Arts Festival To Feature Reid

Dancer and actress Pamela Reid will be the featured guest artist Friday, March 8, at the fifth annual black Arts Festival, which begins at 7:30 p.m. at Brunswick Community College.

The event was rescheduled from February because of inclement weather.

Along with Ms. Reid, the line-up of performers includes a mix of out-of-town and local artists.

Local performers will include Lawahna Gardner, a vocalist from South Brunswick High School, Janie Johnson of Supply and Claire Hankins of Bolivia.

The Andre A. Minkins Playwrights' Showcase Ensemble of Raleigh will present a dramatic performance.

Artwork by South Brunswick and West Brunswick high school students will be exhibited as well.

Ms. Reid founded the Black Arts Festival during her tenure as BCC Visiting Artist from 1986-1988. She is presently Visiting Artist at Southeastern Community College in Whiteville.

The public is invited to attend the festival at no charge. It is sponsored by BCC and the Brunswick Arts Council.

Literacy Volunteers Trained

The Brunswick County Literacy Council recently certified 12 new tutors from across the county, reports Gladys Wagenseil, coordinator.

Available now to tutor adults using the phonics-based Laubach method are volunteers Mardelle Gore of Longwood; Beth Pupp and Debbie Rupp of Shallotte; Evelyn Loukas and Robert Loukas of Long Beach; Angie Lewis of Supply; Carol Andrews of Southport; Doreen Wilce, Ramona Bendin and Richard Bendin of Calabash; and Mary Lu DiFazio and Sal DiFazio of Sunset Beach.

Volunteer Rich Dixon was the trainer for the Feb. 22-23 workshop at the BCLC office at Supply.

Through its volunteers the council provides one-on-one assistance to adults and others who want to upgrade their reading and writing skills.

For more information or to refer a student, contact the Brunswick County Literacy Council at (919) 754-7323, P.O. Box 6, Supply, N.C. 28462.

Miss Hines To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. William W. Hines of Longwood have announced the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Nancy Leigh, to William Carl Wickel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wickel of Vero Beach, Fla. The wedding is planned Saturday, March 16, at 4 p.m. in Philadelphia Wesleyan Church, Ash. Friends and relatives of the couple are invited.

CLUB BRIEFS

Union Sends 900 Valentines

Under the encourage of the Ladies Auxiliary of Calabash VFW Post No. 7288, students at Union Primary School in Shallotte recently made approximately 900 valentines for service personnel in Saudi Arabia.

Students are hoping to hear from some of the soldiers who receive their cards, said Mary Benes, VFW Auxiliary spokesman.

On Feb. 28, Principal Zephia Grissett received a certificate of appreciation from the auxiliary for the school's support of the auxiliaries' project.

On March 9 VFW members and auxiliaries will visit patients at the V.A. Hospital in Fayetteville to play bingo and serve refreshments.

Monthly activities include a covered dish dinner the second Saturday of each month at 6 p.m., with members and guests welcome; and bingo games the first three Mondays of the month with residents of Brunswick Village in Shallotte.

Also, on Tuesday, March 14, auxiliaries plan to make arts and crafts at the post, starting at 10:30 a.m.

Homemakers To Meet

Town Creek Extension Homemakers Club meets Monday, March 11, at 9 a.m. at Town Creek Park on U.S. 17 in Winnabow.

Mary L. Russ, extension home economics agent, will present a program on analyzing stains in apparel and housing fabrics and techniques and techniques for their removal.

Visitors are welcome, said club member Marie Young.

Guys And Dolls Meet

The Guys and Dolls Extension Homemakers Club appointed four committees at its February meeting at the Brunswick County Government Center in Bolivia.

Appointments were as follows: Harold Hoy and Thelma Dunn, family issues; Ed and Jean Robinson, environmental issues; Russ and Alice Perkis, global issues; and John and Alda Lewis and Jo Di Carlo, special projects.

The club plans to treat its two nursing home "adoptees" to a special Easter luncheon March 27.

The Guys and Dolls are planning to participate in the county extension homemakers' Quilt Show '91 the weekend of April 6 at Shallotte Middle School.

Mrs. Di Carlo said club members gave 401 hours of volunteer service from December through February.

Long-time Lions Cited

Shallotte Lions Club honored three members for their long-time service to Lions at the club's 44th anniversary dinner held Feb. 21 at Sandpiper Golf & Country Club.

Presented pins were Pete Kopasz of Calabash, 25 years; W.J. McLamb of Ocean Isle Beach, 20 years; and Len Ferguson of Calabash, 15 years.

To Address AARP

Jean W. Pelletier of Lower Cape Fear Hospice will present an overview of the program and services available to all area residents at the next meeting of Calabash Chapter 3640 of the American Association of Retired Persons.

The meeting is scheduled today (Thursday) at 7 p.m. at the Calabash Volunteer Fire Department.

Refreshments will be served and guests are welcome, according to spokespersons James and Dorothy Doyle.

Medicare Is Topic

Key issues and changes in Medicare policies including those implemented in 1991 will be discussed at the next meeting of the Newcomers Club of South Brunswick Islands.

Bill Walters, business office manager at The Brunswick Hospital in Supply, will address the group at its meeting today (Thursday) at 7 p.m. in the hospital cafeteria.

Spokesperson Sarah Williams said refreshments will be served. The newcomers club is open to anyone who has moved to Brunswick County in the last five years.

Chamber Books Band Of Oz For Revamped Oyster Fest

The Band of Oz will be the featured entertainment for the North Carolina Oyster Festival, which this year will move to a Friday-Saturday format.

Dates for this year's event have changed from Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 19 and 20 to Friday and Saturday, Oct. 18 and 19.

Activities will begin at noon Friday and continue through Saturday, offering seafood, arts and crafts, entertainment and amusement rides for the entire family.

The Band of Oz will perform Friday night and Saturday, said Kathi Grissett of the South Brunswick Islands Chamber of Commerce, which sponsors the annual event.

Established in 1967 on a part-time basis, The Band of Oz went full-time in 1977. The group plays beach music and top 20 hits across the Carolinas, Virginia and Georgia. The band has recorded several songs of its own, including Shaggin', Ocean Boulevard and Reputation. Their playlist also includes artists such as Paul McCartney, Kool & The Gang, Earth, Wind & Fire, Daryl Hall and John Oates and others.

More information on the festival is available from the South Brunswick Islands Chamber of Commerce, P. O. Box 1380, Shallotte, NC 28459 or (919) 754-6644.
