Services Mark Pastor's Stay

HEWETT

BY BARBARA T. HEWETT
As the sun rises in the east and sets in the west, so it is that a worship service brings inspiration to the soul. The entire church family and guests seemed to express this Sunday, March 3, at Little Macedonia Baptist Church in Supply, during a celebration marking the fourth pastoral anniversary of the Rev. Charles Jacobs and his family.

Rev. Jacobs delivered the morning message, with dinner afterward in the church dining hall. The Rev. Vaughn Cherry, pastor of Pleasant Hill Missionary Baptist Church of Shallotte, and the church choir, were guest messengers for the evening service.

On Sunday, March 10, Rev. Jacobs will observe his third pastoral anniversary at Friendship Missionary Baptist Church in Southport, with Mt. Carmel AME Church of Southport and its pastor, the Rev. Artis Odom, as guests that evening.

Churches Take Titles
On July 14 Jamie Floyd Jr. and Jasmine Harrison will represent Ocean View Union and Association at the Woman's Home & Foreign Missionary Convention in Charlotte.

Jamie is the son of Floyd and Mattie Lorainne Williams of Cedar Grove and Jasmine is the daughter of Wendy Harrison of Little Prong Church at Ash.

They will be competing in the Shaw Contest and Have-A-Heart-For Missions youth fundraising and young talent projects. They were crowned as Ocean View's representatives on Feb. 24 at Little Prong Missionary Baptist Church, Jasmine claiming first place and Jamie, second. Wearing a tiara and a red velvet crown, respectively, they were escorted up the aisle by the Rev. M.C. Herring, advisor. Having the greatest gifts for missions was the prerequisite.

Also participating in the program were the Rev. Raymond Smith, pastor; Mazie Stanley, presiding officer; and Arvella Marlowe and Dorothy Lee Frink, youth department supervisors. The program included a mini concert by children up to 10 years of age. They were accompanied by Timothy Stanley on keyboard and Robert Stanley Jr. on drums.

I was in charge of the pageant, while Crystal Bellamy, Miss Dynamics 1990, crowned the winners. The association's 100-voice Mass Male Choir also provided music.

Birthday Greetings
Happy birthday to Charles Snow and Eva Mae Willetts at Bolivia School and to Renee Bates, Lenita Moss and Roderick Moss.

Tune In
Be sure to listen to Radio Station WVCB (1410 AM) in Shallotte on Thursdays at 3 p.m. and Saturdays at 10:15 a.m. for the Cedar Grove Area News. On Sunday evenings listen for the Moments of Inspiration gospel program.

Weekly Scripture
This week's Scripture comes from Jeremiah 33, "I will bring my people back again from all the countries where in my fury I will scatter them. I will bring them back to this very city, and make them live in peace and safety..."

Worship Services To Begin On Strand At Sunset Beach

Vacationers to the South Brunswick Islands will have another worship alternative this year—an 8 a.m. service on the strand at Sunset Beach Easter Sunday and then each Sunday of the Memorial Day through Labor Day season.

Services will take place on the strand just east of the Sunset Beach Fishing Pier, said the Rev. Francis Womack Jr., pastor of the sponsoring church, Calabash Presbyterian.

He said the new outreach ministry will be similar to beach services already offered at Ocean Isle Beach under the auspices of Shallotte Presbyterian Church.

Services will be of a traditional, reformed nature and will be non-denominational. While Womack expects to lead many of the services himself, he said ministers of other churches and of other denominations will be invited to lead services as well.

Dress is casual and service-goers are encouraged to bring their own seating, if desired, such as a beach towel or lawn chair.

"The service isn't meant to replace regular church services," said Womack. "It is for vacationers who are not able to attend their own church."

The strand service at Sunset Beach will be the second informal service offered there.

In recent years Randi Moon has sponsored an informal Sunday morning worship on the lawn of the Continental Motel at Sunset Beach, on Easter Sunday and then during the regular summer season.

Calabash Presbyterian Church holds its regular service Sundays at 9:30 a.m. at the Calabash Volunteer Fire Department.

RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES

First Service Set March 17 At Shallotte Presbyterian

Shallotte Presbyterian Church will hold its first services in its new structure Sunday, March 17, starting with Sunday School at 10 a.m. and worship service at 11 a.m.

The public is invited to participate, said Elder Pat Patterson.

He said the worship service will be held in the new fellowship hall, which has the capacity to seat approximately 400 people.

Completed in this first phase of a long-range building program are the fellowship hall, church school classrooms and office. A new sanctuary will be built at a future date. The church's former home on Sellers Drive is being vacated.

The new facility is located on U.S. 17 in Shallotte behind the West Brunswick Branch Library. The Rev. Bill Thomas is interim pastor.

Parish Sets Dinner

Corned beef and cabbage are on the menu of a dinner scheduled Wednesday, March 13, at St. Brendan's Catholic Church, according to Harry Grose, social chairman.

The dinner will start at 6 p.m. Tickets are $6 for adults and $3 for children under age 12. For tickets or more information call Bill Scharoun at 579-9859.

The church is located approximately two miles south of Shallotte on U.S. 17.

To Mark Third Year

The Rev. Charles Jacobs will celebrate his third anniversary as pastor of Friendship Missionary Baptist Church in Southport Sunday, March 10.

The program begins with Sunday school at 9:30 a.m. and worship, followed by lunch. The Mt. Carmel AME Church family and the Rev. Artis Odom, pastor, will be special guests for the evening service. The public is invited.

Lenten Services Begin

St. James The Fisherman Episcopal Church of Shallotte is holding two Lenten services every Friday during Lent.

A simple supper at 6 p.m. is followed by a worship service. Donations for the supper will be used to help feed the hungry in the Shallotte area.

Deacon Elizabeth Buck conducted the first Lenten worship service Feb.

22, and the Rev. Richard Warner gave a brief talk on New Beginnings.

Another Lenten devotion, The Stations of The Cross, is offered at the church each Friday at 12:10 p.m. through March 22. The 15-minute service follows the path Jesus took on the first Good Friday.

Rev. Warner invites the public to attend these special services and other services at the church.

Customs Are Focus

The origin of Easter customs and the symbols of Easter such as the egg, rabbit and butterfly will be explored in the Lenten study scheduled March 12 by Calabash Presbyterian Church.

All interested persons are welcome; the study group meets at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the church office at the rear of Calabash Barber Shop.

Dr. Francis M. Womack Jr., minister, will speak on "Truth and Mystery," a burning bush in a pragmatic world, during the 9:30 a.m. worship service on March 10.

The congregation is worshipping temporarily in the Calabash V.F.W. Hall in Traders Village.
