Kids Sell Kool-Aid

Six enterprising children made 50 cents each during a recent sunny afternoon at Holden Beach. The kids, who visited last month, set up a Kool-Aid stand at the Lumberton Street home of Erlene and Claude Sigmon and sold drinks for 25 cents apiece. Selling to relatives and using hand-lettered signs to attract business, the crew took in a total of $3, with the supplies donated by parents. Pictured, from left, are Suzanne White of Hickory, Megan Bryant of Darlington, S.C., and Katie Sigmon of Hickory. Also taking part in the effort were Tyler Sigmon of Hickory, Lathey White of High Point and Harriet Ward of Darlington, S.C.
