City Approves Directory Here

Lions Club Gets City's Approval To Issue Directory. Bank Approved As Depository.

The city approved a plan by the Lions club to issue a city directory for Shelby at its first of the month meeting last night at the city hall. The Lions club proposes to designate numbers for the houses and vacant lots and ask the residents to buy them at a nominal non-profit price, after which a census will be taken and all data compiled for a complete directory, properly classified. The city will go to no expense in the matter.

Mayor McMurry reported that he had written letters to two property owners who had covered residences with wooden shingles in violation of the city's fire code, but no reply had been made to the notices to remove the wooden shingles and replace with fire-proof or semi-fire-proof roofs. They have thirty days to act. The fire rating bureau threatens a ten percent increase in all insured property if the wooden shingle ordinance is violated. The First National bank was again approved as a city depository for funds. Each year the city is required to designate a depository, wherein public funds are protected by bonds.

They said Morgenthau had authorized them to announce that any farmer who was in danger of

Asks Landlords To Pay Poll Tax For Their Tenants

County Auditor McKinney Suggests Landlords Paying And Deducting To Save School Levy.

Landlords are asked to pay poll tax and personal property tax for their tenants and deduct the amount from the tenants part of the cotton in order to abolish the two cent special school tax levy, by County Auditor Troy McKinney. McKinney made the following public appeal today to the taxpayers in Cleveland county: "At present we have on the books of Cleveland county approximately $15,000 of uncollected Poll tax and personal property tax. The greater part of this tax was listed by tenants and due to the low prices of cotton for the past three years they have been unable to pay. However, with the price now above 10 cents I see no reason why those back years could not be paid by the landlord and deducted from the tenant's cotton.

County Publishes Financial Report

Spent $6,394 Less Than Budget Estimate And Had $90,000 Cash June 30th.

Cleveland county's annual financial statement (not including the school fund) is published in today's issue of The Star as is required by law and reveals two very interesting facts. At the end of the fiscal year, June 30th, the county had $90,195 cash on hand and operated $6,394 under the budget estimate of the year's expense. There were deficits in the state school fund and the county schools and special schools which made it necessary to put two cents in the tax levy this year to make up for non-payment of poll tax and personal property tax of those who did not own real estate. This deficit in the school was due to the decrease in revenue from poll tax, court fines and forfeitures which ordinarily go to the support of the schools.

Fair Week Gives Court Big Grind

County Court Disposes Of Over 100 Cases. Many Driving Drunk.

Fair week resulted in a busy week for the Cleveland county recorder's court, it was learned today. There were very few serious charges in the many cases, the most serious being that of driving drunk, quite a number being given a hearing on that charge.

foreclosure or eviction might telegraph him—collect—and the case would be taken up directly with the creditor in an effort to refinance the farmer's mortgage debt. "Morgenthau told us it was the farm credit administration's job to prevent foreclosures and evictions, and that he wanted the problem thrown in his lap," said E. E. Kennedy, secretary of the National Farmers' union and spokesman of the delegation. The group is preparing a "code for agriculture" for submission to the NRA. (Continued on Page 8)

Tax Foreclosure For '30, '31 Tax Comes On Nov. 1

Discount No Longer For Two Years

Total Of $17,800 Unpaid Turned Over To Attorney For Collection.

The 10 percent discount on all advertised and unpaid 1930 and 1931 Cleveland county taxes was discontinued by the county commissioners this week and the list turned over to Peyton McSwain county attorney for collection. That portion not collected by the first of November will be entered in foreclosure suits as ordered by law.

For some time the county has been giving a 10 percent discount, but with this discontinued taxpayers must pay the full amount of the taxes for the two years plus the advertising cost but without interest or penalty. In the two years the unpaid amount totals $17,803, the 1930 tax being $5,185 and the 1931 tax $12,618. The major portion of the commissioners' session this week was given over to a study and approval of county bills and a discussion of taxes, collections, etc.

When brought to jail Ballard was charged with tearing off the window facing, perhaps in an attempt to escape. He was given six months on the first charge, and then six months on the second when Solicitor "Cobby" Horn contended that "I believe since he has been stealing everything that he must have been trying to get the window weights out of the jail in tearing off that facing."
