

Put Forth Big Effort To Gain Ground Lost On Year's Grid Card

Goodson Takes Hopeful Group To Tackle Green Wave; Won Last Year 13-0; Dopesters Let Shelby Win

A greatly encouraged football team left town a little after noon today, headed for Gastonia where they will tackle the Green Wave in a big effort to regain some of the ground lost on their grid ticket this year.

Two or three state news dopesters who specialize in high school football have prophesied Shelby to win over Gastonia, perhaps not so much for Shelby's exceptional team, but for the fact that Coach Morgan's team has not been blazng trails of glory.

Coach Bill Goodson, Shelby mentor said this morning he was much encouraged over the prospects, whether he wins or not. His team is in fair condition, although Roppe, Blanton, Ervin and Smith have minor injuries.

Have New Center
A new center, Jack Price is slated to start the game as he has been showing up well in the drills. Parker has been replacing Sherrill who has been out three weeks with flu and pneumonia.

Gastonia is known to be stronger on their home lot than anywhere else, but the team is said to be built only around Sam Robinson, half-back and Bud Bethune, veteran 180-pound tackle.

Forest City Next
The next game will be with Forest City, next Friday there, and the following week, tentatively set for Thursday, Shelby will see the second night game when Newton comes here.

Making the trip to Gastonia today are Price and Parker, centers; Ervin, Eaker and Weathers, guards; Ropp, Hamrick and Blanton and Justices, tackles; Parris, G. Ervin, Leonard, and Hambricht, ends; Smith, Shytle, Watts, Cashion, Vaughn, Clark and McSwain, back-field.

The game is called at 3:30 o'clock.

Devils Entrain For Atlanta To Engage Jackets

DURHAM, Oct. 18.—With the squad in the best physical condition of the year, Duke's Blue Devils were completing preparations this afternoon and will entrain tonight for Atlanta where Saturday they meet Georgia Tech's Yellow Jackets.

It will be the Blue Devils first return to the place where in their final game of 1933 they dropped their candy and a claim to grid greatness by losing to the Techs, 6-0. The Blue Devils had won nine straight games at that time and met the Jackets in the finale.

Acc. Parker, Duke's great quarter back who has score eight touchdowns this season, returned to work this week after having been out last Saturday against Clemson and will be back at his old post against the Yellow Jackets.

The Blue Devils have spent the week installing new plays to use against the Jackets. There has also been a good portion of the time spent on pass defense and in brushing up other departments.

Saturday's game will be the third between Duke and Georgia Tech in this modern series of games. The annual attraction was inaugurated in 1933 and Tech took that unforgettable contest to give the Blue Devils their lone defeat of the season. Last year, the Blue Devils partly avenged that defeat by taking the Techs in Duke stadium, 20-0.

Dick Daviscourt Wrestles Plummer

CHARLOTTE, Oct. 18.—A master stroke of matchmaking enabled Promoter Jim Crockett to sign Dick Daviscourt, one of the highest-ranking grapplers in the world, for another match at the Armory here Monday night. Crockett obtained the big shot after dickering with the latter's manager for a day and a half.

Daviscourt tangles with Jolting Johnny Plummer, one of the most formidable wrestlers in this section, in the headliner. It will be a long time before fans forget Plummer's three hectic battles with The Goon. Daviscourt smothered El Fischer here last week after a terrific struggle. It was Daviscourt, a thickset fellow with a face like a bulldog, who started all the rough stuff in wrestling in 1928.

Rube Wright, one of the fastest and smoothest pieces of wrestling flesh in the business, tangles with Jim Henry, the Goon, in the semi-final. Wright has topped the card in cities many times larger than Charlotte. He is not as rough as some of the other tusslers, but he is a master of scientific wrestling. Fans here are familiar with the battering, bruising style of The Goon.

From The Sports Box

One of the most unusual and hardly believable occurrences in boxing happened to several Shelby and out of county boys here two years ago. Little was known or said about it at that time and no one seemed to know exactly what was the matter.

Jerome Spangler vaccinated Johnny Harmon of Bessemer City for smallpox and he in turn vaccinated Kayo Kelly and one or two other fellows, before they discovered what it was.

The way it happened was that Jake was doing a little scrapping in Co. K national guard unit. At the same time he was being vaccinated for smallpox. While his arm was still sore and fevered, he had a little round with Harmon, who, a few days later turned up with several sores and inflamed sports on his chest. Before he got well he fought Kelly and one or two others and before it was over he vaccinated them.

Kelly still has several characteristic scars under his chin and on his arm. He said he never expected to have to take a small-pox vaccine again.

Surely is a world of difference folks—in a high school or junior college and a real major college football game. This column was fortunate enough to be lined up with 9,999 other fans the other night when the Deacons played State college.

Forward passes like a dream, blocking that looks like machinery, broken field running, all perfectly timed and executed. And it looks as if all the members are powerful, untiring and impossible to hurt. Carolina and Duke will have to be mighty good to put a crimp in the style of Berlinski and Robinson, the Yankee and Cowboy backs of the Wolfpack.

Our pet office boy, Dusty, was chagrined to death last week when he was allowed to interview all the notables who told him in fine language the things for Shelby to do to win the Kings Mountain game.

Did his feathers fall, when Shelby lost the game? He hasn't been back this week at all. He did venture in at the rear of the building for a drink of water, until he heard somebody mention Kings Mountain. Then he vanished like a pricked soap bubble.

However off in his den somewhere he found courage to write this column a postal.

"Dere Kings Mountain: I wish you had left your Jake Early at home Friday night. It made me lose a mighty good chance for becoming famous. I wouldn't send Carl and Wallace and our other great football friends a copy of The Star. I didn't want them to see how we had fallen down on their confidence.

"Your boys sure do fight. I peeped through the fence enough to see that. We will be fair enough to say that if Shelby can't win the conference flag, we would like for you to win it. By the way, that's a good idea, don't you think? Dusty."

We were built to be optimistic and still believe Shelby has some stuff he hasn't shown. Maybe it will come out in the Gastonia game tomorrow. If they should win, it would change the whole season. If you win, congratulations. If not—well, the girls ought not even so much as smile at you again.

senior and the grand championships. In the Guernsey county groups, first place went to Buncombe, with Davidson second and Burke third. Wilkes county took first place in the corn club show, winning the sweepstakes for the best county exhibit and the best entry of 10 ears of any variety. Blice Hayes, of the Purcell club, entered the latter exhibit.

Carolina Grid Team On Spot, Says Snavelly

CHAPEL HILL, Oct. 18.—As a result of their undefeated record to date, the boys who play football at the University of North Carolina realize they are on the spot now and will continue to be so long as they remain in the victory column. It is a situation that puts a strain on any team and makes the going harder. For this reason Carl Snavelly and his coaching partners, Max Reed and Walter Skidmore, admit they are going to have a lot of anxious moments between now and the end of the Carolina-Davidson game Saturday.

Although the Tar Heels are favored to win, they are expecting a hard fight. Last year the Tar Heels journeyed to the Wildcats lair confident of an overwhelming victory. They came out with a close 12-2 win after getting behind in the first part of the game.

The Davidson backs—Pittman, Lafferty, Dennis, Verble, Armfield, Yarborough—are fast and adapted to a broken field. It will be the purpose of the Carolina line to see that these 'Cats do not get into the open field.

Davidson's passing will come near to matching the Tar Heels' vaunted aerial attack. Paul Pittman will vie with Don Jackson in the tossing role. Tennis Lafferty will be Dick Buck's big rival in pass-snagging.

Polkville Senior Class Has Outing With Miss Stamey

(Special to The Star)
POLKVILLE, Oct. 18.—The senior class of girls of Polkville Sunday school enjoyed a weiner roast on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mary Frances Stamey. Among those enjoying it were: Mrs. W. H. Covington, teacher, Misses Clivie Whisnant, Margaret and Mary Belle Elliott, Hattie Gibbs and Wilma Glenn.

Mrs. C. T. Stamey was hostess to the Womans Missionary Societies of Polkville and Clover Hill churches at her home. Mrs. W. H. Covington presided over the meeting. During the business session the following were appointed as nominating committee to select new officers for the coming year: Mrs. L. C. Palmer, Mrs. A. P. Ramsey and Mrs. Plato Elliott.

A playlet was given with the following taking part: Misses Lizzie Mae Lee, Beulah Philbeck, Mary Sue Bridges, Sarah Belle Elliott and Mary Frances Stamey, and Mesdames Roy White, C. S. Whisnant and Ivey Whisnant.

After the playlet Mrs. C. T. Stamey rendered a very inspiring devotional program.

After the program a social hour was enjoyed together with the hostess serving sandwiches and hot chocolate assisting her was her daughter, Mary Frances and Mrs. Wyatt Stamey.

Ivey Grigg, educational director of the CCC camps of Bryson City was the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Covington Sunday. Mr. Grigg was formerly of this community, and is a cousin of Mr. Covington. Mr. and Mrs. Covington and Mr. Grigg visited the latter's parents of Lincoln county Sunday afternoon.

Miss Virginia Jenkins of the Rehoboth community has accepted a position in the Stamey store at Polkville.

Leon Bridges of Spindale spent the week-end with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bridges and other week-end relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Paxton Elliott and baby of Shelby were visitors in the community Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Whisnant and family of the Zion community visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Whisnant.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Stamey and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Blanton of near Shelby.

sanctions against Italy, while at Geneva the sub-committee on economic sanctions decided the coordination committee of 18 should consider the "Buy Nothing" from Italy proposal.

British spokesmen said that if risks must be run for peace they must be taken collectively and not singly; that Britain has no intention of warring single handedly on Italy.

Russia notified the League it had put into effect an arms embargo and financial sanctions as Premier Laval strove anxiously to maintain peace in the Mediterranean and end hostilities in Ethiopia. British sources said England had not suggested military sanctions, has never proposed and blockade of Italy, and has not suggested closing the Suez. In a statement intended to clarify the British position concerning an aggressor nation. It was said the Italian and French press had created dangerous, erroneous and absurd impressions of the British viewpoint.

Committee Meets Tomorrow.
The League sanctions committee said consideration of economic sanctions are getting too great for it to handle and deemed necessary its consideration by the committee of 18, which meets tomorrow for what observers believe might be a showdown.

Meanwhile, Ethiopian leaders were reported concentrating forces near Makale where it has long been predicted the first major battle of the war will be fought. French sources said Laval had asked England to renounce formally any blockade or sanctions which might mean war against Italy before France promised aid to the British. Guns in Ethiopia barked only fitfully as opposing forces maneuvered on the north, and listened to the drip of rain in the south, but the brows of foreign offices were creased deeply by the growing breach between Britain and Italy. From Rome came word that a vast area of northern Africa was thrown into the warlike picture with reports of barbed wire stretched along the frontier of Italy's colony, Lybia.
