Democrats Will Organize Young Group Monday

Young Democrats To Plan Big Rally

Hope To Have Younger Voters Present From Every Precinct In County

Young Democrats of Cleveland county plan to make the first move in preparing for the fall campaign at an organization meeting to be held in the county court house in Shelby Monday night at 8 o'clock.

Henry B. Edwards, local attorney, who is in temporary charge until an organization is perfected, states that there is much interest evident among the younger voters and he urges that young Democrats from every precinct in the county be present Monday night.

To Name Officers
The meeting will be for the primary purpose of organizing the entire county and officers will be elected for the county-wide group with leaders named for each voting precinct. Plans will also be discussed for the fall campaign and the part the younger voters will play in the drive. The meeting will be open to all Democrats and all interested are requested to bring along as many young voters as they can.

One of the other items of business will be the selection of a date for a big rally here, to which will be invited members of young Democratic clubs from all neighboring counties. A prominent speaker is to be secured for the event.

Beam Reunion Well Attended

Over 500 people attended the annual Beam reunion held yesterday at old Prospect church several miles northeast of Shelby, where a bountiful dinner was spread and the descendants of John Teter Beam gathered in fellowship and fraternity.

The crowd was somewhat below normal because of the rain, but the program was carried out nevertheless, and Capt. B. L. Smith, superintendent of the city schools delivered a very fine address, reviewing in part the history of the Beam family and emphasizing the value of family and home ties. The music was led by Horace Eason and the speaker was introduced by J. H. Quinn who also made a report of the progress he is making in preparing a history of the various branches of the John Teter Beam family. Already he has gotten together a complete history of several branches of the family and when the work is completed, the history will be published in book form.

L. Berge Beam of Lincoln was elected chairman for the ensuing year, O. S. Anthony of Shelby vice chairman and Miss Ruth Beam secretary-treasurer. Many visitors were present from adjoining counties and other states.

Immense Amount Of Canning In County

Almost Half Million Cans Put Up

Biggest Canning Season In County History. Seven Cans Per Person

The "can-all-you-can" slogan has been followed to such an extent in Cleveland county this summer that there should be little hunger with proper distribution. It is estimated that almost 400,000 cans of fruits and vegetables have been put up in the county during the year, with the number likely to run to the half million mark before late fall.

An investigation reveals that stores dealing in cans have had their biggest season this year, which means that out over the county more canning has been done.

A near exact check shown that approximately 395,000 cans have been sold up to this week. That is better than seven cans for each man, woman and child in the county's 52,000 population.

Just now the majority of the cans being sold are to be packed with tomatoes, but the entire canning supply covers almost every food product grown in the county—beans, corn, peas, cucumbers, berries, apples, peaches etc.

The cans sold so far run about 60-40 between the sizes of No. 3 and No. 2 1/2 that is quarts and pints. The Campbell store in Shelby is perhaps the county's largest can dealer. Three cars of cans, 50,000 to the car, have already been sold there and another may be sold before the end of the season. Clark's hardware is another Shelby can supply store, which has done a good business in cans. The Stamey store at Fallston has also sold a large number of cans, as has the Bettis-Austell store at Earl, and several other stores in the county. The C. J. Hamrick store at Bowling Springs, has sold, it is unofficially reported, around two car loads, or 100,000 cans.

Almost a score of families have purchased and put up, for sale or their own consumption, 500 cans or more. This week and last five or six individual buyers purchased 1,000 cans each while several more bought as many as 750 and 800.

The conserving of such a food supply is expected to prove a great aid in carrying the county through the winter.

Non-Support Cases Work County Court

Men Without Jobs, Due To Depression, Hailed In Court By Their Wives.

A light docket of county court today was featured by two non-support cases, a type of charge that is getting common during the so-called depression.

The cases were those in which two wives asked the court to make their husbands support them. Numerous cases of the type have been tried recently and offer something of a problem to the court in that it is difficult to force a man to support his family when the man is without a job and cannot get one.

New Court Hours.
County court now convenes here each morning of the week, except Wednesday, at 9:30 instead of 10, which has heretofore been the opening hour. The one-day court at Kings Mountain has also been changed from Thursday to Wednesday.

That county, nominally republican by a safe lead, may go democratic in November, Mitchell county democrats declare, and they expect to make a determined campaign, said the Gastonia democrat.

Maj. Bulwinkle will make an aggressive campaign to continue to represent the district in the national house of representatives. Charles A. Jonas of Lincoln, his oppon-

Typewriters Being Stolen In Shelby

Offices of Two Lawyers Robbed Of Typewriters, May Be Selling Them.

If you have a typewriter, better chain it to the wall. Some thief about Shelby appears to be fond of typewriters.

Tuesday night the typewriter of Attorney Maurice R. Weathers, former county judge, was stolen from his office. Some weeks ago the typewriter of Attorney Peyton McSwain, in the same building, was stolen while he was at camp with Company K. With two typewriters known to be missing the attorneys are urging the public to be sure where the typewriters are coming from if they purchase second-hand machines.

New Beauty Shop Opens On Tuesday

Mrs. Beulah Nixon Installs Latest In Permanent Wave Machine—Miss Ramsey To Assist

Shelby women will soon be able to get the newly popular DuArt permanent wave right here at home the wave many southern women have traveled all the way to New York or Chicago to get, according to Mrs. Beulah Nixon, operator of the new Nixie Beauty shop which opens next Tuesday in Weathers-Blanton building on South Washington street. The Nixie has secured a representative from Chicago to install and introduce the new DuArt method, one day early next week. The exact date of the demonstration is not yet known, but will be announced later. According to Mrs. Nixon, the DuArt method is the latest scientific development of waving the hair correctly and permanently and has become suddenly famous throughout the nation for its unexcelled beauty.

Mrs. Nixon comes from Sasley, South Carolina, where she has been engaged in beauty work for some time. She is a graduate of the beauty schools in Atlanta, Ga., Miss Vertie Ramsey, popular about Shelby for her fine skill in beauty work, will assist Mrs. Nixon in the new shop.

Buried Treasure Hunt Near Shelby Is Made At Night

Hickory Men Reported To Have Dug All Night At Foot Of Tree Here

Hickory, August 19.—Search for buried treasure is as old as the world, but Hickory has contributed at least two expeditions recently to add to the numberless adventures of this sort, it became known here today.

The latest went forth a few days ago when a quartet went to a farm not far from Shelby and dug all night at the foot of a big tree, so it is reported.

The story goes that one man who had heard the tale from some of his relatives, became convinced that there was money buried at the foot of a certain tree in Cleveland county. He interested some companions in organizing a searching party, and Monday night they drove the long distance from Hickory to a point beyond Shelby where the treasure trove was alleged to be.

All night long, the rumor says, the men labored at their task. When morning came a great hole yawned—but no hidden wealth had been uncovered.

"We just didn't dig deep enough," the leader of the expedition is reported to have confided to a local friend in telling of their hunt.

A few weeks ago local men were reported digging for buried treasure on a farm near Linville, in Avery county. For a time there was a rumor that one of the searchers had found a big sum of money in a lead covered box. Then the owner of the farm from which the buried treasure was supposed to have been taken sought to secure a portion of it by entering suit charging larceny of the money. The case was dropped before it came to trial and it is said that the prosecution was unable to dig up any evidence to substantiate the charges preferred.

Thief Gives Tedder A Pan And Grapes

Daniel Allen Tedder, the lawyer and nature student, was expressing his thanks yesterday to an unknown thief. The reason is that Tedder has a new pan and a pan full of grapes which he did not have to pick for himself.

Thursday morning Tedder went into his garden and there he found, beneath one of his 50 grape vines, a new pan of some size filled with grapes. His presumption is that someone brought the pan and was stealing grapes when they became frightened and ran away, leaving pan and grapes.

Harrill, well known Baptist minister who is pastor of several large churches in Rutherford and Cleveland counties, including Ellenboro and Concord, is critically ill at his home at Lattimore. Think Gardner May Be Given Cabinet Place

Roosevelt Admires Shelby Man

Has Good Chance To Be Secretary Of Agriculture Despite Daniels Attitude.

(By M. R. Dunagan, Star News Bureau)

Raleigh, Aug. 19.—Governor O. Max Gardner, now at his home in Shelby for his summer vacation, is now looked upon as having a mighty good chance of landing a place in Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt's cabinet if the New York Governor is elected President in November, if reports seeping down from Washington are to be credited.

Moreover, these reports place the North Carolina Governor in the Cabinet as Secretary of Agriculture and as Secretary of the Navy, as five of the eight North Carolinians who have ever been in a President's cabinet have been cast.

Governor Roosevelt has a very high regard for Governor Gardner, it is known, and confirmation of such a relationship is shown by the action of the two Governors when at the Governor's Conference in Richmond, Va., some few months ago. While the visiting governors were being piloted to places of interest in the Old Dominion, the New York and North Carolina chief executives slipped off and conferred privately for two or three hours. It is a foregone conclusion that they talked of politics and prospects.

Governor Gardner's "live-at-home" program for the past three years, which is nothing more or less than a movement to get farmers to grow first what they, their families and their stock can use, then turn spare time and energy to such cash crops as cotton, tobacco and peanuts, has received national recognition and favorable comment and is now being followed in other states. That is probably the main reason his name is being suggested for the portfolio as Secretary of agriculture.

The closeness of Josephus Daniels and Governor Roosevelt, the former Secretary of the Navy, the latter his assistant, in the Wilson Cabinet, is not expected to cause any trouble between the two governors, although it is a matter of record that Mr. Daniels is not a great admirer of Governor Gardner. Neither did the late Walter Hines Page recommend Mr. Daniels so highly to President Wilson, it is recalled. If Mr. Daniels wants anything from Roosevelt, if elected, and the honor of having been his boss for eight years may be enough, an ambassadorship might answer the purpose. Mr. Daniels' age might prevent him from accepting a strenuous position, anyway.

Governor Talks To Employees Of Plant

Overseers Of Cloth Mill Given Chicken Dinner At Hotel Charles

Forty-three overseers and second hands of the Cleveland Cloth mill were entertained at a chicken dinner at Hotel Charles Wednesday night by the owners of the plant.

An inspiring talk on cooperation was made by Governor Gardner, one of the mill owners, another speakers including O. M. Mull, another owner, and all the overseers. A spirit of good fellowship prevailed and the get-together meal was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Ex-Service Men Urged To Defeat Hoover With Votes In Election

Urge Use Of Ballot To Smash Republican Administration In Power.

Raleigh, Aug. 19.—The "North Carolina veterans' committee of 70" in a report given to the press by Stanley S. Wohl of Greensboro, secretary, called on "every ex-service man in the United States" to use the ballot in November "to smash the national republican administration now in power."

The "committee of 70," Wohl said, has members in every county in North Carolina.

The report dealt with veterans' legislation and the B. E. F. expulsion.

"The time for denouncing and condemning President Hoover, Secretary of the Treasury Mills, Secretary of War Hurley, and Chief of Staff General MacArthur has passed," the report said.

"That has been done vigorously and bitterly by the public press, veterans' organizations and leaders,

Makes Hop Over Atlantic Today

Capt. J. A. Mollison, 27-year-old Scotsman air ace of England, today completed the first part of his round-trip flight over the Atlantic. His plane, reports today had it, was sighted early this morning over Newfoundland and apparently he was intending to fly on to New York without refueling, after spanning the Atlantic from Ireland in around 24 hours. After a short rest in New York he plans to fly back across to be the first to make the round-trip solo flight. As it is, he is the first successful solo aviator to fly the Atlantic westward. He is shown above with his bride of three weeks, Amy Johnson, famous English aviatrix.

Eastside Mill May Be Sold To Morgan

Higher Bids Are Invited By August 26th. 114 Acres Of Land, Plant And Machinery.

A bid of $260,000 has been offered by Fred R. Morgan, trustee, for the Eastside Manufacturing Co. plant in Shelby and the property will be sold unless a higher bid is received by Monday, August 29th at 10 o'clock in the office of R. Marlon Ross, reference in bankruptcy, Charlotte.

According to a legal advertisement published in today's issue of The Star, J. R. Dover, Jr., who is trustee in the matter of the bankrupt mill, has filed a petition, setting forth that he has been offered the sum of $260,000, which offer has been made by Fred R. Morgan, trustee and that in the opinion of Mr. Dover, the amount offered is sufficient to cover the indebtedness against the plant. The offer is for the 114 acres of land, the mill building, tenement houses, machinery, equipment, fixtures, merchandise, railway rights of way and all other property including accounts receivable, if any.

Any higher bid, however, may be placed in writing with the said trustee, Mr. Dover or with the reference in bankruptcy, Mr. Ross not later than Aug. 29th. Should a higher bid be received, the same will be given consideration, otherwise the property will be transferred and conveyed to Fred R. Morgan, trustee, for the sum of $260,000.

It will be recalled that the Eastside Manufacturing Co. entered voluntary bankruptcy about three weeks ago and that later there was a meeting of creditors, about six in number, who hold a prior claim to the preferred and common stockholders. At that meeting no date of sale was authorized by the court, but Mr. Dover has been operating the mill without interruption for the benefit of the creditors and to give work to the employees.

Seek Damages From Deputies Result Of Shot

Asks $20,000 For Wound In Leg

Kendrick And Hord Defendants, Canipe Shot While Watching Rum Raid Car.

W. K. Canipe, of Cliffside and latter of Charlotte, has filed a suit in Superior court asking $20,000 damages of Deputies R. B. (Bob) Kendrick and John R. Hord, Cleveland county officers, as the result of being shot in the leg when a gun belonging to Deputy Kendrick was discharged.

The shooting occurred on the Shelby court square, just in front of the east entrance of the county court house, on June 26, 1931.

Unloading Booze.
Deputies Kendrick and Hord along with other officers, had just made a big liquor raid and had driven the Kendrick car to the court house entrance to place the captured whiskey in the court house storage room. The haul was so large that a crowd of spectators gathered about the car and entrance to watch the unloading. Canipe was in the group lying on the floor board of the car, between the front seat and rear shift, was a sawed-off shotgun which belonged to Officer Kendrick. Deputy Hord was on his knees in the front seat, as it is recalled, lifting jars of whiskey from the rear seat and handing them to officers who were carrying them into the court house. Canipe was standing near or leaning against the front door on the right side. About that time the gun was discharged. One presumption was that Hord's foot may have jarred it, while some were of the opinion that some of the onlookers might have picked it up and laid it back down in a manner that caused it to discharge when the car was rocked or shaken.

Load In Leg.
Anyway, the load of shot tore through the door and caught Canipe in the leg. Officers picked him up and rushed him to the hospital. The noise of the shot and the presence of the crowd attracted considerable attention, much excitement prevailing for some time until the surprised crowd learned here had been no intentional shooting. Canipe remained in the hospital for some time.

Change Suit.
The suit was originally filed in Superior court at Charlotte, but this week Attorney Maurice R. Weathers and Horace Kennedy, who represent the officers, pled and won a motion there to have the suit transferred to Superior court in Cleveland county.

The complaint asks for $10,000 punitive damages and $10,000 actual damages.

Mull Speaks For Big Farm Meeting

Shelby Man Says Farmers Will Play Important Part In Return To Prosperity.

Asheville, Aug. 19.—Farm people and farm homes in western North Carolina and all over the United States form the most substantial basis of present day citizenship and self-supporting industry, and, even in the face of adverse economic conditions farmers are bound to play an important part in the return of sound prosperity to this country. Odus M. Mull of Shelby, former chairman of the democratic state executive committee, told over 1,000 farmers, farm experts, county agents and others at the Mountain Test farm on Swannanoa, near here yesterday.

Mr. Mull was the principal speaker for the twentieth annual farmers field day held at the station. He was introduced by William A. Graham, North Carolina commissioner of agriculture and chairman for the day.

"The farmers are the only class of working people in our country who know even for a few months ahead just where they are going to get their food. The farm homes and the faithful, happy and industrious people who inhabit them are among the most permanent and important materials in our civilized structure," Mr. Mull said.

Waldrop Postpones School House Revival

Rev. H. E. Waldrop announced this morning that the revival meeting scheduled to start next Tuesday at Poplar Springs school house several miles north of Shelby, has been postponed and will not begin until Tuesday, Aug. 30th. Services will be held each evening in the yard of the school building.

Brief Whirl Of The News

Cannon Hops Hoover.
Loyal Democrats about Shelby expressed elation yesterday when Bishop Cannon trained his guns upon President Hoover, declaring that the President had "surrendered to the speakases, bootleggers and nullifiers." In 1928 Cannon was a bitter foe of Al Smith because of the latter's prohibition stand, but seemingly this year neither major party candidate will meet the bishop's qualifications.

Creating Jobs.
Around 1,500 North Carolinians now unemployed will go to work the first of next month. That's the date set for beginning new highway construction in the State, in which almost a million dollars will be spent. Late in the month road work is expected to start in this county and that activity together with the building of the new Lutheran church should help in this section.

Neighboring Fair.
The annual Rutherford County Fair will open on September 20. The admission price has been reduced to 25 cents for both day and night. Attractions already booked indicate that it will be a splendid event. Later in the month the big Cleveland County Fair will open for a five-day run with no admission charge at any time. Observers believe fairs will draw a big attendance this year, perhaps more than ever, as it is possible to take in these educational and entertaining
