Q—When was the amphitheatre in the Arlington National cemetery dedicated?
A—May 15, 1920.

Q—Are seedless oranges a natural fruit, and how are they propagated?
A—It was originally a "sport" propagated in Brazil by means of budding, and the seedless oranges now grown in the United States are descended from two important Brazilian trees. Buds or "budding sticks" as they are called are taken from seedless-orange trees of ordinary type. When the buds send out shoots, the seedlings are cut back, so that only the budded portions develop. The unbudding in seedless oranges, is caused by the malformation of the pistillate blossoms which wither without being fertilized, as nature provides no means of pollination.

Q—Is spring water hard or soft?
A—It may be either, depending upon the nature of the soil or rock through which it flows.

Q—What is the Hawley-Smoot act?
A—The tariff act of 1930.

Farm Income Near 7 Billion Dollars

Washington, D. C.—Preliminary estimates indicate a total gross farm income of $6,920,000,000 from the farm production of 1931, or 26 per cent less than the gross returns of $9,300,000,000 from the production of 1930 and 42 per cent below that of 1929, according to the bureau of agricultural economics. This estimate includes the value of farm products sold and farm products consumed in the farm home. The total value of the crops produced in the United States in 1931, on the basis of December 1 farm prices, was recently estimated at $4,123,000,000, or $1,700,000,000 less than the value of the 1930 crops. The income to be derived directly from the sale and food consumption of crops amounted to only about $2,900,000,000, or about $1,000,000,000 less than in 1930 and the income from livestock amounted to about $4,000,000,000, or $1,400,000,000 less than 1930.

Our Motorists Pay Huge Sum In Tax Levies

Motorists Of All States Donate More Than $139,000,000 Yearly For Privilege

Atlanta—Motorists of 11 Southern states pay more than $139,000,000 yearly in taxes for the privileges of driving automobiles.

This sum is collected only from gasoline and license levies and is used to pay debts, build roads and send little Johnny and Mary to school.

Alabama, Kentucky, Virginia and Louisiana get five cents on each gallon of gasoline that gurgles into an automobile tank within bounds of their jurisdiction. Mississippi collects five and one-half cents and South Carolina, North Carolina, Arkansas and Georgia get six cents a gallon, Tennessee and Florida sweetened the pot with a penny an together a seven-cent tariff.

N. C. Profits Most North Carolina profits more from travelers who use its splendid highways than any other Southern state and anticipates $15,000,000 this year from the six-cent tax that was levied last July. All the money including more than $6,000,000 collected on licenses, goes for highway purposes.

Georgia's six-cent tax produced $13,344,418 last year and all went to highways except one cent to the school equalization fund. Licenses netted $4,215,874.

Tennessee collected $11,297,789 last year on five and six cents taxes, an extra cent was tacked on late last year to retire deficit bonds, the revenue is used to build roads and pay debts, including Smoky Mountain park bonds. Automobile licenses and tariff violation fines netted the state $4,580,684.

Florida, one of the South's smallest states but boasting a marvelous highway system, gathers approximately $8,400,000 a year from its seven-cent gas tax. The money is used to retire bonds, build roads and operate the government. Profits from approximately $6,000,000 collected in license fees are used for school purposes.

The Arkansas traveler who tells filling station attendants to "fill 'er up and check the oil" pays six cents on each gallon of gasoline. Last year it was five, the tariff and was used to pay high debts. License fees brought about $3,000,000.

Louisiana, whose new highways lay abroad, silver ribbons through the lowlands, collected $9,382,888 last year from its five cent tax. Most of the money went for road purposes but some went to schools and dock boards. Licenses yielded $4,452,171, principally for highway construction. Alabama's five cent tax produced $7,197,474 for highway use. Licenses netted $2,628,161 for the same purpose. Kentucky roads profit from its five cent tax which produced $6,555,887 in 1931. Licenses yielded the state more than $4,000,000 for highway fund.

South Carolina's six cent levy yield $7,200,000 and the license tariff produced $2,300,000. All was used to retire bonds and build highways. Mississippi collects about $6,000,000 from its five and one-half cent tax and use it all on highways. More than $2,200,000 is gathered from road and bridge tax and the legislature now is considering a tax of six or seven cents on gasoline.

Virginia's five cent tax produced $10,879,514 last year and all went for road work. The $2,266,078 collected last year in license fees was used wholly by the motor vehicle division.

Six Months School Term Closes Soon

Many Schools Already Closed And Others Anticipate Trouble Open Longer

Raleigh Feb.—With the 6 months state-supported school term about to end throughout North Carolina many local school districts are expected to experience trouble soon in meeting expenses school authorities here predicted today.

Already about 150,000 pupils have completed the six-month term and are out of school until next fall. Dr. A. T. Allen, state superintendent of public instruction, said, "Eight and nine months schools, which enroll about 87 per cent of the white children attending schools, are preparing to continue their regular terms."

Though the local districts are generally preparing to keep the school open, Dr. Allen said many were doing it with more hope than money.

Districts Must Produce. The state extended term aid fund of $1,500,000 will be given districts this year only when they have actually produced their part of the extended term cost. If a district is able to raise only a part of the extended term cost the board of equalization will make its allotment on a percentage basis.

The budget bureau is anticipating that not more than $1,000,000 of the extended term fund will be called for by the counties, meaning that many districts will curtail the terms.

Under the state support plan the schools have already spent more than $12,000,000 this year. School authorities are now admitting that in many instances the institutions would not have operated six months without state responsibility. This was a much debated question during the 1931 general assembly, but now it is generally accepted that without full state support the schools would have had to close early.

Planting Lespedeza In Wilkes County

County Agent A. G. Hendren announces that he expects 7,000 pounds of Lespedeza seed will be planted in Wilkes county this season. Until this year there were only a few acres of Lespedeza in the county and it is being introduced for the first time on many farms.

Sunday of Miss Mary Sue and Mr. Frank Holland. Mr. Truman Wilson had the misfortune of getting his car almost completely demolished one day last week by being struck by another car while crossing highway No. 20 near the home of Mr. Able Padgett in the Beaver Dam community. Mr. Wilson was severely cut about the face. It was necessary to take several stitches to sew the gashes. Mr. and Mrs. Leland Jones and children and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Roberts spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Jones. Mrs. Dock Wesson is very sick at this writing we are sorry to note. Several of the young people of this community who are students at Bolling Springs high school attended the junior-senior reception Saturday night.

Mr. Leonard Ledford spent Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Holland. Mr. and Mrs. Ora Bowen of Shelby were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Holland on Sunday.
