Daimin Davis was pleasantly surprised Jan. 21, reports his mother, Rosa Davis, when he arrived at the Martin Luther King observance program at the Brunswick County Government Center and discovered many of his friends there.

While at first he had thought the program would not interest him, she recalled, later he didn't want to leave.

Daimin, along with Jonathan Williams, will be receiving awards in mathematics and reading.

The program, held by and for young people, was one of three local observances honoring the life of the late Martin Luther King Jr. and his work as a civil rights leader and as a peacemaker.

Other merit awards for students participating in the program will be as follows:

Adults who will receive participation awards are as follows: Tim Gore, keynote speaker; Eugene Gore, Southport-Brunswick County Chapter, NAACP past presidents representative; Superintendent P.R.

Moses Clyde Herring, newest president; Franklin Randolph, Hubert Nathaniel Reaves, Collis Hewett, Bob Pascal Gore, Marvin Smith, Ethel Gore and Lillie Frink, coordinators; Nancy Johnson, Beatrice Flythe, Pamela Hankins, Cora and Martha Johnson, contact committee award.

Jo Ann Vaught was unable to appear with her daughter, Alexis, and choir, because of a medical problem. She sends her apologies.

Special guests Starie Grissett and her daughter, Ebony, briefed attendees on their recent trip to London, England, where Ebony participated with other cheerleaders from across the world in England's New Year's Day Parade.

Mary E. Bernard has had to resign as president of the Cedar Grove chapter for health reasons and a successor is being sought.

As assistant program chairperson I'd like to thank everyone who helped make the students' day worthwhile, who helped to make Dr. King's dream a reality in the lives of all who could sacrifice the time to be present.

Weekly Scripture

Another prophetic teaching about events taking place in the Middle East comes from Revelation 18, "And the merchants of the earth shall weep and mourn over her, for no man buyeth her oil and merchandise any more...saying alas, alas, that great city that was clothed in fine scarlet, linen, purple and decked with gold, precious stones and pearls.

For in one hour so great riches have come to naught...For in one hour she is made desolate. Rejoice over her, thou heaven and ye holy apostles and prophets, for the Lord hath avenged you on her."
