On Saturdays the stores will remain open from 8 to 9 o'clock, one hour later in the evening than heretofore.

Convicts Captured; Guard Is Retained

All Four Shot By Grady Withrow

Hollis Storekeeper Shoots Escaped Convicts, All Back In Camp.

Everything was tranquil again today at the state prison camp just east of Shelby following the capture and return to camp yesterday of the four remaining convicts, of the six who escaped Tuesday. The two others had been previously captured.

The quartet, all negro long-termers were rounded up in the Hollis section of Rutherford county early Thursday morning, officers and possemen closing in upon them after Grady Withrow, well known Hollis merchant, had used his double-barrelled shot gun with good effect. At the prison camp today Clyde Poston and Tom Osborne, camp officials, stated that all four were back in their quarters, none of them seriously shot but one or two rather painfully wounded. Mr. Withrow sprinkled them pretty well with shot on the lower limbs and lower portion of the body.

Near Store
Around 4 o'clock yesterday morning Mr. Withrow, suspecting that the escaped convicts might break in his store to secure supplies and perhaps guns and ammunition, secreted himself near the store. Shortly thereafter the negroes approached the store in a huddle, and after yelling at them the Hollis merchant opened up with both barrels. Two ran but were soon captured and the two others gave up later in the morning.

Guard Not Fired
The Raleigh News and Observer stated this morning that Guard D. J. Moss, who was overpowered when the six convicts escaped near New House Tuesday morning, and Guard Julian Briggs, who was guarding the five prisoners who escaped the same day at the Caladonia prison farm near Raleigh, had been relieved of their jobs. This statement was credited to Jack Roach, chief deputy of the state prison division.

At the camp here this morning, however, it was said that the report was erroneous as to Guard Moss who has been retained. Upon first reports of the Tuesday morning escape prison officials at Raleigh sent Division Supt. Pitts here with orders that if Guard Moss was out of (Continued on Page 8)

Dry Forces Meet Oct. 7th To Name Their Candidate

Dry forces are called to meet in the court house in Shelby, Saturday afternoon Oct. 7th at 2:30 o'clock for the purpose of nominating a dry candidate.

At a recent meeting of a group of dries it was decided to nominate George P. Webb as the dry candidate so his name will be put before the mass meeting in the court house on Oct. 7th for acceptance.

Mr. Webb served Cleveland county as clerk of the court for many years and is prominent in Sunday school and church affairs. It is understood he has consented to become a candidate and petitions have been circulated throughout the county and freely signed, pledging their support of him and the dry cause.

It is urged that each voting precinct in the county send delegates to this convention. Any dry voter may consider himself or herself a candidate.

The election will be held Nov. 7th in North Carolina on repeal of the 18th amendment and those who were qualified to vote in the governor's race last year are entitled to vote on Nov. 7th without re-registering. Those who are not registered may have their names placed on the poll books of their precinct on Oct. 28th.

It is expected that a large crowd will attend the convention to select the dry candidate. Every county in North Carolina has been organized and the dry forces have selected dry candidates. Cleveland is the last to complete its organization, but some very effective work has been going on it is understood.

He had been with King and several others on a party in the southeast section of the county, it was said, and first reports stated that the stab was accidentally received when Chandler fell. Officers were not satisfied with that explanation, and have worked up considerable new evidence, it is reported.

To Move Tenants In Post Office Site In 30 Days

Just What Order Means Is Not Known. May Start Work Soon.

An order received this week by Postmaster J. H. Quinn may or may not mean that work will start soon on the enlarging of the Shelby post office. Anyway, something is in the air.

The letter to the Shelby postmaster from the post office department instructed him to notify tenants in the Hoey building to the rear of the post office to be ready to move out within 30 days.

This property has been purchased by the government for additional ground space for the enlarged post office. This notice may mean that the building is to be demolished soon or possibly that it may be used as temporary quarters for the post office while the main building is being enlarged.

Conduct At Fair Above The Usual

Only 34 Arrested At Fair And In City During Week. No Gambling Complaints.

County recorder's court has been grinding away on the minor fair charges, but the dockets have been lighter than at past fairs.

So far Sheriff Cline said today there has not been a complaint made about the operation of stands and concessions along the midway, it being the first year that complaints have not poured in, but this year all money gaming devices were barred.
