Quakers Opposing Military Action In The Middle East

Local Quakers have written to President Bush and local U.S. Congressmen to oppose offensive military action in the Middle East, saying the entire Middle East could be engulfed in war as a result.

The letter from the Wilmington Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends is a shortened version of one signed recently by several other denominational organizations including American Baptist Churches USA, Church of the Brethren, Washington office; Friends Committee on National Legislations; Methodists United for Peace with Justice; NETWORK, a National Catholic Social Justice Lobby; Presbyterian Church, (U.S.A.) Social Justice and Peacemaking; and United Church of Christ, Office for Church in Society.

Signed by Mike Glancy, clerk, the letter to President George Bush, Sens. Jesse Helms and Terry Sanford and Rep. Charlie Rose urges that the U.S. take no offensive military action, give economic sanctions against Iraq time to work and resolve the crisis through peaceful, diplomatic means.

The Wilmington Meeting serves Quakers in New Hanover and surrounding counties.
