BUSINESS BRIEFS

Clark To Autograph Collectibles Sunday

Dr. Thomas Fetzler Clark of Cairn Studios, better known to local gnome collectors as Tom Clark, will be in Wilmington Sunday from 1-5 p.m. at Independence Mall.

Clark has gained worldwide recognition for his clay sculptures. He will autograph pieces purchased that day, and up to three previously purchased, in addition to telling "wee" folk stories and presenting a slide show.

Santa I, who will be retiring Oct. 31 this year, will be given away as the door prize.

Clark spends 42 weeks a year with his collectors, traveling around the country. His Wilmington visit is sponsored by three area dealers, including Carson Cards & Gifts of Shalotte.

Carter Appointed

Harry J. Carter has been appointed as a local member of Southern National Bank of North Carolina. A resident of Ocean Isle Beach, Carter is president of Shalotte Lumber Co. He has two children, Kelly Gurganus and Dallas Phelps.

Group Wants To Locate Nursing Home At Leland

Leland would be the site of Brunswick County's third nursing home if a proposal aired Monday wins approval from the state Department of Human Resources.

Pharmacist David Sherrill of Leland, a former member of the Brunswick County Hospital Authority, and partners Richard L. Bennett and William Miller want to build a 68-bed facility at a cost of about $1.2 million.

The single-story, 28,000-square-foot center would serve residents of both Pender and Brunswick counties, said Bennett. "The demand that is here now is enough for it to be filled 100 percent within a matter of months."

Miller, a Leland resident, would be the general contractor for the project.

Commissioners endorsed the location of a nursing facility in the Leland area 3-0 on a motion by Frankie Rabon. But they stopped short of endorsing a specific company. Commissioners Grace Beasley and Jim Poole were absent.

Recalling a similar request to the board several years ago, Commissioner Chris Chappell said the board had learned from past mistakes. It could endorse a company, then find out that another company was proposing a similar project. "We endorsed a company and then had to take it back," he recalled.

Based on the number of needs identified as needed in the latest state health facilities plan for the area, the center proposes 17 skilled nursing beds and 51 intermediate care beds. It would also have 20 rest home beds.

Based on a survey of agencies regarding community health care needs, the center also is proposing several special services. These include a specially-staffed unit for Alzheimer's disease patients and a 24-bed adult day care program where the elderly or handicapped could be served six to eight hours daily.

Some transportation services may also be offered.

While local public hearings would be held in the affected counties, Bennett said he expected the application to be reviewed only by the Certificate of Need division of the N.C. Department of Human Resources, not the board of the Cardinal Health Systems Agency. With federal funding cutbacks, he suggested, the state's health system agencies are cutting back their roles in the review and certification process and concentrating on planning.

Currently the county has one nursing home in Southport, Ocean Trail Convalescent Center, with another 100-bed facility under construction by Autumn Care Corp. in Shalotte.
