Head Says Money Will Come To State Soon For Road Work

Raleigh, July 25.—E. B. Jeffers, chairman of the state highway commission, said tonight that it was probable the first road letting in North Carolina as a result of the two billion dollar federal relief act would be held August 10.

Mr. Jeffers said he was assured at conferences in Washington with the federal bureau of roads that as little delay as possible would be experienced by the states in getting their allotments under the act. He said he expected a certification that North Carolina can get about $5,700,000 to be made by Monday.

He estimated that $2 daily would be a fair minimum wage in view of the fact that laborers would be allowed to work only 30 hours per week.

By all means preserve the good things resulting from prohibition. Without these good things, night clubs would starve.

Delicate as a Rose Petal, Baby's Skin Requires the Gentlest Care

Use of Harsh Soap or Impure Powder in Bathing an Infant, or Lack of Care in Washing Its Clothes, May Cause a Lot of Needless Distress and Restlessness.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D. United States Senator from New York. Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

An infant's skin is extremely sensitive to all irritations, both external and internal. That is why baby's first bath should never be a soap and water bath, but rather of good olive oil. Subsequently bathing should be done with warm water and a good quality soap.

Dry the skin thoroughly with a very soft cloth, preferably of linen. A liberal powdering should follow the bath, and for this purpose use a good grade of baby powder. Cheap, highly scented talcum should not be used, for the ingredients may prove to be impure and harmful to the baby's delicate skin.

Babies frequently suffer from irritation where two surfaces of skin touch each other—between the arms and the body, the chin and the chest, or between the thighs. This complaint is most common in fat babies. Lack of care in keeping the baby clean, failure to remove promptly any wet or soiled clothing, and use of coarse soaps in washing the baby or his clothes, are frequent causes of skin irritations. The baby's garments should be rinsed in several tubs of clear water before drying, to make sure all the irritating soap is removed.

To relieve irritation around the buttocks, oil may be applied. A useful mixture is one part of castor oil and two parts of olive oil. After this has been applied, the parts should be dusted with a good talcum powder, preferably one containing zinc oxide. In a few days marked improvement is usually noted.

Prickly heat is another torment of babies during the warm weather. It may appear, too, in cooler weather if thick woolen underwear is worn. The swelling of the skin shuts off secretions of the sweat glands of the affected parts.

The treatment is frequent bathing and the application of talcum powder. Your doctor may advise a laxative and plenty of water should be taken between feedings. If flannel garments irritate the affected area, a thin muslin shirt should be worn next to the skin.

Delicate, ill-nourished infants may have boils, particularly on the scalp. In that case the general health of the baby should be improved, and great care should be exercised in the baby's bathing, in its feeding and in giving it an abundance of fresh air.

Boils are caused by germs penetrating the skin. Internal treatment should be prescribed by a physician, while a solution of boric acid may be used on the diseased skin. At times an excess of sugar in the feeding formula may help to induce this condition. In breast-fed children it has been traced to the mother's excessive candy eating.

During teething, especially in nervous children, various abnormal skin conditions may develop. A prudent mother will be careful to give her child only the simplest food and will see that the bowels and kidneys, as well as the skin, are acting normally.

Answers to Health Queries

M. H. M. Q.—How much should a girl 17 years old, 5 feet 6 1/2 inches tall, weigh and also a girl 16 years old, 5 feet 6 inches tall?

A.—They should weigh 130 pounds and 128 pounds respectively as determined by examination of a number of people.

S. C. Q.—Are the following foods fattening? Chocolate, rye bread, grapes, apples and jelly.

A.—In excessive quantities they are fattening, all except the apples. In reasonable quantities they will supply energy and nourishment without adding to the weight.

Naughty Willie. A teacher was explaining to the class the difference between "abstract" and "concrete" and was endeavoring to make her explanation very simple and clear.

"Now," she said, "concrete is something you can see and abstract is something you cannot see." Willie looked quite enlightened, so teacher ventured to test her explanation.

"Willie," she said, "give me an explanation of something concrete."

"My pants," was Willie's response. "Correct," said teacher, gratified; "and now something abstract."

"Yours," said Willie.

Wise Man. "You are accused of stealing $10,000. Would you like a defending counsel?"

"No, I would rather keep the money myself."

Nobody's Business

Concrete Versus Abstract

The government's effort to reduce expenses reminds me of the farmer who got so hard up that he quit using toothpicks entirely bought himself a big automobile.

Speaking of the 3-cents letter postage, a new invocation mothered by the budget balancers: if it wasn't against the law to dun a man or cuss a man on a postal card, letter-writing would be discarded entirely except for love purpose.

COTTON LETTER

NEW YORK, July 23.—Liverpool cables were better than due on account of excessive rains in Canada. Near midday, spots re-acted on news from the farm board that they will not buy or sell any more cotton during the republican administration but boll weevil reports caused an erratic December and November eased off. Spots were firmer when Anacanda cooper and rails showed slight gains these 2 stocks are made out of cotton, hence the sympathy Dug to too much talk, American telephone advanced 3 points, but the carryover for the current year will be in the neighborhood of 12,333,333 of mebbe a few sales more. We advise the wet plank.

The folks on the way back to the farm" are meeting the folks on the way back from the farm: enroute to the nearest breadline. A hustler might be able to make a living tugging the soil if he will become a nudist, a non-smoker, faster and a heathen. He should by all means send his wife and children to the poorhouse before taking up agriculture.

If we were to spend $2,000,000,000.00 erecting public buildings that we don't need, it would give a few skillful laborers enough work to enable them to run their automobiles again but the masses would be benefitted (that is, the real jobless) just as much as a cyclone would be helped if a transient rooster were to sneeze. You can't cure a maddog bite with another maddog.

our little town was badly shocked last tuesday morning when it woke up and found out that the city hall had burnt down the night before the volunteer fire department was a total loss, as it was in it, the poleman was asleep on his beat, and no alarm was rung.

The social climbers had been invited to dinner at the house of a prominent local resident. As there was no one to look after little Tommy, it was necessary to take him along, too.

The meal started off well enough, but while Tommy was trying to cut the meat on his plate it slipped off on to the floor, and his mother's face flushed.

"Tommy," she whispered tensely, "you must apologize to Mrs. Suburban Ayres at once. Get up and say something quickly."

The very modern child slowly picked the meat from the floor and said:

"I'm sorry, Mrs. Ayers. It's funny, but tough meat'll always do that."

our last community chest drives did not reach its goal nearly 308 flat rock was asked to raise 358 as her share of the unemployment, but oner count of money being tight with the merchants, it did not go over the top. mark green says the government ought to support the community chest, as it caused the depression.

our little town has had 10 or 12 magazine agents in her midst for the past few days working their ways thru college, so they say, the down payment is only 18, but my wife bought out of doors and prissilla last year, and she has not heard of same, she thinks he took her wrong address, we hope they will get thru college.

our railroad has put on cheap rates for saturday night and sunday and they want the public to stay at home till then, so from now on, if we want to ride on the train, we will not go anywhere till saturday night. all of the other time is regular war-time rates with the pullman sir-charge, so he says at the depot.

One of the boys who works in the drug store here says that the new government taxes which congress recently piled on us makes him think of the feller who loaded his old horse so heavy, he broke his back, and after that, he loaded him heavier than ever. from now on we will rite postal cards instead of letters and pay in cash (if we pay a-tall) instead of checks. I feel sorry for a government that don't know no better than that.

the tombstone agent, who sold most of the monuments in the re-hober graveyard has put on a cut-rate price for the summer months, and will also sell on the instalment plans. he asks that all citizens who have loved one that have "gone on before" to rest on that beautiful shore" to see him at the boarding-house on tuesdays and fridays.

Cupid Lands Son Of Governor And A College Prexy

She Dies Twice, Says The Medical Record

According to New York medical records, Mrs. Amelia Redino, 43, of Brooklyn, died twice. Four minutes after her heart stopped beating and she was pronounced dead, oxygen pumped into her lungs started the heart up again and it continued to beat for four hours. Then it stopped for good and Mrs. Redino was pronounced dead for the second time.

cupid, with a brief excursion across the State line to York, South Carolina, spent a busy 24 hours in North Carolina Wednesday.

He went with a Governor's son and a Governor's son's lady to York, South Carolina, where late Wednesday night a justice of the peace performed their marriage.

And Wednesday in Edenton he attended the wedding of the president of the University of North Carolina, performed by the father of the bride.

It was a good day's work. The marriage of young James Webb Gardner and Miss Iris Rollins, of Mooresboro, is as pleasing an event as any young romantic marriage can be.

The marriage of Dr. Frank Graham makes more people happy than the bridegroom and his bride, Miss Marian Drane. Frank Graham is the best beloved citizen of North Carolina and his happiness when he was close upon the danger of being an old bachelor is a source of jubilation for all his friends.
