Fair and Colder

Weather forecast for North Carolina: Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, with rising temperature Tuesday.

Face Party Rows

Troublesome re-organization problems confront both the huge Democratic majority and the small Republican minority in both houses of Congress. The Democrats are embroiled in selection of a speaker, and some of the Western Republicans want their party liberalized. Both party groups will hold secret caucuses late in December to decide these issues.

Business Booms

From far and near come reports of expanding, better business. Most business barometers have been gaining since Labor Day, in contrast to last year. Retail trade has quickened during the last 10 weeks. Inventories have been reduced and consumer demand is on the up.

Gridiron To Senate

Senator Huey P. Long ruler of the serfdom of Louisiana and football coach extraordinary, has called a two-year moratorium on all debts in his state and has put a football star in the state senate. The grid man is Abe Mickal, who lives in Mississippi, but that doesn't matter to the Fish. "Mississippi has annexed itself to Louisiana," he said.

Graham Heads Board

A 10-point plan through which the administration hopes to take men and women out of the bread and soup lines is gradually taking shape under the committee of economic security. To aid this committee, composed of four cabinet members and Relief Administrator Hopkins, President Roosevelt has named an advisory council composed of 19 men and women, headed by Dr. Frank P. Graham, president of the University of North Carolina. Unemployment insurance and old age pensions top the program of the committee.

Weds Film Actor

Ellen Wilson McAdoo, granddaughter of the late President Woodrow Wilson, and Ralph Lopez de Onate, film actor, overcame the last obstacle of their romance and were married quietly yesterday and then left Albuquerque by airplane with the blessings of the bride's father, William Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury. The wedding had been postponed until the actor gave proof that he was Spanish, and not of Malay extraction.

Boy Scouts Get Free Movie Tuesday

A free moving picture is one of the special features of a district scout rally to be held at the high school building Tuesday night, November 13 at 7:30 o'clock. All Shelby and Cleveland county troops, with the exception of the Kings Mountain special district, are especially invited to be present. Scouts, scouters, parents, teachers and other citizens are asked to be present at the "round-up."

Plate Glass Front Installed At Star

A new plate glass front is being put in at the Star office building to improve the front appearance and permit a better arrangement of the inside office space. The front will be stuccoed and there will be one main door entrance instead of two. Gups Evans, contractor, is doing the job, which will be finished in a few days.

General Board Meets At Church Monday

The General Board of the Kings Mountain Baptist Association will meet Monday morning next at 10 o'clock at the First Baptist church. It was announced today by the Rev. John W. Suttle, moderator before leaving for New Bern to attend the State convention.

First Ice Seen On River Banks

Cleveland's first taste of winter came last night. Thermometers in Shelby dropped the mercury to just six above freezing and in the county, along low river banks, there were thin edges of ice. Mars Hill, near Asheville, reports snow flurries this morning.

Cobb Will Tell Aims Of Cotton Reduction; To Poll Bankhead Bill

Chief Of AAA Section To Speak Here Tuesday; Farm Bureau Plans To Shift Rules In Setting Up Program For '35

Enormous interest to all persons who make their livelihood by producing or selling cotton attaches to the scheduled address of C. A. Cobb, chief of the cotton production section of the AAA, and Dean I. O. Schaub of State College, head of the state extension service. They will speak Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock in the court house.

Al Smith Arrested On Wet Charge

Alfred E. Smith was sentenced here Saturday for public drunkenness. Kings Mountain deputies, who brought him before Judge Joseph Wright in Recorder's court, said that Mr. Smith was wandering around the town looking for his automobile, which, he said, had four flat tires. The officers found the car (which had no flats) and brought Mr. Smith in. He wore no brown derby and, so far as he knows, is no kin to the man who made that hat famous.

Teachers Saved Credit Of State, Declares Martin

"Time To Give Them Credit," Says Editor Proposing New Plan To Finance Schools.

"The teachers of North Carolina for two years have saved the credit of this state. That's a great honor. Believing in the rotation of honors, and it is time now for somebody else to have that honor, even if we have to call on the bondholders to help."

Sanford Martin, editor of the Winston-Salem Journal and the Twin-City Sentinel, paid this tribute to the state's teachers at a dinner here Friday night, attended by more than 200 in observance of National Education week. The American Legion sponsored the dinner. Mr. Martin was introduced by Clyde R. Hoey, who himself was introduced by Commander Everett Houser as "the next governor of North Carolina—if he wants to be." B. L. Smith, superintendent of the Shelby public schools, spoke in high praise of the loyal teachers, and Judge Bismarck Capps of Gastonia, president of the Piedmont council Boy Scouts of America, urged the gathering to support his organization.

Civic Clubs Attend
The meeting was attended by Legionnaires, Rotarians, Kiwanians, Lions, teachers and members of the P. T. A.

"Our credit was saved by spending $12,225,000 less for schools than we spent in 1930-31," Mr. Martin said. "Back then we spent $28,000,000."

"Textile workers struck this year because of alleged stretchout. Their wages, however, were not cut. The teachers have been stretched out, slashed and stretched again. But they have stood by their posts."

Two Emergencies
The state faces two great emergencies in education, the editor said; first, the immediate deficit of $700,000 in the school fund. He suggested that this be met by applying for part of the $48,000,000 the federal government has set up for education, and that teachers' salaries be raised. He wants the state to apply for $1,200,000 instead of a half million.

"If we can't get that, use the highway fund," he said. "There's a

1935 General Assembly Has 156 Democrats And 12 Of GOP Faith

RALEIGH, Nov. 12.—The 1935 general assembly of North Carolina will be composed of 48 Democrats and 107 Republicans in the senate and 107 Democrats, one independent Democrat and 12 Republicans in the house of representatives, a complete compilation of the returns of the election last Tuesday show, unofficially, and with one or two of the contests subject to investigation by the state board of elections.

The Republicans have senators from the same two districts represented by that party in the 1933 assembly, the 24th and the 30th. The Republicans gained four seats in the house over the minimum representation of eight in the landslide for Democracy in 1931. They added six counties, but lost two for

Sees Bigger Farm Income

Professor William I. Myers A Long Island farm

"Brain Trustee" William I. Myers is one New Dealer who is taking particular delight in statistics that America's farm income this year will exceed 1933's total by $1,000,000,000. Professor Myers is governor of the Farm Credit Administration which pumps credit for seeds, machinery, mortgages and other agricultural debts through the proper channels to aid America's farmers. For generations Dr. Myers' ancestors have tilled the soil in western New York, and the Cornell professor prefers farm life. He had a national reputation as an expert in farm management and finance.

Board Acts Today To Get Subsistence Home Project

Cleveland And Gaston Commissioners Hold Joint Conference This Afternoon; Hopkins Asks Billion And Half

The Cleveland Board of County Commissioners began a conference at 2 o'clock this afternoon with the Gaston board of commissioners in Gastonia in an effort to promote speedy establishment of subsistence homesteads in the two counties.

Baptists Meet At New Bern Today

Dr. Wall Of First Baptist Church To Preside Over Sessions For Second Time.

Today the Baptist state convention meets at New Bern and the sessions will be presided over by Dr. Zeno Wall, pastor of the First Baptist church, Shelby, president, who is rounding out his second year.

Dr. and Mrs. Wall left yesterday and spent the night with their son, Yates, at Wake Forest. Leaving today to attend the New Bern sessions are Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Elam Rev. and Mrs. John W. Suttle, Judge E. Y. Webb, and possibly Revs. A. P. Hamby, C. V. Martin and others. Dr. Wall in leaving says this is the first time the Baptist state convention has met in New Bern in 125 years. An attendance of from 1,200 to 1,500 is looked for and elaborate entertainment has been provided by the New Bern people. At the convention last year the Baptists were grateful for the sweeping victory at the polls when North Carolina voted dry. This year, Dr. Wall says the convention will give thanks for the economic recovery in the state and Dr. L. R. Pruekt of Charlotte will offer the prayer for material blessings.

Rev. Mr. Suttle, moderator of the Kings Mountain association has been sick for two weeks but has sufficiently recovered to get up and attend the trip today.

Scout Pictures To Be Shown Tuesday

R. M. Schiele, executive of the Piedmont council, Boy Scouts of America, will show pictures at the Central high school building Tuesday evening of the activities of the Boys Scout from this council at Lake Lanier this summer. The showing of the pictures will begin at 7:30 o'clock. All scouts, parents, and boys interested in scouting are invited to attend. There will be no charge.

One Killed, 12 Injured In Week-end Car Crashes

Armistice Day Program Draws Large Audience

Morning Service At Lutheran And Union Service At Baptist Church.

Two impressive church services marked the observance Shelby Sunday of Armistice day.

Veterans of the World war and members of the American legion auxiliary met at 10:45 o'clock in front of the Confederate monument and marched in a body to the Lutheran church where they heard a splendid Armistice day sermon by Rev. E. C. Cooper, who declared the greatest move toward peace in years was the proposal, backed by the solid membership of the American legion that there will be no more profits in war for anybody.

Legion Proposal
He was discussing the universal draft act, proposal of which was begun in the legion in 1920 and the fight for which has never stopped. He also lauded the legion for its efforts in taking care of wounded and sick veterans. The legion, he declared, realized before any political figures or any other group the tremendous job and the absolute need of taking care of those who were incapacitated during the war. A huge throng attended the joint memorial service held at the First Baptist church at 7:30 o'clock at which all pastors of uptown churches took part. Veterans, members of the auxiliary and their families, together with the general public, practically filled the huge auditorium.

Seefeldt Presides
Rev. H. C. Seefeldt, assistant pastor of the Baptist church, presided, in the absence of Dr. Zeno Wall. Rev. H. E. Waldrop delivered the invocation. Rev. H. N. McDermott read the scripture lesson, Rev. E. K. McLary delivered a brief address, Everett Houser, commander of the local legion post read the names of the 31 Cleveland county men who died in active service and Rev. E. C. Cooper pronounced the benediction.

Choirs of the uptown churches combined to lead the musical program which was greatly enjoyed by the audience. An American legion quartet gave a number as did Miss Nettie Rayle, musical director of Central Methodist church and the Rev. H. C. Seefeldt sang a solo. Taps were blown by Buddie Young as veterans stood at attention, other members of the congregation standing with bowed heads.

Rural Letter Men Meet In Kings Mtn.

The Cleveland County Rural Letter Carriers will meet here Tuesday evening. The meeting will be held in the form of a banquet in the dining room of the Woman's Club with the ladies of the Methodist church serving the meal. All substitute carriers, retired carriers and all postmasters are invited to attend the meeting with the regular carriers.

The program for the evening is as follows:

Song, America; Invocation by Rev. C. K. Derrick, pastor of the Kings Mountain Lutheran church; Address of Welcome, J. E. Herndon, mayor of Kings Mountain; Response by W. J. Allrand of Cherryville; Music, Boiling Springs Glee Club; Reading, Miss Agnes Weaver, Grover; Address, J. S. Hiatt, presiding elder of Gastonia; Solo, member of the Boiling Springs Glee Club; Discussion Postal Problems; Miscellaneous business and adjournment.

Hold Union Meet In Kings Mountain

Auxiliary And Legion Observe Armistice Day As All Churches Co-operate.

KINGS MOUNTAIN, Nov. 12.—A union service observing Armistice day was held here yesterday with all the churches in the city taking part in the program. The general meeting was at the First Baptist church.

Chief Urges Jail For Speedsters

Chief of Police D. D. Wilkins, appalled this morning by a more than normal number of automobile accidents here and throughout the state, said in a statement to The Star that there was only one remedy:

"Fix a minimum of two years in prison, or work on the roads, regardless of rich or poor. Make it impossible to get out of this sentence by paying a fine. "State automobile drivers' licenses and safety conferences are both. Moreover, the courts don't enforce even the laws we have. I never heard of a man being arrested for speeding in this county."

Motor Club Asks Drivers Licenses To End Accidents

Not For Revenue But As Means Of Regulation; Ask More Highway Improvement.

Directors of the Carolina Motor Club have approved the proposed plan for a State-wide driver's license law for regulatory purposes only, and adopted a report calling for increase appropriation for highway maintenance and advocating discontinuance of a new road construction for a period of years.

The reports were made by committees which have been studying major phases of automotive safety and taxation for the past year. They strongly opposed diversion of highway revenue, and called upon the Federal government to stop "baiting" North Carolina into construction of new roads until they are needed.

Dr. Malcolm McDermott of Duke University, presented the report of the motor vehicle taxation committee which is headed by E. C. Brooks, Jr., of Durham. The highway safety report was submitted by John W. Aiken of Hickory, former State Senator, who regretted that the roads committee of the 1933 Senate refused to consider a proposed driver's license law.

Both committee reports will be published and made available to the public as soon as possible. Coleman W. Roberts, president of the Carolina Motor Club, stated, Geo. Stansbury, of Greensboro, chairman of the board of directors, presided over the meeting.

Sees Driver License.
Mr. Aiken predicted that a driver's license law bill "will pass the next legislature almost unopposedly because of the demand being made for highway safety by the people of North Carolina."

The plan his committee proposed would not be revenue-raising. One year's driving experience would be prima facie evidence of a motorist's qualification, while those without experience would be examined by the State Motor Vehicle Bureau before securing licenses. No person under 16 would be allowed to qualify.

President Coleman said the State in order to enforce such a law, should appropriate $1,000,000 for the motor vehicle bureau, and increase the strength of the highway patrol to 200 men. In addition, he said, there should be a safety education division in the bureau.

Dr. McDermott sounded the keynote of his committee's report when he said "the motorists of North Carolina are bearing enough tax burdens."

Mance Nance Dies Under Automobile In Grover Wreck

Five White Boys And Negro Hit; Greenville Party In Wreck; Dr. Gibbs Is Injured.

One Cleveland county man was killed and a dozen other persons escaped serious injuries by miraculous margins in a continual crash of automobile accidents yesterday and Saturday. Mance Nance of Kings Mountain, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Len Nance, who live near the battleground, was instantly killed late Saturday afternoon near Grover, N. C. Richard Rollins, of near Grover, escaped serious injury.

The car left the road and turned over, crushing young Nance's body. Rollins, hurled from the car, was bruised and cut.

Near Shelby, ambulance and police answered a number of calls as speeding automobiles hurtled one against the other.

Hurt In Crash.

Five white boys and one negro were bruised and cut Sunday afternoon when two cars collided at the road intersection at the fair ground filling station. In one car were Evans Lackey, Paul McGinty, Will Arey, Jr., Stough Wray and Jack Baber, while Morris Lipscomb and Quinn Bridges both colored, occupied a 1927 Packard. Paul McGinty received a broken collar bone and his companions were bruised and cut, but not seriously. Lipscomb has a bad gash over the forehead, but his companion Bridges was unhurt. Both cars were badly damaged.

Hurt In Crash.

Dr. E. W. Gibbs of West Warren street, Shelby, was driving on Highway 20 at Lineberger street when his automobile was struck by a car driven by Spurgeon Waters, who lives near Bethware, and was reported to have been driving on the left hand side of the road.

Phenomenally, neither driver was badly injured, although both cars were wrecked, considerable damage being done to the doctor's car.

Waters was arrested for drunken driving, jailed, and released on bond for a hearing Saturday.

Greenville Party Crashes.

A party from Greenville, including Mr. and Mrs. Fred Abercrombie and Miss Mary Abercrombie, was given first aid at the Shelby hospital Saturday afternoon after their car skidded on wet pavement into the bridge on the old Kings Mountain road. Miss Mary Abercrombie is still in the hospital with a fractured right arm. Other members of the party were badly cut and bruised, but first aid sufficed.

At 2:30 Saturday afternoon, Bobby Keever, three and a half year old son of G. C. Keever, ran down the slope in front of his home on highway 20 and tumbled into the highway. He was struck by a negro from Kings Mountain and fell under the car, which passed over him without touching his body with a wheel. He was taken to the hospital in an ambulance and given first aid. None of his injuries was serious.

Funeral Services.

Funeral services were held today for Mance Nance, who was killed at Grover, by the Rev. Rush Padgett, at Providence church. Besides his mother and father, the following brothers and sisters survive: Ben Nance of Patterson Springs, Noah Nance of Spindale, J. C. Curtis, Elbert of Kings Mountain; Claude, Annis and John of Gaffney; Mrs. Walter Elliott of Gaffney, and Miss Nellie Mae Nance, who lives with her parents.

Cotton Growers Crowd Office To Get Government Allotments

Unable to serve all their clients through their office door, Bob Shoffner, and Alvin Propst, who have the task of distributing cotton money and gin certificates, this week opened two windows to their court house office and transacted business through them.

For they were swamped with literally thousands of cotton growers some is overalls and some in automobiles, who called for their money or their gin certificates. All day for several days the crowds have smothered entrances to the court house.

Mr. Propst said this morning that about two-thirds of the more than $200,000 cotton reduction allotments had been distributed, and that the rest of it could be handed out by tomorrow if the farmers would call for it. More than 100 certificates on the 10 per cent allowance have been distributed, and about 200 transfers are made daily. In addition to this, the office makes about 200 sales a day from the surplus allotment.

Better Homes Aim Of Study Course

Thirty-five leaders of home demonstration work in the county were present in a meeting Saturday in the court house to hear Miss Pauline Smith, special department teacher on home beautification.
