

THE DAY'S NEWS IN PICTURES

Fashions of the Fashionable

PERFECT FOR SUMMER—That's what Margaret Lindsay, Hollywood actress, says about this collarless double-breasted coat of light tan wool, and picks this tilt brimmed hat to wear with it for all-around summer service.

"SLING" MATCHES GOWN—Her broken arm supported by a sling of fine silk to match her gown, Margaret Sullivan, film star, strikes a new fashion note at a Hollywood premier. The actress suffered the fracture while working on her current film.

NEW DANCE? NO, GIRL HIGH-JUMPER LANDING—At first glance you may think this is a new dance, but there you're wrong, for it's just Sybil Koff, girl high-jumper, finishing a leap in workout in New York. Miss Koff, winner of the Pentathlon crown in the 1935 Maccagish Olympics held in Palestine, is an outstanding candidate for Olympic honors this year.

CANADIAN NEIGHBORS PAY A VISIT—En route home following a long winter cruise off Bermuda, two Canadian destroyers steam into New York harbor. The Saguenay is in the foreground, the Champlain in background.

Scenes as Rescuers Fought to Save Entombed Men in Moose River Mine

QUADRUPLET LIONS—A RARITY IN ANIMAL WORLD—They're just as rare as quintuplets in the human world, are these lion quadruplets. That's according to Charles Gay, center, who runs a lion farm in Hollywood. The two girls are movie lassies, Rosalind Marquis, left, and Marie Wilson.

GERMANY'S DEATH ON WINGS—Latest additions to Germany's air force are these bombers, shown flying in formation over Nurnberg. Bombers had been expressly forbidden by the Versailles treaty.

SANTA CLAUS PREPARES!—Even though Christmas is a long way off, manufacturers of Santa Claus' presents are preparing for the next visit of good St. Nick. Shown, at the American toy fair in New York, these children are trying out a 1936 model of a racing bobsled.

CHURCHES REOPENED IN MEXICO—Here are two scenes snapped in Juarez, Mexico, as churches were reopened, with the protection of Mexican cavalry. At the top, crowd leaving the historic mission at Juarez following sunrise services. Below, left to right, are the Rev. Fr. Jesus Jrijalva, the Rev. Fr. Salvado Uranga and the Rev. Manual Deoses, three Mexican priests returned to Mexico after a three-year exile.

RIGHT UP JOE'S ALLEY—Smell of sawdust is familiar to Joe E. Brown, the wide-mouthed movie comedian, Joe having been an acrobat in a circus for a number of years. Here he is at a Hollywood circus with his wife and their daughter Mary.

GIANT CAMERA FOR SOLAR ECLIPSE—When the total solar eclipse occurs on June 19, these two Harvard university men will be all set to record the sight through a giant camera, shown above. Henry Hemmendinger, left, and Dr. Donald H. Menzel, will go to a station in Siberia south of the Ural mountains to observe the phenomenon along with other representatives of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

INDIAN WINS MARATHON—Ellison "Tarzan" Brown, Narragansett Indian, staggered across the finish line to win the 40th annual Boston A. A. marathon in 10 hours, 33 minutes and 40 4-5 seconds. His spectacular performance in the 26-mile run, virtually assures him a place on the U. S. Olympic team.
