

Flight Of Imagination

Eyes shut tight as students join Patricia McLean, a professional storyteller and creative dramatist from Greensboro, on an "imagination trip" during a storytelling festival Monday morning at the West Brunswick Branch Library in Shallotte. The free program, which also featured storytelling by Cathy Bass, Felecia Hardy and Alicia and Jeanette Golding, was to be repeated Wednesday and Friday mornings at the Southport and Leland libraries.

School Board Hires Three Summer School Directors

Hiring of summer school directors and other personnel matters dominated a continued session of the Brunswick County Board of Education meeting Monday night in Southport.

The meeting was a continuation of the board's May 6 regular meeting.

In addition to hiring summer school directors, the board approved a list of routine personnel actions and granted tenure to a number of teachers.

Also, Gloria Young, staff development director, introduced six state Teaching Fellows who are observing Brunswick County Schools this week.

The group of rising college seniors includes Michelle Hart, daughter of a former school board member, Marie Hart of Southport. In addition to briefings by central office personnel on topics ranging from teacher certification to school finance, the six are visiting in various schools and classrooms around the county.

Summer school directors chosen are Sandra Robinson, South Brunswick; Latty Stanley, Shallotte Middle; and Tom Simmons, Leland Middle. Robinson is an assistant principal at West Brunswick and Simmons is acting assistant principal at Union Primary School. Stanley is assistant principal at Southport Elementary.

This year summer school directors will have classroom teaching responsibilities in addition to administrative duties, said Ralph Ward, personnel director.

He anticipates that each summer school site will be staffed with up to 10 teachers, three teacher assistants and a custodian, plus school bus drivers as needed. Those positions have not been filled.

Routinely approved were those personnel actions:

■Hiring of Elizabeth Locus, Wilmington, as computer coordinator for the central office; Steve Johnson, Bolivia, maintenance department electrical helper; Thelma Brown, Shallotte, and Sheila Washington, Supply, special therapeutic tutors, West Brunswick High; Ann Mattingly and Henry Randolph, both of Shallotte, special therapeutic tutors, Shallotte Middle; and Carol Williams, Leland, special therapeutic tutor, Leland Middle. The tutors were hired for short-term stints, starting April 13 and ending during May.

Also approved was the hiring of George Bruce, Bolivia, as a custodian at South Brunswick High School and reassignment of Michael Hankins of Bolivia from custodian at South Brunswick High to head custodian at the same school;

■Medical leave of absence for Allie Peterson of Leland, a first grade teacher at Lincoln Primary;

■Resignation of Cynthia Antill of Shallotte, a science teacher at West Brunswick High School; and ■Approval as substitute teachers of Kristen Fisher, Long Beach, William Vernon, Leland, William Flythe of Southport; Orville Hinshaw, Rocky Point; Rebecca Huntsman, Sarah Kirby and Bonita Phelps, Wilmington.

Classes Experiment With Communication

Several classes at Bolivia Elementary School recently explored two different forms of communication—the written word and visual art.

One group of fourth graders communicated their enjoyment of Shel Silverstein's poetry recently by reading stories of their own to Betty Cheers' second grade class.

The stories written and shared by Gloria Reaves' language arts class were inspired by their reading of Silverstein's Where the Sidewalk Ends.

In other activity at the school, fourth and fifth grade art students recently hosted a visit from Emily Weinstein, visiting artist at Brunswick Community College, and her dog, Daisy Mae. She discussed slides of her work and as students watched her work, demonstrated portraiture in charcoal, pastels and water color.
