Terrymen Unable To Go Their Pace And Lose 13 To 5

Final Drive Ends Record Breaking Series, Closes Season.

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The New York Yankee big guns blasted the Giants hopes for a World Series win yesterday afternoon by decisively defeating the Terrymen 13 to 5 after a last inning rally had netted seven runs.

The sixth and final game of the New York series broke numbers of records on attendance, receipts and tests of baseball.

Win Series, 4 To 2

The "Bronx Bombers" emerged with a decisive victory, four games to two, in a series that set a flock of new hitting and scoring records, besides scaling fresh heights for attendance and receipts with a return to boom-time baseball prosperity.

The Yankees not only squared accounts with their metropolitan rivals in world series play, with triumphs for each club in four battles for the game's highest stakes but registered their fifth championship conquest in eight attempts and their fourth in succession. Following up their sweep of the 1927, 1928 and 1932 battle with the National league, the Yankees now boast a record of 16 games won out of 18 played.

Giants Use Four Hurlers

Four pitchers, led by the hard-bark victim of the third game, fat Freddy Fritzsimmmons, failed to check the tidal wave of Yankee basehits yesterday afternoon. The Giants set off in front and finally forced their southpaw foe, Vernon (Goofy) Gomez, to cover in the seventh inning, but it was an uphill battle for him nearly all the way.

The National leaguers simply did not have the power to match their rivals, particularly in the "clutch" and their emergency defense finally came apart in the ninth inning debacle.

13 Bat In Big Ninth

Thirteen Yankees went to bat in the concluding frame, within two of the world series record. The rookie star, DiMaggio, got two of the five basehits that punctuated the firing off the combined efforts of Coffman and his successor, Harry Gumbert, both right-handers. Gumbert, victim of the six-run drive by the Yankees in the ninth inning of the second game, came in with two on, none out, and three runs already in. He finally retired the side, after four more tallies battled over the plate.

Dozen Records Tumble

All told, at least a dozen world series records were broken or equalled by the finale. The Yankees displaced a flock of marks for a six-game series in the offensive department. Their aggregate totals of 43 runs and 41 batted in, 38 hits and 49 of the one-base variety, 26 bases on balls and 96 total bases, all established new records.

The total attendance of 302,924 displaced the previous six-game mark of 301,430, set by the Yankees and Giants in their last intra-city battle, in 1923. The aggregate receipts of $1,204,399, topped the previous six game mark of $1,073,794, set by the Detroit Tigers and Chicago Cubs last year, and were the second highest in all series history.

No Terrier Team Has Licked Deacons

WAKE FOREST, Oct. 7.—When Wake Forest college's football team comes to Wake Forest next Saturday night to meet the Demon Deacons, it will be trying to do what the Terrier club has ever been able to accomplish—that is, whip the Deacons.

Records show that the two institutions have met on the gridiron four times, and Wake Forest has emerged victorious in three of these affairs, while one ended in a deadlock. In 1914, the Deacons steamrolled the Terriers 41 to 0. It was not until 1926 that they played again, and this time, the Baptists were winners 27 to 0. Two years later, 1928, a stiffer battle took place with the score winding up 7 all in 1929, the Deacs tripped Wake 18 to 0. The teams have not met since that date.

Plan To Rebuild School

NEWTON, Oct. 7.—Plans for the building of a colored school building in Hickory which was destroyed by fire last week were presented to the board of county commissioners in session here by N. J. Hester, chairman of the county board of education, and Dr. R. W. Hester, Hickory city school superintendent.

Drives Mackenzie's Death Car

"Death Car" Will Feature In Auto Races On Saturday

"A death car" promises to take an important role in the drama of motor mania that will be enacted at the Cleveland county fair here Saturday afternoon when the nation's leading speed merchants vie for the 1936 southern AAA championship.

Frankie Beeder, the handsome young gent from St. Louis who made such a hit here last year, has been nominated by Johnny Bagley to drive the McDowell special which carried the late George "Doc" Mackenzie to the Eastern championship last year and his death in Milwaukee last August.

Mackenzie crashed a fence while rounding a turn at breakneck speed, rolled over four times, and died a few hours later.

Shelby, Mountaineers Meet For Annual Tilt Thursday

Due to the fact that all the city schools of Shelby and Kings Mountain will be closed for the fair on Friday, the annual grid struggle between the high school teams of the two schools will be played Thursday afternoon.

Coach Bill Goodson is trying to keep his players away from the fair the first part of the week in order to be at top strength against the Mountaineers.

Shelby hopes to get revenge for a slashing defeat at the hands of its over and, many times, stronger rival. A break into the win column has been forecast for Shelby, with a defeat first from Hickory, a tie with Cherryville.

Kings Mountain's coach, Pete Moss, says he has no material at all and that the team is weakest in years, but the team has the fighting spirit. The local team is hampered by injuries and inexperience, but is expected to play its best game Thursday.

The scrap will begin at 4 o'clock at Kings Mountain.

home is badly needed as 29 pupil nurses are enrolled and the hospital staff includes five graduates.

At present all hospital nurses cannot be accommodated in the nurses' home and it has been necessary to rent a residence and private rooms in the neighborhood of the plant.

In the event the money is made available to erect the nurses home, it will be located on the hospital property to the east of the present building.

What disposition will be made of the present nurses' home when the new home is completed, has not been determined. The present nurses' home was the former residence of Dr. H. D. Wilson which was moved to the rear of the property and remodelled after the land and building were acquired by No. 4 township.

40,000 Folk Attend Opening Day Of Fair

sows and pigs of 4H club showstock imported last spring from northern breeding farms. Much of it is from national championship origin.

In the usual displays of farm machinery a new Ispedeza harvester attachment for a mower was attracting attention.

Despite the drought in the early summer the field crop displays were well up to par. There were more than 4,000 ears of seed corn in one display alone and the usual quantities of grains, fruits and legumes. The quality of cotton was short.

Jams And Jellies

Mouths of the thousands of visitors who milled through the halls fairly watered at the huge shelves and stacks of pastries, pies, cookies, jellies, jams, and sundry articles of the kitchen and pantry. Samples and other judges were being envied as they tasted this and that in angel food cake or coconut pies.

Walls of the entire building, both upstairs and down were decorated with unusually fine pieces of tapestry, embroidery work, quilts, clothes, and fancy-work. Judges in all the departments were having difficulty placing the awards.

One section entered by Mrs. T. G. Morehead and Mrs. Bennett Erwin of Shelby showed scores of household articles from dish cloths to towels and dresses, all made from discarded sacks. Another exhibit showed quite a bit of fancy work, rugs, and mats made by convicts at the prison camp. They were made from refuse from a cotton mill.

Old Instrument

The antique department was full of its usual range of curios, old guns, Bibles, canes, etc. Of special interest was a surveying instrument which was said to have been used when Shelby was laid out in the early 50's (1850) this being the first time it has been shown at the fair. There was also a watch over 100 years of age which still runs.

The art department was crowded more than usual. Of special interest were several large size portraits, done by Mrs. G. J. Burnett, wife of the new president of Bolling Springs Junior college.

WPA Booth

A booth upstairs showed in an effective way the aims and purposes of the recreational department of the WPA, giving special emphasis to play and rest for children and to the proper vocational training for them.

The local CCC camp or soil conservation department showed an educational feature showing a farm typically eroded before it was surveyed, terraced and drained and cultivated properly. The second scene was "after." The eight types of Cleveland soil were also shown.

The state department of labor gave movie camera flashes of safety methods and the advantages of the compensation act which was fathered and passed by O. Max Gardner while he was governor. The Hoey-For-Governor and Roosevelt-For-President booth was doing a rushing business with badges and literature.

Among commercial exhibits which featured prominently were Washburn's, Clarks, in hardware; Spartan grains, Kester-Groome Furniture, The Auto Inn, Pendleton's for music, D. A. Beam, Coca Cola, Kelvinator by Duke Power, Patterson's and others.

to No. 3 community which presented a well balanced farm program and practices.

All other booths were well above the average year for quality.

Rastus B. Dixon of the Landry Land farms took first place with the individual farm booth with M. P. Harrelson and B. G. Leatherman second and third respectively.

School Displays

Exhibits by the public schools were revelations of art by themselves as 15 different units in the county vie for honors in portrayal of ideas in education.

Fallston's fancy depiction of the wise use of leisure time took the judge's eye and got the blue ribbon. The booth suggested music, reading, manual training, the arts and other interests.

Bolling Springs with a new idea for cellophane showed through a transparent veil the Spirit of Education which seemed to be Truth itself walking with a light out of the clouds of ignorance and prejudice. At her feet were the men and women who have made education modern in the past 100 years. This booth took second.

Third place went to Polkville school which booth showed how the faults of youth become the fetters that bind in old age.

Other schools and their entry idea in a word are: Kings Mountain, leisure; Beth-Ware, home influences; Shelby, with a mirror reflecting good education in the hall of improvement; Casar, peak of health; Waco, a better future; No. 3, climb to castle of good reading; Belwood, the ample life; Piedmont, fitting the child for school entrance; Mooresboro, leading industries of N. C.; Grover, education in 1836 and 1936; Lattimore, leisure.

The first court of honor of the scouts was held at Central M. E. church Monday night. For the first court it was considered very small but on account of the fair. Only nine awards were made. This is one of the smallest courts since the beginning of scouting in Shelby.
