

Romance of U. S. Marine Corps

A romance that started to bud in Quantico, Va., when her father commanded that marine post, has blossomed into flower with the announcement of the engagement of Miss Ethel Peters Butler, daughter of General Smedley D. Butler, famous "fighting Marine," to Lieutenant John Wehle, of the U. S. Marine Corps. Miss Butler made her debut in Philadelphia society some years ago and met her future husband when he was in her father's command at Quantico. Lieutenant Wehle, whose home is in Newark, Conn., is at present stationed at Brooklyn Navy Yard.

PAINS QUIT COMING

"When I was a girl, I suffered periodically with terrible pains in my back and sides. Often I would bend almost double with the intense pain. This would last for hours and I could get no relief.

"I tried almost everything that was recommended to me, but found nothing that would help until I began taking Cardui. My mother thought it would be good for me, so she got a bottle of Cardui and started me taking it. I soon improved. The bad spells quit coming. I was soon in normal health."

This poor old fellow voted for Mr. Hoover because Al Smith was a cross between a wet and a Catholic, and he says he intends to give Mr. Hoover a fair trial. He thinks times will be better because this is election year—as the republicans will turn loose some of their money. He doesn't know that most of 'em turned it loose in Wall street in 19 and 20—and it's still loose.

It must be fine to have such faith as this old farmer has. He believes that the present congress will force the following facts to coze and interfere from that big mouth of wisdom he possesses—"No, it aint no use for Al Smith to run for nothing else—no more—that aintman, Rass Cobb, ruin him in the last race, but I think he was ruin before Cobb jined in with him."

I like to hear this old gentleman talk. It's great to feel that you know just a little bit more than somebody else knows. He permitted the following facts to coze and interfere from that big mouth of wisdom he possesses—"No, it aint no use for Al Smith to run for nothing else—no more—that aintman, Rass Cobb, ruin him in the last race, but I think he was ruin before Cobb jined in with him."

"If Al Smith would jine the Baptist church and line up with prohibition, he could possibly be president, but the folks won't stand for his kind of religion. A man told me that Mr. Daves might run, but he aint never done nothing that I ever heard of except smoke his pipe bottom tip-wards and give Eurup a plan to beat us out of our money. There aint but 2 good men left in the field amongst the republicans that stands a chance to be elected, and them is—Cole Blesse and Tom Heflin of Alabama."

"The poor man has to pay all of the taxes anyhow. The rich folks have bought up all of the bonds that they don't hafter pay no taxes on, and that leaves the working-man to foot the bill. The railroads have raised the freight rates so's the bonds them fella's has wont be like a secant mortgage, but I'll betcher they will lose their money trying to get more than they will make by taking what they deserve. Well my nules is about done eating, so I'll have to go home. I didn't get no tag for my Ford, so I fell back on old Pete and Beck. Good-day."
