Auxiliary Hopes Every Person In Shelby Will Wear Poppy May 28

"How soon will the poppy work begin again?" In government hospitals in many parts of the country and in the poppy work rooms of the American Legion Auxiliary this question holds first importance, according to Mrs. C. B. Alexander, chairman of the local Auxiliary Unit's memorial poppy committee. During the winter and spring several thousand disabled veterans have been given employment making the little red flowers which the Auxiliary will sell on "poppy Day," May 28, to be worn in honor of the world war dead. Now nearly ten million of the flowers have been completed. The job is nearly done. Until the Auxiliary starts making poppies again there will be scant opportunities of employment for these disabled veterans.
"How soon these men, who are barred from most occupations because they sacrificed their health and strength in the country's defense, can be placed back at work making poppies depends entirely upon the public response to the Auxiliary's poppy sale May 28," Mrs. Alexander said. "If the ten million poppies which the disabled veterans have made for this year's sale are taken readily by the public the Auxiliary will feel able to begin work early on a larger supply of poppies for next year's sale."
"The situation for the disabled veterans is especially desperate this year. Even in normal times it was difficult for them to find any means of earning money and under present employment conditions the Auxiliary's poppy program offers almost the only possibility. The Auxiliary is very eager that every-in Shelby wear a poppy on 'poppy Day' this year, first, to pay tribute to the war dead; second to provide funds for relief work among the disabled men and their families and finally to create more employment for those heroic men who have nowhere else to look for work.

Calf Has Tongue Of Mixed Colors

Albemarle.—Here's something that should at least make the Kingston correspondent look to his laurels, and it is backed up by the word of Dr. J. A. Allen, of New London, as well as by several Albemarle residents who have made special inspections. It's a calf, having a tongue that is perfectly normal in every respect, save that one half of it is black as it is possible for anything to be, while the other half is almost pure white. This unusual-tongued calf was born some few days ago in the herd owned by Dr. Allen.

Bulwinkle In Fight To Help Save Vets Pay

Leads Successful Fight To Prevent Cut In Compensation For Disabled.
Washington, May 6.—Representative Bulwinkle, Democrat, North Carolina, this week attacked proposals in the omnibus economy bill to reduce benefits to World war veterans.
The North Carolinian charged before the House that the economy committee "did not carefully consider the legislation."
"The committee," he said, "says in its report that veterans legislation causes a drain on the government."
"My God, anything we can do for those men who served this country in war can not be a drain on this country."

Representative Swing, Republican, California, assailed the veterans provisions as unfair.
Representative Edith Nourse Rogers, Republican, Massachusetts said: "I feel the committee did not study the proposition sufficiently."
"I shall vote to strike out the entire title," said Representative Crall, Republican, California.
Representative Conner, Democrat, Massachusetts, criticized the veterans bureau for "too severe" interpretations of the law.
"No matter whether a man is worth $100,000 or $1 he is entitled to some compensation for his service," said Representative William E. Hull, Republican, Illinois.
Rankin Serves Notice.
Meanwhile, Representative Rankin, of Mississippi, chairman of the World war veterans committee, served notice he would move to strike out the entire title dealing with World war veterans benefits which affects 123,370 persons.
The most bitterly opposed provisions, against which the American Legion and other veterans organizations have campaigned, would prevent any person having an income of $1,500 if single and $2,500 if married and $400 additional for each dependent, from being entitled to any allowance, pension or free hospitalization except those suffering from combat disability. It is estimated this will affect 28,300 persons and save $13,310,000 annually.
Another provision would require that no person receiving free treatment or subsistence in government hospital or home shall receive more than $20 a month if without dependents, or $75 a month if with dependents, the difference to be applied to the support of the home or hospital. At present a veteran admitted to a hospital for service-connected disability receives $80 a month minimum. This provision would affect 8,920 persons and is estimated to save $3,570,000 a year.

Rival Candidates To Work Together

Marion.—If the new 11th district doesn't get a congressman it won't be because C. F. James and J. Q. Gilkey of Marion didn't cooperate. James was given the Republican nomination for the post and Gilkey will have to win the Democratic primary before he can be his party's nominee.
But both men are planning to do their fall campaigning together from the same platforms and traveling over the same stumping route.
