

No Peddlers Or Sales Tax On Growers Of Own Produce In N. C.

Farm Products Grown By The Seller Are Not Subject To Two New Tax Laws.

Raleigh, July 17.—The grower of farm products may himself carry such products about to any place within the State and sell them in the way commonly known as 'peddling', without being liable for the peddlers tax imposed by this section (Sec. 121, Revenue Act of 1933) nor would there be liability for the peddlers tax where the sales are made by a bona fide agent or employee of the grower, by carrying them about and selling them from place to place throughout the State in the way commonly known as 'peddling'.

This interpretation is made by Attorney General D. G. Brummitt in answer to an inquiry from Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell on subsection (c), Section 121, 1933 Revenue act, relating to 'peddling', which sub-section reads as follows: 'Nothing in this section shall apply to the sale of all farm products raised on the premises owned or occupied by the person, firm or corporation, his or its bona fide agent or employee selling the same.'

Normally, Mr. Brummitt continues, it will not be difficult to determine whether a particular person is actually an employee or a grower. Difficulty may, and possibly will arise, in determining whether the person who is so engaged in peddling such farm products is a bona fide agent of the grower.

County Produces 100,000 Bushels

Cleveland One Of 16 Counties In State Having Over 100,000 Wheat Production.

Raleigh, July 17.—Sixteen North Carolina counties produced more than 100,000 bushels of wheat in 1932, five others above 90,000 bushels and six others above 80,000 bushels. State College agronomists estimate, since 1932 was a poor wheat year in this State, that all of these 27 counties ordinarily produce about 100,000 bushels each and therefore will come under the wheat reduction plans of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Producing 100,000 bushels or more last year were Alamance, Cabarrus, Catawba, Chatham, Cleveland, Davidson, Forsyth, Guilford, Iredell, Lincoln, Randolph, Rowan, Stanly, Stokes, Union and Yadkin. The 5 producing 90,000 or more are Davie, Moore, Rockingham, Surry and Wilkes, and the six producing 80,000 or more bushels are Alexander, Gaston, Granville, Orange, Person and Rutherford.

Sales Tax Rules On Exchanges Of New Items For Old

Revenue Collector Maxwell Makes Ruling On Exchange As To Sales Tax.

(Special To The Star) Raleigh, July 17.—When a new article is sold and a second-hand article taken in exchange, the new article is subject to the full three percent general sales tax, but when the second-hand or used article received in the exchange, or when articles are re-sold by the merchant, such sales may be excluded from the sales tax, provided a separate record is kept of each transaction, in compliance with rules announced by Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell and Division Director Harry McMullan, as follows:

"Merchants taking in exchange for a new article, a second-hand or used article or merchants repossessing articles sold by them, shall in all cases keep in book form, at all times available for inspection by this department, a record showing the following: "1. The date on which such transaction is made.

"2. The name of the person from whom such second-hand or used article is taken in part payment or of the name of the person from whom the article is repossessed.

"3. If a repossessed article, the date on which such article is sold to the one from whom it is repossessed by the merchant claiming such exemption.

"4. A description of the second-hand or used or repossessed article.

"5. If sold, the date and name of the party to whom such new article, used or second-hand article, or repossessed article is sold.

"6. The merchant shall keep a record of all sales of new articles, second hand or used articles and repossessed articles and credit for sales of second-hand or used articles or repossessed articles, shall be allowed only when the records kept clearly disclose the history of the handling of such article.

"7. Merchants are required to attach to such second-hand or used article or repossessed articles a tag or label on which shall be stated the date such article was taken in payment or a new article sold or whether a repossessed article.

Seek To Save Drug Store Where Geo. Washington Traded

Store 140 Years Old, Second Oldest In United States To Be Preserved.

Alexandria, Va., July 17.—Virginians in this little town just eight miles across the Potomac river from Washington, have organized a society to save the 140-year-old drug store at which George Washington traded.

"They voted to call themselves 'The Society for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities.' And after quoting Governor John G. Pollard as saying that history will be Virginia's chief industry for the next generation they pledged $425 to buy the stocks of the Leadbeater drug store when they go on auction sale next Wednesday.

The drug store is the second oldest in the United States, those who have made a study saying first honor goes to one at Bethlehem, Pa.

In nearly a century and a half, the Leadbeater family of Quakers accumulated an amazing stock—rare bottles, ancient mixers, peculiar scales. Some of it may not be worth anything, so the new society asked representatives of the American Pharmaceutical association to make an appraisal and a recommendation, intending to buy in one block the things he selects.

Side Quit Hurting, Got Stronger, Well; CARDUI Helped Her

Mrs. R. L. West, of Huntsville, Ala., writes: "I was weak and run-down. I had a pain in my side, and I kept losing weight. I grew nervous over my condition—this was unusual for me, for I am very cheerful when I am well and don't easily get nervous. I knew I ought to take something. My aunt told me I ought to try Cardui, which I did. I began to feel better. I kept it up until I had taken three or four bottles. My side quit hurting, and I was soon feeling strong and well."

Cardui is sold at drug stores here.

Feed Prisoners For Less Than 10c Day In State Road Camps

Figuring Prison Labor At 65c A Day It Netted $83,638 For Eleven Months.

(Special To The Star)

Raleigh, July 17.—Less than 10 cents a day, 9.87 cents, was required to feed each of the prisoners in the road camps of North Carolina during the nine months period ending March 31, 1933, while the total costs of operating the road camps per man per day for the same period was slightly more than 52 cents, a report submitted to the new Highway and Public Works Commission shows.

The net profit from prison labor figured at 65 cents a day, for the 11 months ending June 1, last, was $83,638.31, the same report shows. The total number of prisoners handled since July 1, 1931, when the road prison camps started, has been 30,700, the camps starting with 3,850 prisoners and having on June 30, last, 4,800 prisoners. The camps received 26,316 since starting and released 23,800. Of the 266 paroled, 13 had the paroles revoked and of the 1,281 escaping in 1932, 721 have been returned. They were fully pardoned, 37 died and 215 were released upon court order. Of the total number handled, 11,831 were white, 18,926 were colored and 243 were Indians.
