Thrilling Free Acts Feature "Free Fair"

14 Acts In Program Twice Daily

Some Of World's Best Performers To Be On Program. Fireworks Spectacular.

There is going to be considerably more to Cleveland's "free fair" in addition to the no admission charge to the big exhibit halls and the long array of booths and displays.

That is saying a great deal in that the free acts shown here in the past have been on such high class as to be on of the most, if not the most, popular feature of the fair.

Along with the free acts is that other important feature, the fireworks program, each night, an event for which there is no charge.

Thrilling Staff
The free acts will feature death-defying trapeze artists, the only trained camel in the world, trained elephants, spectacular horse-back riding, clowns, comedians and acrobats.

Native Honored Post Office In Shelby May Get Enlarging Soon

Bulwinkle And Jonas Work For Fund

Bulwinkle Informs Department Of Need. Jonas Also Is Active.

There is a possibility now that the $85,000 allocated two years ago for enlarging the Shelby post office may be approved and made an appropriation for early construction work within a short time.

Congressman A. L. Bulwinkle while on a visit in Shelby last week stated that he had been in communication with post office officials and others in Washington and had urged that the allotment here be made available at once because of the need of extra working space.

That the local appropriation may come within a short period was further indicated yesterday when Postmaster J. H. Quinn received a telegram from Chas. A. Jonas, former congressman, then in Washington, reading: "Shelby scheduled to receive appropriation for enlargement public building for which we secured allocation two years ago."

City Discounts Early Paid Tax

Two Per Cent Discount Allowed Until October 31st. Will Build Vault.

At the mid-month meeting of the mayor and board of aldermen held last night at the city hall, it was decided to allow a two per cent discount on 1932 city taxes paid between now and October 31st.

The city officials have been discussing for sometime the building of a fire proof vault in the clerk's office at the city hall to protect the valuable documents. The mayor was authorized to buy a vault door and let the contract for the vault. Several changes will be made in the interior of the building to provide for the vault.

Cotton Up $2.50 Bale; Stocks Get In Big Upswing

Gain In Cotton Of $2.50 Bale This Morning. Nearly All Stocks Up Several Points.

Cotton made a gain of $2.50 a bale this morning on the exchange above yesterday's close, Oct. being quoted at 2 o'clock today at 7.37 compared with yesterday's close of 6.81. December was quoted at 7.48 as compared with 6.96.

The stock exchange witnessed a strong upswing, gains as much as six points being registered. United States Steel gained $4.50 a share, American Telephone and Telegraph $6.50; American Can $4.50, Coca Cola $5; Reynolds Tobacco $1; Liggett and Myers Tobacco $4.

Cleveland's cotton letter reads as follows: "No definite center has been learned in the Windward Islands weather disturbance. Forecast Carolinas and Ga., showers today and tomorrow balance of belt part cloudy Atlanta had 1.18 rain. Journal Commerce Houston reports picking and ginning resumed in all sections. Holding movement of cotton in Texas since decline has assumed large proportions. Farmers holding 25 to 40 percent of current ginnings and most of them have set a price of nine cents for their cotton. Offerings barely keep pace with spot demand. Foreign demand slack. Charlotte reports fairly good sales to mills. Memphis says Delta fears widespread loss from yesterday's rains. Moderate business in Worth St., prices firmer. Hedge selling lighter yesterday."

Award Of $600 For Teacher In Damage Action

Appeal Is Taken To Supreme Court

Miss Jolley Sued Western Union Over Delivery Of Telegrams About Teaching Position.

In the litigation attracting more interest than any other disposed of so far this week in Superior court here Miss Evelyn Jolley, of Mooresboro, was awarded $600 damages in her suit against the Western Union. An appeal was filed to Supreme court by the defense.

Miss Jolley in her complaint alleged that she was caused to lose a teaching position in the Mantec high school because of delayed or erroneously delivered telegrams. A result she asked damages of $900 for salary she would have received for teaching and $100 for clothing and equipment purchased in the belief that she would get the position. The Western Union was represented by Attorney Alf Bernard, of Asheville, and Miss Jolley by Judge B. T. Falls.

Thongs Cheer Roosevelt In West And Assure Him He Will Win There

Dense Throng In Seattle Almost Blocks Candidate's Car On Way To Hotel.

Seattle, Sept. 21.—Franklin D. Roosevelt came to the gateway to the Orient yesterday and was told by Democratic leaders they believed he would have the electoral vote of the state of Washington in his column in November.

He rode in a flower blanketed automobile through huge crowds that pressed into the streets so thickly that passage was difficult for the cars that followed. At the entrance to the Olympic hotel, the crowd thronged so densely that trouble was had in clearing a passage for him.

Chas. W. Gold Shot To Death While Hunting

Greensboro, Sept. 21.—Chas. W. Gold, president of the Pilot Life insurance company, was accidentally shot and killed today while hunting in Randolph county.

He and H. C. Deason, assistant secretary of the company, were squirrel hunting near Randleman. A message to Greensboro from Randleman quoted Deason as saying he and Gold were some distance apart when he heard a gun fire. He ran in that direction and found Gold fatally wounded by the side of a fence.

Ask Bids On Home For M. E. Preacher

Bids are being solicited on a new brick parsonage for the Methodist minister, Rev. E. Snow, at Fallston.

The parsonage there was burned a few weeks ago and the building committee of which Claude C. Falls is chairman, has decided to duplicate the home of J. O. Propst on S. LaFayette street, Shelby. This is a brick dwelling and will be duplicated except for a few minor changes and Mr. Falls is accepting bids from contractors who wish to submit bids, after they have looked over the Propst home.

Betting Odds Now For Roosevelt; Cheap Corn, Potatoes And Cotton

Washington, Sept. 21.—The price of farm products may prove President Hoover's undoing.

Cheap corn, cheap potatoes, cheap cotton, and even cheaper wheat have the farmers dissatisfied, and therein may lie the outcome of the November election.

Betting odds, as recorded by New York brokerage houses, have shifted to the Roosevelt side. At one time, prior to the Maine election, odds on Hoover were given on an eight to five basis. Word has reached friends of the president here that polls among Republicans in some parts of the west, reveal a two to one sentiment in favor of the Democratic national ticket.

Such developments apparently warrant the prophecy of Speaker Garner that Democratic triumph in November will be of landslide proportions.

Maine Election And Straw Vote Show Trend Sway From Hoover Now.

Washington, Sept. 21.—The price of farm products may prove President Hoover's undoing.

Cheap corn, cheap potatoes, cheap cotton, and even cheaper wheat have the farmers dissatisfied, and therein may lie the outcome of the November election.

Betting odds, as recorded by New York brokerage houses, have shifted to the Roosevelt side. At one time, prior to the Maine election, odds on Hoover were given on an eight to five basis. Hoover Faces Sore Subject

His supporters are convinced that Mr. Hoover, choosing the place of his birth, among the farm folk, can make out a "perfect case" in picturing the aid that has been given the farmer by governmental agencies, exceeding a billion dollars, in terms of money; but they are wondering, if the effort will be of any avail.

Mr. Hoover would speak in the region where grows the tallest corn, where the Republicans should have as few worries as do the Democrats in Mississippi; but he will find that the people, whence he sprang, will be using corn this winter to heat the school houses, if not their own homes. Corn will be a tall, but a sore, subject.

Award Of $2,000

The largest award given by the jury so far this week was in the action of C. J. Yelton, of Lawndale, vs. E. E. McKinney, of Shelby.

In connection with a note Yelton was given judgment of $2,036.77. The defense contention was that the claim had previously been adjusted by a settlement, and the plaintiff contended that the note was not included in the previous agreement.

In the litigation of Herschel Ponder vs. B. H. Elliott judgment of $400 was given. This was to determine to whom rentals should be paid in a land bank matter.

The court was today hearing a Klings Mountain case in which damages were sought in connection with an injury by automobile.

Small Crowd Attending
The civil court session this week presided over by Judge Frank S. Hill, of Murphy, has been attended by less people than any court term in years. This is due to the fact that farmers are all busy picking cotton and also that with no criminal cases there is not the usual interest.

Another oddity about the present session is the absence of divorce suits. For several years from four to a dozen divorces have been on each civil court calendar. This term, however, only one divorce action was listed and it has been continued, it is understood.

New Road Aid To Cleveland

Link In No. 150 Approved From Lincolnton To Mooresville. Shorter Route North.

Cleveland county is interested in the approval by the state highway commission of a road contract which will be let in October for a link on highway No. 150 from Lincolnton to Mooresville.

It now appears that this link will be built at an early date as the contract will be in the October lettings. Shelby and Cleveland county have been very much interested in the construction of this link because it affords a shorter route to Salisbury, Greensboro and points north and to Raleigh by shorter, but travel will be much faster because of the open country and lack of large cities. Heretofore most of the Greensboro and Raleigh travel have been through Gastonia and Charlotte where traffic is so congested that it slows down travel.

The route from Lincolnton to Mooresville is therefore an important link to this section as it will be an all-weather road and shorten the distance from Shelby to Raleigh by thirty miles, according to the Lincolnton County News. Influential men in Shelby and Lincolnton have been quietly working to get this project on the program. Highway No. 150 extends to Shelby and on through Polkville and Marion where it will connect with No. 10 the "Main Street" of North Carolina.

Extension Classes Start In October

The University extension classes are expected to start in Shelby the first week in October, according to J. H. Grigg, county superintendent of education. These are conducted for teachers and will be taught by Dr. Morrison.
