

Negress Shoots Husband In Bed Near Lattimore

Wm. Terrell Killed On Alfred Falls
Plantation. Wife Shot Through Window. Is Arrested.

Florine Terrell is in jail awaiting a preliminary hearing Tuesday morning before the recorder for fatally shooting her husband Wm. Terrell in the home of a colored tenant on the farm of Alfred Falls in the Lattimore community about 3 o'clock Friday morning.

Wife Is Jailed
Terrell, it is said was in bed in the negro tenant house on the Falls farm when his wife Florine arrived on the scene armed with a pistol. She was refused entrance to the house and went to a window through which she fired one shot which penetrated the temple of her husband and came out on the other side of her head. He died instantly. Florine went to the home of friends but was later arrested by Deputy Bob Kendrick and placed in jail.

Another Woman In Case
The Terrells live on the farm of Hubert Gold in the New House section and it is understood that William was very abusive of his wife at times. One report has it that he was giving his attention to another woman and that she was in the house when he was shot. Terrell went to the tenant house on the Falls farm and there met his other woman. His wife followed and it is said he took her a short distance back up the road toward home and told her to go. She returned and when she was denied entrance to the tenant house, fired the fatal shot through the open window.

Preliminary Tuesday
Another report has it that he was shot twice in the head, but that his wife fired only one shot. Coroner Roscoe Lutz was called and upon examination says Terrell was shot only once.

Another report has it that the "other woman" was in the house with Terrell at the time his wife shot him through the window. Her name has not been learned.

Terrell is about 28 or 30 years old and his wife is about the same age.

Allen Makes Big Move In Boosting Winner Over Him

Defeated Sheriff Pays Tribute To
Winner. Crowd Roars
Approval.

One of the most sportsmanlike actions in the political history of Cleveland county brought roars of approval from the huge primary night audience in front of The Star building Saturday night when Sheriff Irvin M. Allen took the stand in front of the crowd, conceded his defeat and paid tribute to Raymond Cline, winning candidate for sheriff.

With a majority of the county precincts reported it was evident that Cline had won the nomination for sheriff. Allen, present sheriff and Cline's opponent, worked his way to the front of The Star office, called for the attention of the hundreds listening to the Star reports of the voting, conceded his defeat. In a short statement the present sheriff said he held no ill will and was proud to tell the crowd that the county had nominated a good man for sheriff. He then asked for the crowd to come before the crowd with him and Mr. Cline stepped up and expressed his appreciation.

The manly gesture of the losing candidate, whose popularity was shown by the fact that he lost by less than 500 votes, and the comradeship of the winner and the loser stirred the cheering throng as did no other announcement of the night.

All through the crowd ran the expressed sentiment: "Boy, that's a real man. A pair of Democrats like that is what makes a party hard to defeat."

The spirit of the move and the fact that two rival candidates were willing to "shake on it" before the heat of the campaign had died down placed the entire crowd in good humor.

Reynolds, Ehringhaus, And Fletcher Victors In N. C. Voting

Cline, Wright, Reynolds, Ehringhaus Carry County

New Sheriff Victor By 427 Votes; Every Box Goes Ehringhaus

Cleveland Casts Record Vote Of 8,323 In Second Primary. Ehringhaus Got Largest
Total In County With 5,371 Votes. Fletcher
Gets County's Largest Majority.

History was written in Cleveland county Saturday when more people trooped to the polls than ever before voted in the county. A total of 8,323 votes were cast as Cleveland citizens registered their approval in the second Democratic primary for Raymond Cline as sheriff, Joseph Wright as recorder, Bob Reynolds as senator, John C. B. Ehringhaus as governor and Arthur Fletcher as labor commissioner.

When election officials began turning in their reports Saturday night the record vote astounded the thousands awaiting for the outcome. In every race except the closely contested sheriff's race the decision of the people could not be questioned because of the heavy vote given favorites.

Cline defeated Irvin M. Allen for sheriff by 427 votes, according to the unofficial count, and Wright defeated Pat McBrayer for county judge by 1,686 votes, but in all other contests, the three state races, the victors stepped out high, wide and handsome for tremendous majorities. Reynolds—"Our Bob" to more than 5,000 Cleveland people—Ehringhaus and Fletcher more than doubled their respective opponents in the county.

How They Voted
The unofficial count, assembled by The Star Saturday night and announced to a huge audience in front of The Star building follows:

SHERIFF
Raymond Cline	4,375
Irvin Allen	3,948
RECORDER
Joseph Wright	4,532
Pat McBrayer	2,770
SENATOR
Robert Reynolds	5,169
Cameron Morrison	2,519
GOVERNOR
John Ehringhaus	5,371
R. T. Fountain	2,323
LABOR COMMISSIONER
Arthur Fletcher	5,023
C. A. Mitchell	1,687

Some Figures
As shown above the highest vote cast, a record vote, was 8,323 in the sheriff's race. The next high vote was the 7,694 for governor, and the third high was 7,688 for senator. J. C. B. Ehringhaus polled the greatest individual vote in the county, a total of 5,371. The next high individual vote was Bob Reynolds' 5,169.

Fletcher's Lead
The biggest lead, however, given any candidate was that accorded Arthur Fletcher for labor commissioner. Fletcher topped Mitchell by 3,336 votes. The next biggest majority given by the county was a 3,148 lead for Ehringhaus for governor. Fletcher's lead is generally credited to the work of his former World war buddies and old school mates in the county. Ehringhaus' majority is credited to his support of the new road system, giving Cleveland the best rural roads ever, and to his good humor.

All through the crowd ran the expressed sentiment: "Boy, that's a real man. A pair of Democrats like that is what makes a party hard to defeat."

The spirit of the move and the fact that two rival candidates were willing to "shake on it" before the heat of the campaign had died down placed the entire crowd in good humor.

Smith Has Record Crop Wheat, Oats

J. B. Smith the county welfare officer is right much of a grain farmer. He believes in grain crops and the best grain productions come, he thinks from good seed. Last week his grain was threshed by Jesse Hord, veteran thresher, and according to Mr. Hord 125 bushels of wheat were threshed from four and one-half acres. A tract of one and five-sixths acres produced 116 bushels of oats. "It was not only an unusually good production," Mr. Hord said, "but the wheat and oats were as good and as clean as I have ever threshed or seen."

Mrs. Everett Houser who left last week for New York City with Mrs. Robert Hord and Mrs. Ben Ely Hendrick, was notified yesterday of the illness of her son, Tony, and Mr. and Mrs. Houser are now en route home, expecting to reach here this afternoon. Mr. Houser is located in New York with the K. and S. Trucking Co. and Mrs. Houser went to spend a few days with her husband, leaving the child in the care of a nurse. Negro Woman Found Murdered

Body Is Found On School Lot; Dead For Hours

Apparently Was Beaten To Death
With Rock Some Time
Saturday Night.

Geneva Wilson, 20-year-old colored woman, was killed Saturday night, while, as officers estimate it, hundreds of people were in uptown Shelby listening to election returns.

Who killed her and just when and where it happened officers had not definitely determined today as they spread a dragnet to round up and question all possible suspects.

Found At School.
The woman's body was found around 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon near the fence between the Central high school and the junior high school annex between Marion and Sumner streets, just two blocks west from the court square. The discovery was made by a Shelby woman while she was taking an afternoon walk.

The woman had been killed, officers believe, by being battered over the head with a rock. One eye had been knocked out and the other driven back into her head.

The fact that there was no blood on the ground at the spot where the mutilated body was found led officers to believe that she had been killed and her body dumped at the somewhat isolated spot. The scene of the find was on the east side of the high school campus near the alley which joins West Marion and Sumner streets.

A supposition advanced was that she had been dead 10 to 20 hours. In the round-up last night and this morning Police Chief Poston and officers learned that the last time the woman had been seen was around 9:30 Saturday night. At that time it was reported that she was seen walking toward the city athletic field on West Sumner street and about a half block from the spot where the body was found.

She may have been killed in the section about the park by someone who met her there Saturday night, but she could have been killed, officers say, at a house somewhere or along some side street late in the night.

This morning officers faced a baffling proposition without any definite clue to work on. They were, however, making an investigation among the woman's acquaintances to find if she had had any trouble with anyone recently or for any reason bore the illwill of anybody.

The woman, employed but not regularly as a house servant, is said to be survived by a small child.

County Boards Meet In Spite Of Holiday

Both the county board of commissioners and the county board of education were meeting today, ignoring the July 4th holiday as far as work is concerned. The commissioners had only routine matters to command their attention with several charity appeals.

Chicago Stadium, July 4.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, governor of New York, was chosen overwhelmingly Friday night as the Democratic nominee for the presidency.

With the force of a real stampede, he swept through the convention as the favorite sons announced one after another their withdrawal from the race, and turned their votes into the swelling Roosevelt column.

He was declared the nominee on the fourth ballot, the first taken Friday night.

Governor Roosevelt sent a message to the convention announcing he plans to fly here and appear before the delegates Saturday.

Setting off the tension of the evening, William Gibbs McAdoo at the very outset announced the shift of the California vote—declaring "we did not come here to deadlock this convention."

He was cheered to many a resounding echo by the hundreds of Roosevelt supporters who from the start here have given ovation after ovation to the New York governor. For minutes another and almost the last of the wild succession of processions twisted in confusion past the speaker's stand.

Alfred E. Smith was the only one of the nine original candidates who stayed in to the end. The Eastern block of states with him steered clear of the stampede, too, sticking with Smith in the face of the sweep.

The official count gave Roosevelt far more than the 770 two thirds (CONTINUED ON PAGE EIGHT.)

Family Away For Fourth When
House And Contents Are Destroyed By Fire.

While Mr. and Mrs. Vic Camp were away from home for the fourth time since they moved to the Fourth of July celebration, it was reported this morning.

Some one passed the house at Hopper's bridge on the northern edge of Shelby just before daylight this morning and saw the blaze which was quickly reported to the fire department. When the fire department reported on the scene the blaze was too far under way to check and the house and all contents were completely destroyed.

"Mr. and Mrs. Camp, it will be recalled, have the adopted child that resembled the kidnapped Lindbergh baby. Their two year old child was taken on several occasions as the death of the famous flyer's son was established. The Camp child was the same age and weight, and had the same curly hair and blue eyes as the Lindbergh baby. The Camp child is the pride of the foster parents and wherever they go, the child is taken along with them."

It is understood that the house in which the Camps lived belonged to Louie King of Shelby.

Asheville Man Sweeps State; Fletcher Leads

Reynolds' Majority
Near 100,000

"Our Bob" Is Just That To Over
200,000 Tar Heels Vote
Shows.

LATEST REPORT

At 1:30 this afternoon the latest report on the state vote was as follows in the governor's race with 1,679 of 1,820 precincts reported:
Ehringhaus 174,146
Fountain 163,542
In the senate race with 1,626 precincts of 1,820 reported the vote was:
Reynolds 211,691
Morrison 112,264

Robert R. Reynolds of Asheville, known to his friends as "Our Bob," scored a sweeping victory Saturday when he won the Democratic nomination to the United States senate over Cameron Morrison veteran politician, by a majority that seems sure to be 100,000 or more.

In the other state races, according to information secured by The Star at noon today, J. C. B. Ehringhaus appeared to be nominated for governor over R. T. Fountain, and Arthur Fletcher, World war veteran, likewise seemed to be the nominee for labor commissioner over Clarence Mitchell. The final outcome of these two races, however, may be in doubt until every precinct is reported. Information from Raleigh and Charlotte, however, was to the effect that it is the opinion that Ehringhaus and Fletcher will maintain their leads when all the votes are reported.

How They Ran.
With 1,680 of the State's 1,820 precincts reported the vote for governor was as follows:

Ehringhaus	173,640
Fountain	163,262

This leaves only 169 precincts in the State to report and means that Fountain would have to get a majority of 100 of the 163 boxes to overcome the Ehringhaus lead, and it is not likely that such could happen.

With 1,619 of the State's 1,820 precincts reported the vote for senator was:

Reynolds	211,227
Morrison	112,060

This gives Reynolds a majority of almost 100,000—99,167 votes, to be exact, with 210 precincts yet to report. If the Reynolds trend is maintained the majority is sure to go beyond the 100,000 mark.

With 1,504 precincts reported the vote for commissioner of labor was:

Fletcher	158,084
Mitchell	101,743

This is a lead of $6,341 for Fletcher with 325 precincts unreported.
