

Man Who Fired Shots Into Car Pleads Guilty To Assault

A man charged with firing three shots into a car in Leland pleaded guilty to assault with a deadly weapon last week when his case was heard in Brunswick County District Court.

Duncan Eric Flowers, 25, of Taylorsville, was charged Feb. 22 by Brunswick County Sheriff's Detective Kevin Holden with discharging a firearm into an occupied vehicle. He was accused of firing shots from a .38-caliber automatic pistol into a car occupied by Kenneth Elton Hooper on Village Road in Leland.

In District Court last week, Judge Jerry A. Jolly gave Flowers a two-year suspended sentence and placed him on two years' supervised probation. The defendant was also fined $200 and ordered to pay $500 in restitution to Hooper, to not go about the victim for two years and to not violate any laws for two years.

The shooting stemmed from an argument the two men had over a girlfriend, Holden said.

Wilmington police charged Hooper, of Leland, with first-degree burglary after he allegedly broke into an apartment in Wilmington where Flowers was staying, Holden said. Flowers then allegedly followed Hooper back to Leland where the shooting occurred at a stop sign on Village Road.

Three bullets hit the car Hooper was driving while a third struck the ground. Hooper told detectives that he lay down in the car when the shots were fired but later jumped from the vehicle and ran.

Sheriff's deputies found the car after it had rolled into a ditch.

Judges Jolly and D. Jack Hooks Jr. also heard the following cases in District Court last week:

Boiling Spring Lakes Man Gets 24 Weekends In Jail

A Boiling Spring Lakes man charged with possessing goods that belonged to a business destroyed by fire in February must spend 24 weekends in jail.

Mark Steven Flynt, 25, of Morehead Street, pleaded guilty in Brunswick County Superior Court last week to possession of stolen goods and a weapon of mass destruction and with selling marijuana.

Flynt was indicted on the charges by a Brunswick County Grand Jury in March. The indictments accused Flynt of receiving nine figurines, valued at $206, which were taken in a Feb. 13 break-in at the Good Vibrations Metaphysical Gift and Bookshop on N.C. 87 at Boiling Spring Lakes.

Another Boiling Spring Lakes man, Frankie Joe Cuthbert, was indicted on two breaking and entering charges and on arson charges for allegedly setting fire to the business following a break-in there around 5 a.m. on Feb. 13. He is also accused of a break-in there on Feb. 7.

In Superior Court last week, Judge Gregory A. Weeks gave Flynt a five-year suspended sentence and placed him on five years' supervised probation. He was to begin serving 24 consecutive weekends in the Brunswick County Jail on April 12, from 7 p.m. on Fridays to 9 p.m. on Sundays, for a total of 75 days.

He was also fined $250 and ordered not to use or possess any controlled substances or illegal drugs. The court found that Flynt had cooperated with the investigation.

SBI agent Kelly Moser issued warrants on March 14 for Flynt's arrest. The defendant was also charged with selling 98.6 grams of marijuana to an undercover officer on Feb. 18 and with having in his possession a rifle with an overall length of less than 26 inches.

Judge Weeks also heard the following cases in Superior Court last week:

Tyrone O'Neil, 18, of Navassa, was sentenced to 45 days in jail to begin June 3, at 9 a.m., after pleading guilty to selling cocaine. He was given a two-year, six-month suspended sentence and placed on five years' probation, ordered to serve 200 hours community service, submit to searches, pay $350 attorney fees, obtain a high school diploma or GED and to not use or possess illegal drugs.

O'Neil was charged March 7, 1990, at a Navassa ball park for selling .6 ounces of crack cocaine to an undercover SBI agent.

Curtis Williams, 42, Route 1, Bolivia, received a two-year suspended sentence and placed on five years' supervised probation after pleading guilty to simple possession of cocaine. Williams was charged with possession of three grams of cocaine on July 25, 1989 when he was arrested by a Shallotte police officer.

Clayton D. Stanley, Route 4, Loris, S.C., was sentenced to 90 days in jail to begin May 6, at 10 a.m., after pleading guilty to attempting to obtain a controlled substance by fraud. He was given a two-year suspended sentence, placed on special supervised probation, fined $250 and ordered to pay $150 in attorney fees, serve 200 hours of community service, submit to searches, report to mental health for evaluation and treatment and to not use or possess controlled substances.

Stanley was indicted on charges of attempting to acquire the drug Dilaudid from Kerr Drugs in Shallotte by forging a prescription dated Jan. 25, 1991.

Gus Jones, 46, of Navassa, was sentenced to the State Department of Corrections for 90 days after pleading guilty to assault with a deadly weapon inflicting serious injury. He was given a five-year suspended sentence and placed on supervised probation, ordered to serve 200 hours community service, to submit to tests, to receive mental health counseling, to not use or possess alcohol and to pay $400 attorney fees.

Jones was charged with firing a .22-caliber handgun and hitting Christopher Alston, also of Navassa, in the right leg last September.
