At The Theatres

The Carolina's feature for today and Tuesday is Fox's newest release—"Society Girl," romantic comedy, with James Dunn as a ring her hopelessly in love with a pampered pet of society, red-haired Peggy Shannon. Spencer Tracy completes the trio around which the story revolves. Short subjects to complete the program include "Jimmy's New Yacht" and Fox news reel.

The cast alone is good enough reason to believe "Night Court" will be an interesting picture at the Webb today and Tuesday. Phillips Holmes, Anita Page, and Walter Huston of "Abraham Lincoln" fame, are doing the leading roles. Huston was last seen as the hotel keeper in "The Wet Parade." Comedy and news reel complete the bill of fare.

Credit Flow Will Start In 3 Months Says The President

Says It Will Take This Time Before Full Benefits Of Bank System Will Be Seen.

Washington, July 25.—A forecast that the credit flow of the new home loan bank system would be started in three months was made today by Senator Watson of Indiana, after a conference with President Hoover at which Watson said organization of the system was discussed.

Watson, Senate Republican leader, said the President believed it might take a quarter of a year before the full benefits of the system could be realized. He pointed out that the federal reserve system had not been fully established within 14 months after the act was signed.

The Indianapolis told newspapermen as he left the White House that he had discussed politics with the chief executive but that most of their conversation centered upon the new home loan system and the reconstruction finance corporation.

Mr. Hoover has been hampered in the selection of two directors to fill vacancies on the board of the corporation by the law requiring that no more than one director may be from a single federal reserve district. Watson said. This law, he added, will prevent the appointment of Wilson W. Mills, Detroit banker, who has been mentioned frequently for one of the posts.

Although the home loan system should prevent some foreclosures even before it is in full operation, Watson said, he was afraid many of the bankers would not "loosen much," since "it appears almost every banker is afraid of runs."

Roosevelt To Open Campaign In N. J.

national chairman and campaign manager, continued his drive to enlist the whole-hearted support of all who were on the Smith bandwagon.

From New Jersey, where he had eulogized Hague for his sportsmanship, the energetic Farley went to Massachusetts, which also sent a Smith delegation to Chicago.

In a hotel at Springfield he spent two hours with Governor Joseph B. Ely, who placed the 1928 party leader in nomination last month. Ely is the only anti-Roosevelt leader not on record as a supporter of Roosevelt.

As they came from their session, Farley announced: "Governor Ely and I have gone over the situation very carefully, and I have arranged for Governor Ely to meet Governor Roosevelt in Albany some day this week. After that visit Governor Ely will issue a statement."

Ely smiled and declined to say whether the announcement indicated an accord was imminent.

In Albany Roosevelt had nothing to say about the prospective "peace meeting" except: "I am expecting a visit from Governor Ely."

Time will end the depression just as soon as people can resume buying on it.

100 Acre Field Of 2nd Growth Cotton

W. B. Woods who lives on the Sankey Mauney farm five miles north of Shelby has brought to The Star office a clipping from The Gazette, a paper published in a Georgia town where Mr. Woods lived before moving to Cleveland county.

It recites that Mr. Woods' old neighbor, Henry Buskin, who lives near the Tift and Irwin county line, has 100 acres of cotton which grew from the roots of last year's crop.

Mr. Buskin did not plow up the roots in his field last year, as he had so much other land to look after, and the cotton sprouted out so well this spring that he decided to cultivate it without fertilizer.

The field now looks fine and he estimates that he will make as much cotton from the field this year as he did last year, when it was planted and fertilized. It is said that there are no boll weevils in the field.

Overthrow of Siam's Monarchy Laid to Economic Depression

Prajadhipok, Last of Absolute Monarchs, Ousted for Inability to Find Solution to World Problem. Economy Cuts Antagonized Army.

QUEEN RAMKAI-BARNI IN WESTERN DRESS • THE KING AS A SPORTSMAN

The latest black mark to be chalked up against the old scapegoat Depression is the overthrow of King Prajadhipok, last of the world's absolute monarchs. While the King and his queen, Rambai-Barni, are held as prisoners by the revolutionaries, reports come from authentic sources at Bangkok to the effect that it was Prajadhipok's dismissal of several highly-paid army functionaries, as a feature of his economy program, that precipitated the uprising. It is further asserted that the object of the revolution is to abolish the absolute monarchy and to establish a constitutional government with Prajadhipok still king, but shorn of much of his power. This was but anticipating the aim of the king himself, for the ruler of Siam is known to have been working towards the establishment of a government of the people by the people for sometime. So Prajadhipok proved his sincerity by at once endorsing the aim of the insurgents. Educated at Eton, England, it is hard to discern anything Oriental about Siam's king, that is in mannerisms or viewpoint. Last year, when he visited the United States for an eye operation, he took a keen interest in American methods of business and government and since his return to Siam, has striven to give his country the benefit of the experience gained upon that occasion.
