Mr. Webb Wins Trip With Pilot Company

Goes to Florida and Cuba to Attend Convention. Fourth Time In McAllister Club.

(Special to The Star.) A visit to the sunshine and flower land of Cuba with its sights and sounds of old world quaintness comes to C. R. Webb, as a reward for outstanding production of life insurance during the past year he has been notified by the Pilot Life Insurance company which he represents here, Mr. Webb will be accompanied by Mrs. Webb, for whom he won an additional trip, and by his son, Billy Webb. Mr. Webb will join some other 80 members of the Pilot Life Insurance company agency force and their wives and guests in time to reach Havana, the 22nd convention headquarters, by December 29, and the party will remain at the Hotel Plaza until the morning of January 1. The New Year's eve celebration in Havana will prove a feature of the trip.

Following two brief business sessions during which President Chas. W. Gold will address the agency force represented on the trip, members of the party will visit points of interest, which will include the highlights of this vacation land.

The Casino, Morro Castle, Cabana fortress, the botanical gardens, sugar mills, jai jai games, native forests, and many other interesting points are on the itinerary, according to announcements by company officials who have arranged the entertainment features.

Mr. Webb won not only two memberships in the quarter million dollar class but likewise his 4th successive membership in the McAllister club, the highest honor organization of the Pilot Life Insurance agency force.
