Bulwinkle Has 28,695, Jones 25,898 In House Contest

Congressman Goes To Washington With Congratulations Of Opponent.

With the echoes of victory ringing in his ears, Congressman A. L. Bulwinkle of Gastonia left last night for Washington for the wind-up of congress. He received congratulations from his opponent, Hamilton C. Jones, of Charlotte, just before he left.

Major Bulwinkle's majority was relatively small, but he was in good spirits yesterday as he prepared to depart.

A recapitulation of the vote this morning, as a few outlying precincts still straggled in, showed that Bulwinkle received 28,695 votes, Jones 25,898. Two hundred and thirty-nine out of 256 had been tabulated.

Cleveland For Jones. In Cleveland county, pre-election predictions were followed almost to the letter, and Jones took 20 out of 26 precincts, getting 4,513 votes to 3,637 for Bulwinkle. In the district race, Bulwinkle captured the following counties: Burke, Avery, Gaston, Lincoln, Madison and Yancey.

Jones held his own county, Mecklenburg, with 10,481 to 7,795. In Gaston, the vote was: Bulwinkle, 7,509; Jones, 4,431.

Solid For Spurling. Cleveland gave L. S. Spurling, who was reared near Fallston, all of her 26 precincts in his victory for the solicitorship of the sixteenth judicial district over T. F. Cummings, formerly of Kings Mountain. Spurling carried 82 out of 125 precincts in the district, to win by a vote of 13,658 to 4,302 for Cummings.

In the county, the vote was Spurling 6,273, Cummings 1,363. In the utilities commissioner race, Stanley Winborne's victory was boosted in Cleveland by another clean sweep of all precincts. Winborne received a vote of 3,540, while E. C. Macon received 1,966.

House Confers Pleased To Learn Major Will Return To His Seat There.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—House administration leaders including Speaker Henry T. Rainey and Democratic Majority Leader Joseph W. Byrns breathed easier today with reports from Charlotte that Representative A. L. Bulwinkle was far in the lead for nomination for re-election.

While the fact was apparently never broached in the Bulwinkle-Jones contest to represent the tenth district in 74th congress, the result had important bearing on the organization of the next house, and the outcome national import. The defeat of Bulwinkle would have

Farm Work Stops Because Of Rain

Grass Is Growing, Grain Is Ready For Harvest But Reapers Can't Get In Fields.

Heavy rains for nearly a week retarded farm work. Much of the cotton in the county has not been thinned, the grass is growing rapidly and ripe grain is ready for the reapers, yet the harvest cannot go on until the rain ceases and the binders will not mire in the fields.

It has rained every day for a week, following the high winds of last Sunday and Monday. The rains have been general over the south and cotton has been bounding upward on the exchanges. Much damage was done to the early peach crop, gardens and to field crops by the high winds of early last week. Farmers have been anxious to get back into the fields to do needed work, but daily showers prevent this.

Back To House

Major A. L. Bulwinkle of Gastonia, who was re-nominated by the Democratic party to represent the tenth district in the congress of the United States.

Shelby Crowd Cheers News Textile Strike Is Averted; NRA To Probe Difficulties

General Walkout Of More Than 300,000 Workers Is Side-Tracked In Last Minute Conferences In Washington.

A crowd of more than 2,500 in front of The Star office Saturday night cheered the announcement that the proposed general textile strike had been averted at the last minute.

The strike, called by Thomas F. McMahon, president of the United Textile Workers of America, would have thrown more than 300,000 textile employees out of work in Cleveland county, and particularly in Shelby, business and industry would have been stalemated. Members of the local union had voted, in a meeting Saturday morning, to follow McMahon's directions.

In averting the walkout, the government, after days of peace-making efforts, obtained an agreement to suspend all overt acts until after a detailed survey had been made by the NRA of the interlocked questions.

Postoffice Here Among Projects Listed By Appropriations Body

In specifically earmarking $65,000,000 for public buildings out of the deficiency appropriation bill yesterday, the house committee on appropriations apparently made certain the $60,000 post office project for Shelby. The project was originally $80,000, but $20,000 has already been spent.

The bill provides that the money shall be allocated by the secretary of the treasury and the postmaster general instead of by the Public Works administrator, thus insuring, in the opinion of the congressmen, greater attention for projects which they favor.

The report on the bill lists a total of 810 projects which would cost $150,000,000. Included in the list of projects already authorized by congress, but not yet allotted for, are the following North Carolina projects, with the cost of each: Albemarle, $68,000; Dunn, $78,000; Fayetteville, $95,000; Gastonia, $115,000; Morganton, $82,000; Raleigh, $350,000; Reidsville, $200,000; Rockingham, $165,000; Sanford, $84,000; Shelby, $60,000; Southern Pines $77,000; Wilmington, $110,000; Winston-Salem, $350,000.

Gardner Is Visitor Over Week-End; Favors 36 Hours

Leaves Today To Attend Meeting Of Trustees Of Greater University Of N. C.

Ex-Governor O. Max Gardner was a visitor in his old home-town over the week-end. He came down to be at the bedside of his mother-in-law, Mrs. J. L. Webb who suffered a slight stroke of paralysis a few weeks ago. Mrs. Webb is slowly improving. Mrs. Gardner is in New York for a few days visiting their daughter, Mrs. Eugene Burgess.

Favors Shorter Hours. Mr. Gardner expressed himself as well pleased that the threatened textile strike has been averted. Sitting in as an advisor to George Sloan, head of the textile institute when the controversy arose between the textile manufacturers and labor, it became an open secret that Governor Gardner and Mr. Sloan were part of the minority in the Textile Institute who favored offsetting any curtailment of hours with a corresponding increase in hourly wages.

When the textile code was adopted providing for two forty-hour work shifts a week, many mills had been running only one shift. The code, therefore was an invitation for all one-shift mills to operate forty hours a week and this has brought about over-production. Instead of a curtailment program during the three summer months, the Governor is inclined to two thirty-six hour shifts with no reduction in wages. Standing in the way of this, however, is the sales resistance the manufactured goods would meet due to a further increase in prices.

The ex-Governor is looking well, in fact better than he did when his term of office as chief executive expired. He doesn't have that careworn and strained expression that was noticeable after four years in Raleigh. Today he went to Raleigh where he attends a trustee meeting of the University of North Carolina. There he will get a report on how the consolidation plan for the state's three higher institutions is working out. The Governor is very proud of the leading part he had in combining the three largest state schools for he is convinced that it will save money, stop the overlapping in courses of studies, etc.

Mrs. Curtis Dies Near Mooresboro

Thirty-Eight Year Old Wife Of Dewey Curtis Succumbs to Heart Trouble.

Mrs. Dovie Curtis, age 38, died at her home near Mooresboro Friday. Her death resulted from an illness with heart trouble. She was the wife of Dewey Curtis, well known farmer of that section, who himself has been seriously ill for the past four weeks with pneumonia. His condition is considered very critical.

Funeral services for Mrs. Curtis were held at the Sandy Run Baptist church Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The rites were conducted by the Rev. Vess Jones of Mooresboro, pastor of the Sandy Run church.

Newton Leads Ticket; Hamrick Beats Four; Old Board Endorsed

Vote By Counties

The vote by counties in the Bulwinkle-Jones congressional race, with 239 out of 256 precincts reported, stands this morning as follows:

Table with columns: Counties, Boxes Reported, Total Boxes, Bulwinkle, Jones. Rows include Avery, Burke, Catawba, Cleveland, Gaston, Lincoln, Madison, Mecklenburg, Yancey, Mitchell, and Total.

Herndon Leads Race As Commissioners Go Back In

Weathers Beats Wright For Recorder; Gardner And Smith May Run-Off.

Casting over 8,000 votes in the primary Saturday, the Democrats of Cleveland county showed a decided liking for present officers by re-electing them to succeed themselves, except for a change for county recorder.

Andy Newton polled the largest vote and lead the ticket in his race against W. A. Ridenhour of Kings Mountain for register of deeds.

Hamrick Beats Four

Lester Herndon lead the ticket for county commissioner. A. M. Hamrick bested his four opponents for the four year office of clerk of court. Ernest Gardner has a strong lead over J. B. Smith for house of representatives but is subject to a second primary with his nearest rival if Smith sees fit to ask for it.

Cleveland county voted unanimously to keep Winborne in as state utilities commissioner and retain Spurgeon Spurling of Lenoir as solicitor of this district. Both Spurling and his opponent, Theodore F. Cummings of Hickory are natives of Cleveland, but Cleveland was truer to the incumbent Spurling and Spurling's adopted county of Caldwell gave Cummings only 21 votes with all the balance to Spurling.

Thompson's Majority Small

Unofficial returns give Carl Thompson a majority of only 95 over W. E. White for the state senate in this district. Thompson carried only 12 of the 26 precincts, while 14 went for White. Thompson's strength was in three Shelby boxes, while White got two of the Shelby pick up lead—STREAMER—front boxes by slight majorities.

Ernest Gardner has a lead of 542 over his nearest opponent J. B. Smith of Waco for house of representatives. Gardner polled 2,411 votes, Smith 1,869, Allen 1,547, Falls 1,075 and Mull 705. Not having a majority of the votes cast, Gardner may be called into a second primary with J. B. Smith. Mr. Smith announced Saturday night that he had not decided whether he would ask for a second primary, but would decide in a few days and make public announcement through The Star.

He wishes to consult his friends and also consider the expense a second primary would cost the county. Then, too, when the official vote is tabulated this week, the result might change, although it will hardly reveal a change in the results.

Bailey Will Support Revival Of Monazite

Senator Writes Dr. S. S. Royster That He Is Interested In Bringing Back The Industry.

Noting a communication in The Cleveland Star written by Dr. S. S. Royster urging that steps be taken to revive the monazite industry in Cleveland county, Senator J. W. Bailey of Washington writes that he is much concerned about bringing back the industry which at one time was a great source of revenue to the farmers and land owners in this section.

The mining of monazite was at one time a very profitable industry for Cleveland county and other sections in Western North Carolina, but the tariff duty was removed and monazite from Brazil was allowed to be brought in at a much cheaper price.

Senator Bailey has interested himself in the matter and is getting what information he can from sources in Washington. He says he will lend his influence toward restoring the industry in Western Carolina.
