Department Store Head Notes Change In Summer Styles

The Trend's Forward Cotton, declares D. R. Yates, Manager Of Penney Store.

D. R. Yates, manager of Penney's store in Shelby is one of the many successful merchandisers who understands the value of promoting the south's greatest crop. Commenting on Cotton Week, Mr. Yates said:

This event, frankly, did not mean a great deal when it made its modest debut in 1929. But it has been growing by leaps and bounds; last year it was a real success, this year promises to be another record breaker by a wide margin.

"It Means Progress" This national presentation means business. It means great public demonstrations. It means progress.

We who are so vitally interested in the production of cotton must realize the necessity of promoting our own industry.

Time isn't the only thing that marches on! Look at the way style is stepping along. Then make a brief mental survey of the great stores featuring cotton clothing today. What were they featuring four or five years ago? You remember, don't you. Look at the store windows today. Everywhere people want to be cool and comfortable and clean and smart at the same time. It's the style parade that did it.

If you want to appreciate the full extent of the last few years' progress, just compare the present with the good old days. You'll not only appreciate what the March of Style has done for us, but, more important still, what it promises to do.

The Davidson County farmers' exchange has a new warehouse at Lexington 30x80 feet, and more than 500 persons visited the building on opening day last week.

Clyde A. Ervin To Give Address At New Prospect

Prominent Education Official To Speak At Annual Memorial Services.

(Special to The Star.) The annual memorial services will be held at New Prospect church next Sunday, May 20. The following program has been arranged: 10 a. m. song service; at 10:15 reading of the Sunday school lesson by Supt. Zeno Hard followed by prayer. At 10:30 Clyde A. Ervin, Supt. of schools of Rutherford county will deliver an address. This will be followed by special music. About 11:15 Rev. B. P. Parks, pastor of Elizabeth church will preach. After the services have been conducted there will be dinner on the ground. Come and be with us at one of the oldest churches in the county. All who have friends and relatives buried at New Prospect are request to meet Thursday morning for the purpose of cleaning off the cemetery.

A Forsyth farmer has salvaged 25,000 feet of timber and over 30 cords of fire wood from his woodland damaged by the late sleet storm, this winter.

Increase Shown In Cotton Consumed

NEW YORK, May 13.—The New York cotton exchange service estimates consumption of cotton by domestic mills in April at $20,900 bales against 543,000 bales in March and 470,000 bales in April, 1933.
