Your Pre-Need Funeral Insurance...

TWO IMPORTANT FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW:

More and more people these days are asking us about their pre-need funeral insurance policies. They are concerned about their rights under those policies. To help clear up this confusion, you should be aware of two points that are clearly and unmistakably your rights:

If you own a "Pre-need Funeral Policy," or any other plan which provides for payment of funeral and interment services:

1. You may use any funeral home you choose—regardless of where you originally bought the policy; and regardless of which funeral home you may have designated at the time you bought the policy.

2. You may change your mind at any time—regardless of your previous decisions or commitments. You may apply your policy to any funeral home without penalty for changing your mind. All funeral homes (including Brunswick Funeral Service) honor these policies—contrary to advertising you may have seen implying that only certain funeral homes honor these policies.

If you have questions about your specific pre-need funeral policy, a licensed experienced funeral director at Brunswick Funeral Service will be glad to answer your questions and help you fully understand your rights, at no obligation.

Call us at 754-6363.
