

Glass Still Head Of Banking Ideas At Capital City

Appointment Of Eccles Does Not Mean Glass Loses Leadership.

By HERBERT PLUMMER
WASHINGTON.—(AP)—If any one concluded the Senator Glass of Virginia suffered a personal defeat when the senate confirmed the slender, brisk-mannered Marriner S. Eccles as chairman of the federal reserve board then he is unfamiliar with what actually happened.

The diminutive, elderly Virginian, known as the "Father of the Federal Reserve System," still exercises his prerogatives of parenthood and in a most effective fashion.

It is true if Glass had had his way Eccles would not have been made chairman of the board. On more than one occasion he has violently opposed the Utahian's monetary views.

The "off-the-record" story is that Glass, realizing that his single-handed opposition to Eccles' confirmation by the senate would be futile, decided against taking his fight to the floor of that body.

As a result, without a word of opposition by senators, the nomination was confirmed.

Board's "Pretty Safe"
Glass had another card up his sleeve, however, when he decided to forego open opposition to Eccles' confirmation. The manner in which he played it probably brought him more satisfaction in the end than if he had kept Eccles from being confirmed.

He made use of the simple device of making sure that a majority of Eccles' associates on the board would be either men of his choosing or those whom he considered safe from his point of view.

As a result, the present set-up of the board indicates that Glass' philosophy will be the dominating influence in national banking and financial circles, regardless of what Eccles may or may not do.

That's the basis for his statement, made immediately after the senate had registered its approval of the membership of the board, that he considered it "pretty safe."

It is known definitely that Glass made daily telephone calls to one man he wanted on the board, urging him to accept the appointment. Only the desire of this individual (who holds one of the highest banking posts in the administration) to return to private life as soon as possible made him refuse.

World's Longest Bridge Speeds to Completion

Rapidly, section by section, skilled engineers are assembling the mammoth San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge, longest in the world. This photo, taken from the air, shows the newest phase of construction on the 4 1/4-mile long span—trusses which form the deck of the bridge—in place below the cables. These deck sections are hoisted by pulleys from barges anchored in the bay and hung by 2 1/2-inch steel ropes suspended from the main cables of the bridge. The center concrete anchorage is shown above at the right and the San Francisco skyline at the left.

Dickinson Joins Nomination Race IN GOP Circles

GREENSBORO, Feb. 12.—Senator L. J. Dickinson of Iowa declared himself an avowed candidate for the Republican nomination for President in an interview here but added that he would not enter primaries in any of the States in an effort to get pledged delegations.

Senator Dickinson, here to make the principal address at the Lincoln day dinner at the King Cotton hotel tonight, displayed a most pleasing personality and made friends right and left.

In fact, he himself said that his campaign for the nomination to the presidency would be through setting himself solid in his own State and making friends who would be ready to vote for him in the Cleveland convention in other States.

"I do not want pledged delegations," he declared. "If I am nominated for President, I desire it to be because the people believe I am the man who should be nominated and the type that can best combat the man in the White House and prevent the catastrophe that would follow his re-election."

Winter, spring, summer, autumn, thunder, lightning, rain, wind—during Sunday and Monday Shelby and Cleveland county had the whole works.

Sorghum Is Joy To Plant Expert

Plants which hybridize easily are a joy to the plant breeder. Sorghum is an example. It has such a wide range of inherited characteristics that the geneticist—with what he has found out in previous experiments—can, with patience, produce almost any type of sorghum, although he usually is in search of better quality or higher yields.

One characteristic which the breeder must guard against in both grain and forage sorghums is too great a yield of leaves and stalk. Often factors that produce height are cumulative and the cross is taller than either parent plant.

Such hybrids are too coarse to make good hay, too tall to be harvested conveniently. Frequently they are too late to reach maturity. Often they exhaust the soil moisture before grain is formed.

It is this excessive vigor which causes the objectionable tall, late, natural hybrids—sometimes called "high birds"—in a farmer's field. Growers who select these large, robust heads for seed are likely to find that succeeding generations run to sorghums or numerous—and often undesirable—types because of the many inherited factors involved.

Settlement of the anthracite strike has been effected. Two million persons in the anthracite fields and nearby territory, including the 158,000 mine workers who stood solidly behind their leaders to win the strike, celebrated tonight the ending of the suspension which had paralyzed business and brought bankruptcy and want to many.

Governor Refuses Clemency For Lee

RALEIGH, Feb. 14.—Governor Ehringhaus said this week he had refused a request that clemency be extended at this time to Luke Lee, former United States senator from Tennessee, so that Lee might accept a position with the Cincinnati baseball team and go on the club's spring training trip to Puerto Rico. The nature of the position was not revealed.

Lee is serving six to ten years in state's prison for violation of state banking laws in connection with the failure of the Central Bank and Trust company of Ash-ville several years ago.

After a lengthy formal hearing in which Lee's plea for a pardon or commutation was denied.

There was no formal order denying the request. Governor Ehringhaus said that Lee's plea was open for further consideration at any time whereas a case cannot be reopened for six months if a formal order of refusal is noted.

Just Ten Years Ago

E. H. Griffin, bus station agent, estimates that approximately 100 people ride the various busses out of Shelby daily, while an equal number come in, making a total of 200 passing in and out of town each day.

Including two patients who were dismissed Sunday and several who entered for operations on Saturday, the Shelby hospital has two dozen beds filled.

T. D. Nolan, son of J. B. Nolan, is in Shelby with his parents, having come up from Warren, Georgia. He plans to locate here and engage in the real estate business.

Shelby's biggest shopping crowd, since the buying period before Christmas, was in town Saturday.

Mrs. Clayton Feeler extinguished a threatening flame in her kitchen Friday afternoon with several crocks full of sweet milk. A careless cook set a can of gasoline on the stove, which she thought was cold, but a drop trickled down the side and started the fireworks.

The population of Shelby is 8,854. Of that number four thousand, or a full fifty percent are enrolled as church members, and the same number are enrolled as Sunday school members, according to an estimate made Monday by William L. Meberger, superintendent of the Methodist Sunday school.

If warm weather holds through this week the remnants of Shelby high's two year state champion baseball team will start limbering up for the diamond season.

Settlement of the anthracite strike has been effected. Two million persons in the anthracite fields and nearby territory, including the 158,000 mine workers who stood solidly behind their leaders to win the strike, celebrated tonight the ending of the suspension which had paralyzed business and brought bankruptcy and want to many.

Gordon Dudley and James Dover expect this week to open a plumbing and heating business in Shelby.

Mrs. Lamar C. Gidney is having material placed on a vacant lot adjoining her home on E. Marion St. where she will erect an eight room brick veneered dwelling.

Dr. Sam Schenck and Jean Schenck are also grading lots and placing materials for the erection of new homes in Cleveland Springs Estates.

EPILEPTIC FEAR DEATH FROM FALL INTO FIRE
MORGANTON, Feb. 14.—Marvin Moses, age 23, was severely burned Monday night when under the influence of an epileptic attack he fell face forward into an open fireplace at the home on East Union street, into which he had moved a few hours before. Rushed to Grace hospital, he was given emergency treatment by Dr. J. J. Kirksey. He was conceded small chance for recovery. Moses is a son of Mr. and Mrs. House Moses, who live in the Morganton section.

German newspaper circulation topped a half-million in the first six months of 1935.

Erect Monument To J. F. Kistler

News-Herald.

Burke county's Boy Scout organization Sunday afternoon dedicated a "corner" in the Morganton public library to the memory of the late J. Frederick Kistler, who at the time of his death was head of the Boy Scout movement here.

In a brief and impressive ceremony, coming as the chief event in the local observance of Boy Scout week, Dr. E. W. Phifer delivered the principal address in which he recounted from the observations of an intimate friendship the attributes of Mr. Kistler's character which offer an example to all boys.

Formal presentation of the volumes in the Boy Scout section of the library was made by Dr. E. O. Randolph, who dedicated it "in the name and living memory of our friend."

Over 100 persons gathered at the handsome new library building for the ceremony at 5 o'clock, and among those present were Scout leaders from Valdese and other parts of Burke county.

T.B. Clinic Held In Wilkes Schools

Examinations of tuberculosis suspects in the schools of Wilkes county is now going forward in the clinic being conducted by the health department.

Dr. A. J. Eller, county health officer, stated in an interview that the clinic should prove to be of inestimable benefit to the people in warding off the disease. "It will not only enable those who have the disease to learn of their plight and begin measures for recovery, but it will enable those who have the germ and who are not really afflicted to take precautions and to build up their health to the point where the disease can be thrown off."

3rd House Burned On Same Premises
NEWTON, Feb. 14.—The home of Dick Burgess, on Brady avenue, was left practically a total loss this week in the third fire to visit the same premises within the past 25 years.

The home was a five-room structure, and although two front rooms appeared to be untouched by the flames the rest of the house was so completely charred that doubt was expressed that repairing the structure would be advisable or practical.

The fire was of undetermined origin. Originating in the rear of the building, perhaps in the kitchen, it was well underway before the firemen reached the scene. Only Mrs. Burgess and a grandchild were in the home when the fire was discovered. It was stated. The rest of the family were attending a funeral of a relative.

Garden Series Is Begun Today In 22 Articles

Despite the cold weather, it is not too early to be thinking about preparation of the spring gardens. The sooner the start is made, the more successful the gardener will be.

The Star is beginning today a series of 22 short and timely articles released by the Associated Press and prepared by some of the nation's best garden experts. There will be two a day until the series is completed.

The Seed Bed
The best way for the spring gardener to get the jump on the weather is to do his first work in the house. A seed bed is the thing. Tender plants can be started while it's still too cold for them to live "outside. Get a wooden box three inches deep, a foot wide and a foot and a half or two long. Fill it with fine clean soil. Mark lines in the soil about half an inch deep and two inches apart. Seeds of tomatoes, eggplant, peppers, okra and the like should be placed about a quarter-inch apart, covered with fine soil. Sprinkle, put the box away in a warm place. When the plants peep out put the box in the sunlight. If it's by a window, turn the box halfway round each day to keep the plants growing properly.

Baked Soil For Flowers
When you plant flowers in seed boxes for transplanting to the garden when the weather is warmer, the baking oven should be one of your best implements. To prepare soil for the box take half garden loam and half fine sand. Sift it through a sieve, and if clods form throw them out—don't force them through. Then bake the soil in the oven—temperature 200 to 250 degrees. That will kill any lurking weed seeds. Soil two or three inches deep in the box makes a good germination bed. These, among others, are good flowers plants to start indoors: chrysanthemums, marigold, petunia, grass-pink, scarlet sage, verbena.

PAUL DEAN DEJECTED AT SHOWING IN GOLF
DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 14.—Paul Dean looked dejectedly at his inaugural score card as a tournament golfer and allowed the officials had handicapped him out of the money.

Either by chance or premeditated design—there are two sides to it—through the National League umpire showed up in the same foursome with Paul, who incidentally pitches baseball in the National League for the St. Louis Cardinals. And Dizzy Dean's L17 brother and No. 1 supporter scored 99 on a course he shot day before yesterday in 83.

HOW SUPREME COURT JUSTICES HAVE VOTED
WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Supreme court justices voted unanimously in 102 of the 121 decisions made public during the current term. This was a unanimity rating of 84 per cent. In the nineteen dissents there were ten 6-3 decisions, five 5-4 decisions and two each of the 7-2 and 8-1 combinations.

N. C. GOP To Hold Meet In Raleigh

GREENSBORO, Feb. 12.—The State Republican executive committee in session at the O. Henry hotel here selected Raleigh as the place of the 1936 State convention and passed resolutions demanding that Governor Ehringhaus call a special session of the legislature for action on three pieces of legislation.

The special session would be for the purpose of repealing the State sales tax, reduction of automobile license plates to a maximum of three dollars, and enactment of legislation that would enable the state to share in the benefits of the national social security act.

The date of the state convention will be announced in the next few days, he said.

Throughout the day, politics were talked in the hotel rooms and lobbies.

The consensus was that Mr. Meekins will be re-elected State chairman; that Charles A. Jonas of Lincoln will be re-elected national committeeman.

The tenth congressional race was the subject of frequent comment. The feeling was general that Mr. Jonas will make the race only if C. R. Edney, who ran in 1934, voluntarily withdraws from the field.
