Wealthy Boy A Suicide

Smith Reynolds, one of the youthful heirs to the big R. J. Reynolds tobacco fortune, died in a Winston-Salem hospital early today from a wound said to have been self-inflicted late last night. Reynolds and his second wife, who was Libby Holman, famous beauty and throaty blues singer in New York musical comedies, had entertained a party of their friends at the Reynolds home. After the party was over Reynolds, his wife and two house guests retired to their rooms. Shortly later the guests heard a shot and Mrs. Reynolds scream. They ran to the sleeping porch, found Reynolds fatally wounded and an automatic lying beside the bed. He died four hours later in the hospital without regaining consciousness. Reynolds, not yet of voting age, was a colorful youth. He first married Ann Cannon, of the wealthy Cannon family at Concord. Several months ago Reynolds, an aviation enthusiast, carried his first wife to Reno by plane where she secured a divorce and a million dollar settlement for herself and child. Just a short time ago it became known that the young aviator, following a long airplane trip abroad, had married Miss Holman, a Broadway favorite. Relatives and friends today could assign no reason for the apparent suicide.

Record Hop To Berlin

Berlin, Germany, July 6.—Capt. Bennett Griffin and James Matern, American aviators, out to set a new around-the-world flight record, landed here today after leaving Harbor Grace, N. F., at 4:49 yesterday afternoon. They made the long hop from Harbor Grace to Berlin in just 18 hours, or two more hours than it took Post and Gatty, who hold the present around-the-world record, to fly from Harbor Grace to Ireland.

Whooping Cough Must Be Reported Says Dr. Moore

Suggests That All Take Typhoid Vaccine Because Of The Mild Winter.

There are a few cases of whooping cough spotted over the county says Dr. D. F. Moore, county health officer and he calls attention to the fact that this is a contagious disease which call for quarantine. Each case should be reported to the county health officer by the parent or the attending physician. In some mild cases, the parents diagnose the case without having a physician, so the case should be reported by the parent to the regular family physician or to Dr. Moore direct. There is a penalty attached to a failure to comply with this law. "Because of the mild winter, we are likely to have more typhoid fever than usual in the county," said Dr. Moore, and "I want to suggest that all who have not done so, take the typhoid vaccine. There are about five cases in the county now and unless every precaution is taken we are apt to have more. The vaccine is a sure preventive and can be taken for a very nominal cost. The county, however, is not in position to pay for the vaccination. That is up to the individual."

Kiwanis To Meet At Presbyterian Church

The Thursday evening meeting of the Kiwanis club will be held this week at the Presbyterian church basement where dinner will be served by one of the church circles. A splendid menu has been prepared. Conservation of foods is the subject for discussion and the program will be in charge of R. W. Shoffner, O. M. Mull, E. L. Dillingham and M. A. Spangler.

Winners In County Given Large Leads

Ehringhaus, Reynolds Double Vote

Ehringhaus Gets Almost Two And Half To One With Largest Vote Polled.

The official tabulation of the Cleveland county vote last Saturday, as carried elsewhere in today's Star, reveals some interesting information.

The nominee for governor, J. C. B. Ehringhaus, polled the largest vote in the five races, 5,373, and carried every one of the 26 precincts in the county. His vote lacked only a small fraction of being two and one-half times that of his opponent. In the five Shelby boxes Ehringhaus led Fountain more than two to one.

Bob Reynolds polled the second heaviest vote in the county—5,287. He also carried 22 of the 26 precincts. Boxes carried by Morrison were those of Grover, Delight, Lawndale and Muls. Morrison lost, Holly Springs to Reynolds by one vote. Reynolds won over Morrison in the county approximately two to one and in the five Shelby boxes by two and one-half to one.

Sheriff's Race
The official totals in the sheriff's race give Cline, the nominee, 4,377 and Allen 3,945. Cline carried 16 precincts and Allen 10.

In the recorder's race the count shows that Wright carried 19 precincts and McBrayer 10.

Vote Gain
The total vote in the second primary was 8,322, or 424 more than the vote of 7,898 in the first primary. The increase was pretty well scattered. The biggest gain was 135 votes in the two Kings Mountain boxes. The remaining increase was scattered over the various boxes. In four uptown Shelby boxes the vote was 95 less in the second primary than in the first. Shelby ward 4 dropped 109 votes, ward two dropped three, ward one fell off one and ward three gained 18 South Shelby gained 16.

Eastern Star To Meet On Thursday

A regular meeting of the Shelby Eastern Star chapter will be held Thursday evening. The hour is 8 o'clock and all members are urged to be present.

Sweeping Victory Of Reynolds Has Old-Timers Staggering Over State

Licked Twice He Came Back For Usual Fatal Third Go and Swept In.

(Star News Bureau)
Raleigh, July 6.—Robert Rice Reynolds, Asheville, "playboy of the western world," is now the "miracle man" of the entire nation. All eyes are now centered on this ruddy and debonair campaigner, who defeated twice in statewide contests, took the third tip and overwhelmingly defeated that warhorse of democracy, former governor and senate appointee, Cameron Morrison, in a primary vote Saturday which still has the old-timers staggering.

Cleveland Gave Leaders A Heavy Majority Margin

North Carolina's next senator and next governor can count on few counties being stronger for them than Cleveland.

There are 100 counties in the state but only one gave Ehringhaus a larger majority than did Cleveland and that was his home county of Pasquotank. There he received a majority of 5,505 votes and in Cleveland a majority of 3,948. Only three of the 100 counties cast a heavier total for Ehringhaus. They were Buncombe, Guilford and Mecklenburg, all of which are considerably larger in population.

And of the 100 counties in the state only four gave Bob Reynolds a larger vote than he received in Cleveland. They were Buncombe, Guilford, Mecklenburg and Wake. Only three of the four, however, gave Reynolds a larger majority than Cleveland did. His majority here was 2,650, higher than that of Mecklenburg.

The figures show that the two winners ran pretty close together in Cleveland. Here they are:

Table with 2 columns: Candidate and Votes. Ehringhaus 5,371, Reynolds 5,169, Fountain 2,323, Morrison 2,519.

Near Final Vote On Reynolds And Ehringhaus Given

Bob 104,000 Votes Ahead, Ehringhaus 13,000 Up, Fountain Pledges Loyalty.

Raleigh, July 6.—With almost all of the state's 1,829 precincts reported today, Robert R. Reynolds and J. C. B. Ehringhaus, senatorial and gubernatorial victors in Saturday's primary, were continuing to increase their lead.

With only 10 precincts out the lead of Reynolds over Cameron Morrison was 104,067 votes, and the lead of Ehringhaus over R. T. Fountain was 13,239 votes. The figures were: Reynolds 218,874, Morrison 114,807, Ehringhaus 180,947, Fountain 167,708.

With this vote reported North Carolina Democrats were reunited and set upon a sweeping victory in the November elections against the Republicans.

The scars of two heated primaries were healing, and party leaders were rallying behind Robert Rice Reynolds of Asheville for the United States senate and J. C. B. Ehringhaus of Elizabeth City for governor.

Returning the state to the Democrats.

Local Editor On Conservation Board

Col. John W. Harrelson, native of Cleveland county who is director of the state board of conservation and development has notified Editor Lee B. Weathers that he has been appointed by Governor Gardner as a member of the conservation board, succeeding Hon. R. Grady Rankin, of Gastonia. There will be a meeting of the board in Morehead City, July 12th, but Mr. Weathers will be unable to attend.

Hold Woman Who Killed Husband; Details Related

$2,500 Bond Not Given By Florine Terrell Who Killed Husband Last Week.

Florine Terrell, young negro woman, who is alleged to have shot and killed her husband, William Terrell, in the Lattimore community about 3 o'clock last Friday morning, was given a preliminary hearing in county court here yesterday.

After hearing the facts in the case Recorder Pat McBrayer ruled that there was probable cause and the woman was ordered held under a $2,500 bond for trial in superior court. The bond could not be given yesterday and the woman was placed in jail. Officers believe she will remain there until court time late in the month, because of inability to make bond.

The Terrell woman and her husband lived on the Hubert Gold place in the New House section, but the killing took place at a colored tenement house on the Alfred Falls farm near Lattimore. It was at this point the woman contended she found her husband under such conditions as to indicate to her, as she stated, that he had been having an affair with another woman.

Admitted Killing
Three witnesses were used at the preliminary trial. They were Babe Tate, colored woman; Buddy Leslie, colored man; and Deputy W. C. Powell. The colored man and woman stated they were in the room of the tenement house when they saw a gun stuck through the window and fired. They could not, they said, see who fired it. Officer Powell stated that after taking Florine in custody she admitted that she had shot her husband by sticking the gun through the window and pulling the trigger.

County Court Has Big Tuesday Docket

Hears Total Of 43 Cases, Many As Aftermath Of Primary And Fourth Here.

With Saturday's primary and Monday's celebration of the Fourth coming close enough together to lend a hand to a customary weekend, the Cleveland county recorder court had a full day of it Tuesday.

A total of 43 cases were tried. The majority of the charges were for drinking or otherwise celebrating either the primary outcome or the Fourth in a manner considered too boisterous. The only charge of a serious nature was that against the colored woman of the New House section who was given a preliminary hearing for killing her husband.

Presbyterian Men Meet Here Tonight

The monthly meeting of the men of the Shelby Presbyterian church will be held this evening at 7:45 o'clock in the auditorium of the church building. The program is in charge of Mr. W. A. McCord who has arranged for an interesting presentation of the subject "What Is the Church Doing for Her Young People?" That subject ought to enlist an interest deep enough to bring out a full attendance of men. Following the men's meeting the regular choir rehearsal will be held.

Woman's Slayer Still Eluding Shelby Police

No Definite Clue To Trace Killer

Murdered Negress Buried Monday At Forest City, Question Former Lovers.

Just how and why Geneva Wilson, 30-year-old negro servant of Shelby, was killed last Saturday night may never be known.

After three days of search without any definite clue to work upon city police were still questioning and examining acquaintances of the slain woman yet today. They are of the opinion that something may yet open up or somebody will talk and thereby furnish a clue to the identity of the person who battered the woman to death on the east side of the Central high school campus Saturday night.

The body of the woman was found late Sunday afternoon by a passer-by. It was just inside the campus fence on the east side of the school campus between the high school and annex. She had been dead for some time and was presumably killed before midnight Saturday night. Her head was battered in around the eyes and forehead in a brutal manner. Funeral services for the woman were held Monday afternoon at Forest City.

One theory being worked upon is that the woman had a clandestine meeting with some man near where the body was found, and that another man, or perhaps another woman came upon them and killed the woman, perhaps because of jealousy. It is possible officers say that if she met a man there that man could have killed her, but they discount that theory. She was seen talking with several colored men Saturday night from 7 to around 9 o'clock. These men have been questioned, particularly one, it is said, who seemed to resent her friendliness with another man. So far, however, no one has been formally arrested. A number have been questioned and released and some are still under surveillance, while officers continue their investigation among the acquaintances of the dead woman to determine what affairs she may have had and with whom.

Miss Goforth Dead; Funeral This Morning

Miss Corrie Goforth Died Early Yesterday in Rehobeth Section. Funeral At Union.

Miss Corrie Ever Goforth, 54 years of age, died early yesterday morning at the home of Frank Green, a cousin, in the Rehobeth section where she had been making her home for a number of years. Death resulted from cancer.

Funeral services were held this morning at Union church and were conducted by Rev. D. G. Washburn. Rev. J. M. Barber and Rev. Herman Petty. Miss Goforth early in life joined Central Methodist church in Shelby, but later moved her membership to Rehobeth. She was a well known woman, admired by those who knew her, and a large crowd attended the funeral service. She is survived in her immediate family by her mother, Mrs. Margaret Goforth.

Cleveland Girl, Boy Winners In W. N. C. 4-H Club Health Contest

Championship honors came to Cleveland county Tuesday when Miss Mary Sue Holland and Charles Palmer won as the healthiest 4-H club girl and boy in Western North Carolina.

The contest was held in Charlotte Tuesday and now Miss Holland and Mr. Palmer will enter the state contest to be held in Raleigh, July 28th to 30th where they hope to win the distinction of being the healthiest boy and girl in North Carolina. Miss Holland scored 98. Mr. Palmer 97. Since the contest last week with the mountain group, the local contestants brought themselves up a point in the health score. Mrs. Irma Wallace, home club demonstration agent, says these health contests have meant more to the boys and girls than anything connected with the Four-H work. "It is interesting to see how these boys and girls guard their health and follow the rules of healthful living in order to build up their physical bodies," says Mrs. Wallace.

Miss Holland is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Holland of Bolling Springs, while Mr. Palmer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Palmer of Polkville. Cleveland is in Piedmont group of counties and in the first contest these two young specimens were adjudged the best in Cleveland by Dr. D. F. Moore, county health officer. There were eight other Cleveland contestants. They went to Charlotte and won in the Piedmont group of counties. This week they met the winners of the mountain group of counties and now they are champions of Western North Carolina with one more step to take the state champions of health.

Curb Market Has Variety Products Fresh From Farms

Dairy, Poultry And Vegetables Number 30 On Tuesday Morning.

Thirty different products from the farm were offered at the curb market next to the Webb theatre Tuesday morning. And Tuesday is not a "big" day at the curb. The largest quantity and variety is brought on Saturday. Scores of Shelby housewives gather there on Tuesday and Saturday mornings to buy what the farm women have to offer.

Here's what was on the "curb" Tuesday morning: butter, milk, eggs, cottage cheese, beefs, self rising and plain bread, cucumbers, tomatoes, corn, butter beans, English peas, okra, milk fed chickens, jellies, cured ham sliced, new Irish potatoes, beans, peaches, carrots, whole whipping cream, dressed friers and hens, cakes, and cookies, squash, onions, cabbage and no doubt other things which a hurried eye might have overlooked.

The curb was established last year by Mrs. Irma Wallace, home demonstration agent and it has been a huge success. It furnishes a market for home-grown vegetables, home-made dairy and poultry products which are brought in fresh twice a week. The products are properly prepared for market and the prices are always in line. Sometimes when a customer calls for a product that is not in stock at the curb, some housewife will take the order and deliver it later. Cakes are oft-times baked to order and many housewives of the city depend entirely on the "curb" for their dairy, poultry and vegetable products.

The farm women in turn take the cash they have received to the Shelby stores and buy wearing apparel or something else for their home or farm.

Calton Goes On School Board As Ivey Willis Quits

Latter Resigns To Become Moriah Principal, Calton Is Nominee For Board.

At this week's session of the county board of education Mr. Ivey Willis resigned as a member of the board to accept the principalship of the Moriah school, in upper Cleveland.

The board, after accepting the resignation, appointed Mr. A. L. Calton to fill out the unexpired term. One reason assigned for this move was that Mr. Calton is the Democratic nominee for the board and in all probability will this fall be regularly elected to take the place which he has been appointed.

New Three-Cent Stamp On Letters Required Today; Rule Is Explained

Will Be Marked "Postage Due" If Insufficient. Does Not Apply To Postal Cards.

Patrons of the Shelby postoffice who are careless enough to forget that the new three cent postage rate went into effect today will have their letters returned to them, in cases where postoffice employees are able to determine the sender. Postmaster J. H. Quinn said today.

"Regulations require that mail lacking sufficient postage be returned to the sender if we are able to determine who mailed the letter," Mr. Quinn said. "When we are unable to identify the sender, the letter is forwarded to the addressee, provided it has as much as two cents' postage on it. In this case, the letter is marked 'postage due' and the amount is collected from the addressee."

Tragic Blaze Claims Lives Of Mother, Son

Mrs. Fred Newton, Son Are Burned

Think Mrs. Newton Tried To Save Life Of Boy In Burning Home.

Stark tragedy, marked by a heroic but unsuccessful attempt of a mother to save her small son, visited Cleveland county early Monday night when Mrs. Fred Newton and her six-year-old son, Fred, Jr., were burned to death in their home in the Patterson Grove section, east of Kings Mountain.

The charred bodies of mother and son were found in the ruins of the home around 8:30 Monday night. All indications were that the mother hurled herself into the burning building to save her boy.

Son Of Register

Mr. Newton, son of Andy F. Newton, popular register of deeds for Cleveland county, was in South Carolina Monday, after a load of cantaloupes, and he did not return to discover the tragedy that had robbed him of a wife and son until almost an hour after the bodies were found in the smoldering ruins.

The exact origin of the disastrous blaze is not definitely known. An early report had it that Mrs. Newton was likely at the barn milking when in some manner the house caught on fire, and she rushed back to get Fred, Jr. out. This, however, was not correct. The milking had been done around 7 o'clock or earlier by a colored girl who then left for her home. An hour or so later neighbors saw the blaze and rushed to the burning building, but too late to save the mother and her boy.

Three presumptions are advanced. All hinge upon the belief that Mrs. Newton was either out feeding the hogs and cow or was sitting on the porch. While she was out, two theories are that the six-year-old boy either knocked over the lamp and it exploded, or he attempted to start a fire in the living room fireplace with kerosene which exploded and enveloped his body in flames which quickly spread over the room.

Headed Cry

The position of the charred remains offered pretty definite proof that the mother had dashed into a flame-filled room to get the boy, only to be enveloped in flames and burned to death herself. His body was in the living room and her body was just outside the door coming from the dining room, into the living room. It was reported in the community that a neighbor heard—

Mrs. Jenkins Has A Very Narrow Escape

In the fire which destroyed the home of Ben Jenkins in the New House section Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Jenkins had a very narrow escape. She went upstairs while the house was burning to get some of the children's clothes when flames swept up behind her, making it impossible to escape without danger of getting burned. Members of the family knowing that she was upstairs, secured a ladder and rescued her from the window.

It is understood that Mr. Jenkins carried some insurance and plans to rebuild.

Trent Baby Winner In Lake Baby Show

W. D. Trent, Jr., won second prize for boys in the beach baby parade held on the Fourth at Lake Lure. The youngster was accompanied by Lake Lure, and later on to Asheville, by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Trent, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Yarboro and Miss Louise Turner.
