among fight fans there are many who believe that McCarver has the Babe's number, but Babe has his supporters, too, and the bout Thursday evening may settle the controversy between the two—temporarily at least.

In the preliminaries Albert White meets Lester Gohs, and Harlan Bridges battles Clyde Hoy.

Hugh Peeler and Leland Francis will put on the curtain raiser.

Rutherfordton Cagers Doped To Win Shelby Game Tuesday Night

Undeclared Shelby Quint Meets Strongest For Three Girls Will Play.

Shelby high's undefeated basketball quint is done to have its four-game winning streak broken Tuesday night when the Morris-Falls cagers take on the strong Rutherfordton five at Rutherfordton.

The Shelby girls sextet will play the Rutherfordton girls the same night.

Some Hoopsters

The Rutherfordton quint is practically as strong as it was last year, and last season the flashy five lost only one game in 28. The Shelby quint lost more than half of its regulars from last year and two regulars will be ineligible for play Tuesday night because of scholastic failure. Due to these players being barred for a month Jolley was shifted from forward to center and the Shelby quint will take on its hardest foe without a single veteran forward. As it is, however, the locals expect to put up a stiff fight Tuesday night. The Rutherfordton quint is confident of maintaining their great win record, but despite several handicaps the Shelby team, built around the sterling play of "Red" Jolley, is one of the best outfits the school has had in years.

Friday night Rutherfordton defeated the fast Lattimore team by a narrow margin, it being the closest contest, with the exception of two, that Rutherfordton has had in three years.

Schick Test Invaluable In Checking Diphtheria

This Most Dreaded Disease Has Been Proved Preventable Through Immunization, Says Dr. Copeland. Urging Parents to Protect Their Children.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

DIPHTHERIA used to be one of the most dreaded of all diseases. It afflicted young and old. Fifty years ago the deaths in this country from diphtheria were about 115 persons out of every 100,000 of the population. Last year there were less than six persons out of every 100,000.

I am happy to say that because of immunization this disease can now be prevented.

By means of the "Schick test" we can determine whether a person will contract the disease if exposed to diphtheria.

This is a simple and painless procedure. It can be given by any physician, or by the local health officer. The last consists of injecting into the skin a tiny drop of toxin. This causes a welt, or swelling. If this swelling disappears quickly, the test is regarded as "negative." If the spot turns red and stays red for about a week or longer, the test is called "positive." When the test is positive it means that the individual, unless immunized, can contract the disease.

This knowledge is of tremendous value in saving the lives of children.

Dr. Copeland

If all children were tested and immunized against diphtheria the disease would be completely eradicated. This protection can be given at any age, even to a baby when but six months old.

The immunization is produced by the injection of a substance called "toxoid"—that is, all the toxins are given at weekly intervals. There are no serious after effects from this treatment and often the child is unaware of the injection.

Scientists agree that no child should be denied this protection. It is believed, too, that the injections should be given as early as possible. The reason for this is that diphtheria is most dangerous between the ages of six months and five years. Please remember that few children are naturally immune to diphtheria. If a child is immune to diphtheria, it is the better, of course, but the fact can only be determined by the Schick test.

If your child has received a Schick test and it was found to be positive, do not hesitate or delay the injections. If your child has not been "Schicked," attend to the matter at once.

Keep in mind that diphtheria is definitely preventable. But the means of protection for your child can be applied only by your consent.

Parents who have children under school age should talk with the family doctor or health officer about this important measure. This protection is within the reach of everyone. There is no excuse for not protecting your child from diphtheria.
