Deadline For Local Bills Is April 16

All local bills must be introduced in the N.C. General Assembly by April 16, under rules adopted last week by state legislators.

Rep. E. David Redwine said legislators have until April 30 to submit statewide bills, except for appropriations bills, which are due in no later than May 21.

"If any of you have bill requests for me, please keep these dates in mind," he said in his weekly report. "By having these deadlines, hopefully we will be able to cut down on the length of the session."

Two bills propose stricter enforcement and greater penalties for littering, a topic of concern to many residents of the district, Redwine said.

In the Senate, a recently introduced bill would increase the fine for littering from $50 for the first offense to $200, and an increase from $200 to $500 for a second offense.

Redwine said he plans to introduce a local bill that would authorize wildlife enforcement officers to enforce the littering laws in Brunswick County. "I believe this will help deter some people from littering on the waterways," he suggested.

Also, last week Redwine, chairman of the ABC Committee, introduced HB 214. This act would conform the hours of alcohol sales in the state to federal Daylight Savings Time. Congress has recently changed the beginning of Daylight Savings Time from the last Sunday in April to the first Sunday in April. This bill would conform state law to public law and will keep holders of alcohol permits from being in violation of the law.

Redwine also co-sponsored HB 195, which would appropriate $2 million in 1987-88 and 1988-89 fiscal years for the N.C. Rural Economic Development Center for its operation and for pilot programs and research.

This center, he said, will be established to address agribusiness, the decline of manufacturing employment, the opportunities for natural resource-based industries and the loss of businesses in small cities and rural areas.

Constituents with questions, requests or comments can contact Redwine by writing to him at 2219 Legislative Building, Raleigh, NC 27611 or by telephoning 1-733-5749.

"That's What I Want!"

We're overwhelmed.

It was so simple: to ask you what you want from a bank. And your response went beyond our wildest dreams. Not just from our Customers—but from our friends outside United Carolina Bank as well. Thank you all for your ideas and support.

Too bad so many other banks have lost that kind of touch with people. We asked, and you told us what you want. Keep it up. We want to know more. And in the months ahead, you'll be seeing a lot of your ideas put to work at UCB.

That's because our employees know that in everything we do, we have to look at it from your point of view. What do you want? How would you react? After all, you're why we're here in the first place.

If your bank isn't as interested in what you have to say, maybe it's time you talked to us. We're ready to listen.
