

"Old Potato" Is Latest Catch Slogan In The Political World

Washington.—A new and classic phrase has entered the cockeyed annals of American political history: "How are you, you old potato?"

It has little in common with most of the others—"Run, Romanism and Rebellion," "He Kept Us Out of War," "Tippecanoe and Tyler, Too," "Sixteen to One," "Burn This Letter," "Back to Normalcy," "Thou Shalt Not Steal," "Three Hundred and Twenty-nine," "Free Soil, Free Speech, Free Men and Fremont."

But there they are, the very words used by Al Smith as he publicly signalled his reconciliation with Governor Roosevelt in what seems to have been the most important "break" in this pregnant campaign.

Now the Democrats can parade through New Jersey, New York and New England with a banner bearing no other insignia than a large, handsome potato, flaunting it before those brave, grim Irishmen whose loyalty to Al has led them to eschew the charming governor and threaten to deprive him of many important electoral votes.

Other politicians may juggle solely with the more ponderous and dignified phrases and issues of the campaign, but it takes Al Smith to toss in such homely items as ballyhoo and potatoes.

Somehow cannot imagine Mr. Hoover calling Senator "good old Idaho potato." Yet Al's lack of dignity in accent and phraseology certainly cost him plenty of middle-class votes in 1928.

The big reunion of Al and Frank seemed to have been carefully planned. Roosevelt's evening would not have been spoiled in the slightest even if he had been called an old turnip, an old cabbage or an old egg plant.

Not only is "old potato" an expression which will not be forgotten by the political historians. There is a good chance that it will assume enormous importance. For it may be just what was needed to give the Democrats New York state, and New York state, with its 47 electoral votes, may easily prove to have been just what the Democrats needed to carry the country.

Various polls have indicated a very close race in New York and Democrats have believed that there wouldn't have been any question about it except for the resentment of Al's followers.

Massachusetts and perhaps the rest of New England may be irretrievably lost to Roosevelt, but New Jersey is likely to vote the same ticket as New York, as it has in the last nine elections. It is well to remember that the two states have gone Republican in every two-party presidential contest of the last 40 years and that there is no assurance that they will now change, although the prospects are definitely brighter.

The chances would seem to be that Al Smith and Franklin "Old Potato" Roosevelt, pulling together, can hold their own home state. They are the two smartest politicians of the period. They miss very few tricks and makes hardly any breaks.

Death Mystery

Marian Elliot Jenkinson, of Milford, N. H., who was found shot to death in a New York hotel room. The fact that a revolver was clutched in the girl's hand pointed to suicide, but the finding of a note addressed to the hotel manager, telling of her being pursued by a man, started an investigation on a murder theory. Miss Jenkinson is believed to have eloped some time ago from Worcester, Mass.

South Carolina To Cast G. O. P. Votes

Columbia, S. C.—South Carolina Republican leaders are predicting a vote of 40,000 for their candidates in the general election November 8 and if this prophecy comes true the G. O. P. vote will more than double that which elected Gov. Ibra C. Blackwood on the Democratic ticket in 1928.

Democrats in this state have seldom bothered to vote on general election day. In their primaries, they turn out by the hundred thousands but as the nomination has heretofore been equivalent to election, few have bothered with the "ratification" that the general election amounted to.

In 1928, however, the Al Smith-Herbert Hoover fight, with its attendant Hoover-Democrats, stirred the Democratic party to such a pitch that more than 50,000 of them voted for Smith. At the same time Hoover got 3,183 ballots. South Carolina gave the former New York governor the largest percentage victory he received in any state.

Thinks Depression May Produce Good

New York.—Bishop William J. Hafez, of Raleigh, N. C., told a luncheon of the Catholic Daughters of America that the economic situation may prove a blessing by turning the people's thoughts to God.

"Millions in America," he said, "have been humbled in the presence of the depression, and through the humility we have purified ourselves from the putrid and cancerous diseases of selfish and sensuous pleasures."

"We now look askance on these pleasures. We find that we were blinded by that filth. The depression is the gall bringing back light to many millions in a country that is now beginning to look up to God who is the source of our livings."

Two States Are After Big Tax Reynolds Estate

North Carolina and New York Both Seek To Share In Inheritance Taxes.

Winston-Salem.—Two states are looking to receiving a slice of the estate of Smith Reynolds, slain tobacco heir, while establishment of his legal residence remained in doubt.

North Carolina officials said "any steps necessary" to protect the state's interest in collection of inheritance taxes on the estate would be taken, while officials in New York state figured on receiving a sum of nearly two millions if the will is probated as offered in the City of New York.

The will of Reynolds, found shot to death at his home near here several months ago, was filed in New York last week and left his $15,000,000 estate for the most part to relatives. The will set forth that young Reynolds, who was 20 when he died, was a resident of that state.

Today, A. Maxwell, commissioner of revenue in North Carolina, said any steps necessary to protect the state's interest would be taken and added, "I think the will was executed in New York probably for the reason that a minor could not make a legal will in North Carolina and could under the New York statute."

"But whether he was a resident of North Carolina or New York is a question of fact and in my opinion facts will sustain his residence in North Carolina," Maxwell said.

Large Sum Involved. The inheritance taxes collected by the State of New York, at the present rate of taxation, would amount to approximately $1,900,000 on Reynolds' estate.

Under law of that state, the surrogate is the taxing officer and levies the tax, which is collected by the department of taxation and finance. This department said today it had "not officially learned" of Reynolds' death.

What the inheritance tax will be has been variously estimated in North Carolina and depends on what laws govern final disposition of the estate.

Holman In State. Today, Alfred Holman, father of Libby Holman Reynolds, widow of young Reynolds, who is under joint indictment with Albert Walker on a charge of murder in Reynolds' death, passed through Winston-Salem en route to Florida and conferred with attorneys for his daughter.

He refused any statements regarding the case, but said Mrs. Reynolds was getting along "nicely" under the constant care of physicians in anticipation of the birth of a baby.

Holman said he was going to Florida on business.

Larger Ballots For Fall Voting

Raleigh.—Printing of the 4,500,000 ballots necessary for the expression of North Carolina voters at the polls on November 8 will be completed this week when the presses cease turning out the broad sheets carrying three sets of presidential electors. The presidential ballot will be something of a novelty because of its width, which was occasioned by the addition of the column of Socialist electors to the regular Democratic and Republican columns.

Willie Upshaw Got Drunk Once

Took Drink When He Was 16, And Has Been Ashamed Of It Ever Since.

New York.—"Gentlemen, I got drunk when I was 16 years old, and I have been ashamed of it ever since."

William D. Upshaw, candidate for president of the United States on the prohibition ticket, with a W. C. T. U. ribbon in his buttonhole, confessed in those words, for what is believed to be the first time, that he knows whereof he speaks in condemning the "awful burning taste of whiskey."

"One of my boyhood friends convinced me that I wouldn't be a man until I had gone on an awful jag," he told interviewers here today.

"So I reached across a bar and accepted a drink. Then I staggered home and fell on the bleeding heart of my mother. It broke her heart. She put me to bed so my father wouldn't see me. She didn't want me to break his heart, too."

Reaching back across the years to an earlier world in Atlanta, Georgia, Upshaw paused, stricken be-

Trade In Your Worn Tires for Safe Gripping Non-Skid Firestone Tires

LIBERAL trade-in allowance—now—on all Firestone High Speed and Heavy Duty Tires!

Why take a chance on worn, smooth, uncertain tires when you can buy Firestone non-skid safe, proven tires at lowest prices.

Firestone Tires are designed to grip the road. The non-skid tread is thick, tough and gives 25% longer non-skid safety.

Glen Schultz only last month set a new world's record in climbing Pike's Peak, in 16 min. 47 sec. His top speed was 78 miles per hour—negotiating many hair-raising turns where a skid or a tire failure meant death.

It's that kind of stamina that makes Firestone Tires safe and economical for you.

That's why race drivers use Firestone Tires. They won't risk their lives on any other make.

No tire in the world has the Firestone endurance. That is because Gum-Dipping, the patented Firestone process, transforms the cotton cords into tough, sinewy units. It means that the liquid rubber penetrates every cord and coats every fiber, assuring protection against internal heat. Two Extra Gum-Dipped Cord Plies under the Tread, give 56% stronger bond between tread and cord body.

Don't buy cheap tires that are only made to sell. Don't risk your life on wet, slippery pavements these October days—Use the same precaution race drivers use. Trade in your old tires—We will give you a liberal allowance on Firestone Tires—the safest tires in the world.
