SONNET
Life, press me not so hard with lash of toil
As ancient Pharaohs pressed their helpless slaves.
I am not indolent—afraid to soil
My hands with labor—but my spirit craves
A pause in which silently to explore
The realms of beauty. Does the sea not beat
With less monotony upon the shore
On dreamy days, and coil her weary feet
Among the singing shells, and to her breast Clasp snowy clouds? Does not the frost whose task
It is to seal the lips of rivers, rest
And crystallize her thoughts in stars? I ask
This boon: enough of leisure to commune
With these dark hills that dare to lift the moon.

Principals in the wedding will be Patsy Honeycutt as the bride, Julian Hamrick as the groom and Leeman Hamrick as the minister. Special dances and music numbers will be a feature of the program.

20th Century Meeting Friday
Mrs. S. S. Royster was hostess at a most enjoyable meeting of the Twentieth Century literary club on Friday afternoon at her home on S. Washington street. The afternoon's program was given by Mrs. R. T. LeGrand, who read a most interesting paper on Mahatma Gandhi, and Mrs. E. Y. Webb, who discussed current topics.
After the program a social half hour was enjoyed during which the hostess was assisted by Mrs. D. W. Royster and Mrs. Ralph Royster in serving a tempting ice and sweet course with accessories.
The home was decorated with hawthorn and vases of various spring flowers.

Mesdames North and Carroll Entertain
Mrs. Raymond Carroll and Mrs. Kate North were joint hostesses at a pretty party on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. North, entertaining for her daughter, Mrs. Tom Cobb, a bride of a few weeks, and Mrs. H. C. Thompson also a recent bride. Mrs. North received in a black chiffon afternoon dress and Mrs. Carroll wore a spring model of blue printed crepe. Mrs. Cobb wore a becoming Sunday night frock of pink taffeta with shoulder corsage of roses and sweet peas and Mrs. Thompson was lovely in an afternoon dress of printed chiffon in tones of green. The house was decorated with quantities of spring flowers and the rooms of the lower floor were thrown together to accommodate the ten tables placed for bridge. When scores were added at the close of the games Mrs. B. O. Stephenson was awarded the high score prize, a set of bridge brushes, and Mrs. C. B. McBrayer received a pretty vanity as second prize. The hostesses presented Mrs. Cobb and Mrs. Thompson each with a set of pink ice tea glasses.
A delightful sweet course with coffee was served. Mrs. Hill Hudson, Miss Hazel Holmes, Mrs. Deal Duncan, Mrs. John Campbell, and Mrs. M. M. Stuart assisted in serving.

Cabaret Party For Visitor
Miss Mary Lillian Speck was hostess at a novel party on Friday evening given in honor of her week-end visitor, Miss Dorothy Hough, of Kershaw, S. C. She entertained at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Speck, on S. Washington street. Miss Speck received her guests in an exquisite frock of embroidered white over pink taffeta, and the honoree wore a becoming dress of ruffled rose taffeta. They received together in the reception hall and living room. After all the guests had assembled they were given attractive program cards which were green shamrocks and after they found their partners the first prom was to the cabaret. When the doors to the music room were thrown open it was discovered that this room and the dining room were attractively arranged with small tables and decorated in keeping with the St. Patrick holiday. Mrs. D. H. Cline furnished music through the entire evening. Spring flowers were used in profusion in decorating the entire lower floor. Cabaret entertainers were Betty Jo Kelly who gave two solo dances in costume; Margaret Corbett who crooned "Stay Away From My Door" and other numbers; Joe Beckham, who was introduced as Bing Crosby, and sang "Where the Blue of the Night Meets the Gold of the Day"; and Herman Best who entertained with a trombone solo. Lilly Taylor, dressed in costume, acted the part of the cigarette girl, and passed candies among the tables. A feature of the evening's entertainment which furnished much amusement was the game of "murder" which was cleverly directed by Mr. Harry Speck, jr., brother of the hostess.

Delightful refreshments were served consisting of a salad and sweet course. The color note of green and the St. Patrick idea were carried out in detail on the refreshment plates.
Mr. James McDowell, of Kershaw, S. C., guest of Mr. Joe Beckham, was an out of town guest.

Mrs. Yarborough Dies In Gaston County
Native Of Cleveland County And 59 Years Of Age. Was Miss Maggie Johnson.
Gastonia Gazette.

Mrs. Margaret Yarborough died at 6 o'clock Friday morning at her home on North Marietta street. She was 59 years of age at the time of her death, which was the result of the cultivation of a prolonged illness of about a year.
Deceased is survived by her husband, E. E. Yarborough and one son, Hardin Yarborough and one daughter, Mrs. Robert Owens. Surviving also are three grandchildren Robert, William and Roland Owens. Two sisters survive, namely: Mrs. Lyda Merrill, a resident of Gaston county, and Mrs. J. P. Roark, of Shelby.
Funeral services will be held at the home at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Phillips S. Gilman, rector of St. Marks Episcopal church. Interment will be in Oakwood cemetery.

A native of Cleveland county, she was the daughter of Harold and Mary Johnson and was known as Miss Maggie Johnson before marriage to E. E. Yarborough 42 years ago. A resident of Gastonia for the past 35 years, she was well-known and widely loved in her community.

Tax Charred Kegs Suggested In House
Columbia, S. C.—A license tax would be imposed on charred kegs and charred sticks, often used to "age" corn whiskey, under a bill introduced in the house by Representatives Huger Sinkler of Charleston, and Lester Thomas of Hampton.
The bills were referred to the ways and means committee.

40 YEARS
SERVICE AS PROOF OF QUALITY

Anything that stands up for two score years must have quality behind it. Since 1892, when Z. J. Thompson first entered the lumber business in Cleveland county, he has furnished the material for thousands of homes in Shelby and the county—on every street you see homes built of Thompson material, homes that have weathered the years. And the Thompson firm is still in business.

"It has been almost a score of years since quality building material has sold at the price it is selling today. It may be that long again before a home can be built at as low a cost as today," that's the view of "Z. J.," the man who entered the lumber business 40 years ago this morning.

Telephone 107 for estimates—and find out for yourself. NOW is the TIME TO BUILD.
