

Sounds Clarion For Democrats

Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, keynote speaker of the Democratic convention in Chicago, is seen with gavel in hand on speaker's stand in the Chicago Stadium.

Democratic Keynoter Assails G. O. P. Rule, Tariff, Farm Policies

Republican Plank On Prohibition Termed "Agglomeration Of Scrap Lumber."

Chicago, June 29.—In a keynote speech bristling with denunciation of the Hoover administration, Senator Alben W. Barkley Monday urged the Democratic national convention to favor a vote by the people on repealing the eighteenth amendment and called upon the nation to turn the Republicans out of office.

Describing the Republican plank on prohibition as a "promiscuous agglomeration of scrap-lumber," the Kentuckian said the Democrats should recommend passage of a congressional resolution repealing the 18th amendment to be voted on by state conventions chosen solely for that purpose.

Flays Hoover
Barkley denounced the Republicans and President Hoover for the "exorbitant and indefensible rates" of the Smoot-Hawley tariff act and promised to "lift tariff-making above the sordid processes of log-rollers and back-scratchers."

He excoriated the administration's farm policy and said the Democrats would undertake "to remove from the shoulders of agriculture a portion of the unnatural burden which it bears because others have been able to shift it there through special legislation in their own behalf."

Passing his respects to the Hoover administration, the keynoter recalled that the president "and his Republican congress took charge of the government" on March 4, 1932, and added:

Promises Fail.
"But every prediction, every promise, every assurance made by them to obtain votes has turned to ashes in their hands, and every pretense has been exposed in all its naked affectation."

"Agriculture has continued its collapse. Industry has languished beyond any previous record. Credit has been restricted until finance and productive enterprise are frightened and stagnant and there is constantly marching a greater army of unemployed men and women in search of honest toil than has ever been experienced by this or any nation."

"There is nothing wrong with this republic," he added, "except that it has been mismanaged, exploited and demoralized for more than a decade by a leadership incomparably shortsighted and bereft of trust statesmanship, incapable of understanding and dealing with fundamental causes, and incapable even now in the midst of its fearful havoc of understanding the extent of its own mischief."

Constitution Supreme
Concerning the eighteenth amendment, Barkley said "so long as it is a part" of the constitution "no citizen of the republic has a legal or moral right to violate it," and added:

"Whatever may be the divergent views of men and women on the merits or demerits of the eighteenth amendment as a national policy, it is inconceivable that this or any other part of the constitution of the United States should apply to only a part and not the whole of the American nation. That great institution declares that "this constitution and the laws made in pursuance thereof shall be the supreme law of the land." But it cannot be the supreme law of the land if it can be abrogated by the people of a part of the land while remaining in force over the rest of them. Such a conception destroys the very nature and structure of the constitution, for if it can be made thus to qualify one of its provisions it may be made to qualify all of them. This would be the end of the constitution itself.

Would Submit Issue
"This convention should in the platform here to be adopted recommend the passage by congress of a resolution repealing the eighteenth amendment and its submission to the people of the states through conventions whose delegates shall be chosen upon this issue alone."

"If the people are to pass again upon this question, let them pass upon it in such bald, naked and unequivocal terms as to make their decision intelligent and certain."

"If their verdict shall be in favor of retaining the eighteenth amendment in the constitution, let every true citizen of the nation accept the decision and abide by it in letter and spirit."

"If the verdict shall be for the repeal of the amendment then let every branch of the national government exercise all the powers they possess to protect the states in the observance and enforcement of the laws which they shall enact to control, regulate or prohibit the traffic in intoxicating liquors."

OUR FIRST SALE

NEVER before have we had a general sale in Miller-Jones stores. Our policy is against sales—except when they are absolutely necessary and based upon actual merchandising truths. Conditions have caused many well-laid plans to go astray this year. Retarded buying has failed to clear shelves fast enough—Distress merchandise of unknown quality at ridiculous prices has blocked the ordinary "outlet" channels of all large operators. So temporarily we shall be our own "outlet" for surplus stocks, which virtually means wholesale clearance prices for retail buyers.
