Around Our TOWN OR Shelby SIDELIGHTS By RENN DRUM.

DO YOU KNOW?

How many windows there are in the Shelby court house? The new name of the store that was once Piggly Wiggly? How many hello girls work in the Shelby telephone exchange? The location of the nearest family burying plot other than Sunset cemetery? The names of the two Scotch mining prospectors who have been delving in and about Shelby for several years? Who was mayor just before A. P. Weathers? Who named the city cemetery Sunset—and why? What the L in Robert L. Ryburn stands for? Who was Shelby's first Shriner? What Shelby person—or how many—has been married three times? How fast the largest fire truck in the city department will run? We're asking you.

ODD ITEMS OF THE DAY

Unusual items, those featured tid-bits called "boxes" by the newspaper craft, interest us more than the large headlines. In a week, believe it or not, we haven't read a word about the Lindbergh baby or the carrying-on of congress. But we did read— That a man in good health down near Henderson had his grave dug in order to help the unemployment situation. How many Shelby people would volunteer to do the same thing? Irony for you in another item: M. Marcel, the man who invented the "marcel wave," is bald. A tip-top idea from Ohio: Place a tax on all proposed plans for ending the depression. The smallest baby ever born lives in Kansas City, weighs one pound, and is five days old today, if still living. Prohibition agents are making a speakeasy directory of New York City. Perhaps to keep strangers in town from asking the cops too many questions. At Greenville, S. C., a man was sentenced to one hour in jail on a booze charge because he had spent 90 days in the jug while awaiting trial. A team of mules ran away at Vale, near this county, the other day. Sounds as if the "good old days" were really returning. Bees dance, informs a scientific item, on returning to their hives after a successful honey-gathering trip. A farmer was buried near Macon, Georgia, this week under a tombstone on which he had written the epitaph: "This poor fellow talked too much." If all were that honest?

SHELBY SHORTS:

Between us: John Ehringhaus, the candidate for governor, who speaks in Shelby Monday night, is really 10 or 15 years older than he looks. Reserve the orchestra seats for the girls. . . . A sign of spring: one of the girls named in the Miss Shelby contest and one of the boys, a drug clerk, listed in the handsome male list are getting to be just like that. . . . What well known young courting couple of the city has piff? . . . Small pipes are now the rage for women who smoke—and who'll smoke the first one in Shelby. . . . Seeing Bill Hogue on the street reminds that ere long now will be the best time to visit Cherry Mountain with everything a-bloom. . . . Dr. S. S. Royster thinks general business will improve only when all nations get on a silver basis with cheaper money. . . . And the first straw hat of the season—when will it step out and on whose dome? . . . "Love-in-A-Mist," the Community Players comedy at Central school tonight, should be worth seeing. . . . A guess: the Lindbergh baby will be returned or definitely located within a week. This is written on Thursday. . . . A new flower garden that should be attractive: the rock-wall plot on the elevated lot at the Harry Cohen home. . . . Who is the new "big shot" of the booze traffic about Shelby? . . . Some Shelby business firm could get much favorable publicity and win a lot of friends by staging an elimination tournament to decide the champion bridge-playing team in Shelby. The tourney could be held at the Cleveland Springs club house with the ladies of the club being repaid by concession rights to sell refreshments to the players. . . . It was a hard winter on the coal dealers but the summer, if they sell ice, too, may give them a chance to even up. . . . Ralph Hoyer off on an airplane trip. . . . Summer is here: William Beam, one of D. A.'s sons, caught a June bug yesterday. The first of the season. . . . Who'll take Ebeiltoft's place as the first person to vote on primary and election days? . . . "Lefty" Robinson, an old timer in the game, believes a baseball team in Shelby would be a good thing this year. Many would attend who would be going elsewhere in prosperous times and the contests would afford relaxation and momentary forgetfulness. . . . How many nurses have graduated at the Shelby hospital? . . . A big season of the year is near at hand out over the county—commencement time in the schools. . . . And a tip to Shelby merchants: Have all your new spring bonnets and dresses on display tomorrow; the teachers will be in town for the last county-wide teachers meeting of the year.

A TIMELY TIP FOR THE FARMER

This one for the farmers who take enough time off from their spring work to read this corner. A state health officer in Virginia relates in The Survey the story of a farmer who was delivering vegetables to a public sanitarium. A patient saluted him. "You're a farmer, ain't yuh?" The farmer allowed that he was. "I used to be a farmer once," said the guest of the stage. "Did youh?" "Yes, Say, stranger, did you ever try bein' crazy?" The farmer never had, and started to move on. "Well, you oughta try it," was the ex-farmer's parting shot. "It beats farmin' all hollow."
