Word From Bailey Revives Hope For PWA SchoolWork

$150,000 Building May Not Be Lost

All Plans Approved, With Bill In Senate To Provide The Money.

Renewed hope that Shelby may get its $150,000 high school building after all was expressed here today by school officials who have received encouraging information from Senator J. W. Bailey in Washington.

Senator Bailey is leader of a group which is seeking to earmark part of the president's $1,500,000 relief fund, to be specifically set aside for the completion of PWA projects in the state.

The Shelby building was approved by the people in a vote last year, the city agreeing to issue bonds to meet 55 percent of the total cost, The PWA would furnish the other 45 percent of $67,500. Bailey Says

The relief bill passed the House without the earmarking provisions, Bailey said in part in his letter to Superintendent B. L. Smith: "I inmarking the necessary amounts of enable us to obtain reasonable appropriations for these projects . . . the project in Shelby."

Complete plans for a building Lovelace. with 24 class rooms, an auditorium, a gymnasium and proper space for libraries, laboratories and other features were submitted to state PWA headquarters and Dr. H. G. Baity, chief has assured local officials that they were fully approved, and that all lacking is the money. Inference was further made by Senator Bailey and Superintendent Smith that even if the earmarking doesn't go through, the sentiment will be so strong that the president will provide for many of the projects anyway.

By The Associated Press A widening chasm stretched today toward the new Italian empire and the League of Nations. Italy matched yesterday's withdrawal of her Geneva delegation with a defiant hands off warning of Ethiopia and let it be known the League had either to accept the new Roman Empire or get along without Italian participation.

The League council refused to modify sanctions. Great Britain showed no outward perturbation over the Italian departure. Some British observers were inclined to look upon it as a mere gesture.

Extra Dogs Found Pays For Vaccine

Cleveland county will find enough extra dogs to be taxed to pay for the entire anti-rabies vaccination program it was learned today.

The inspectors in the eleven townships received this week another consignment of vaccine for 50 dogs, which runs the total to 3,000. Only 2,300 dogs were listed for taxation last year, and it is expected that close to 4.000 will be vaccinated. With $2 per female dog and $1 for males the extra tax money will pay the cost of the protective vaccine. The owners get credit on their taxes for the money paid to the inspectors.
