Union Students Design Book Covers

Winners in the "Kids Who Read Succeed" book covers and book-marks contest at Union Primary School were recently chosen.

Students from grades one through three entered the contest, with each participating earning a certificate from school media coordinator Etherine Butler.

The program helps to bring children and books together. Last month, students read their favorite books and illustrated them by making a book cover or bookmark using their creativity and imagination.

In the bookmark competition, seven classes entered.

Winners from Wilhelmina Bellamy's kindergarten class were Bryant Price, first; Philip Conner, second; Chris Phelps, third; and Chanda Marlowe, fourth.

From Foy Cray's first-grade class, winners were James Fort, first; Eric Gible, second; Joshua Knight, third; and Lynn Clemmons, fourth.

Karen Wilmoth's second-grade class listed Lashonda Gray, first; Christina Cesenas, second; Kellie N. White, third; and Brandon H. Hagler, fourth.

From Annette Keese's second-grade class, winners were Alisha Quaintance, first; Josh Horn, second; Robey Heavener, third; and Jessica Hyatt, fourth.

Winners in Carolyn Yarbrough's second-grade class were Lindsay Whitman, first; Brandon Carlisle, second; Chris Helms, third; and Rose Candela, fourth.

In Cheryl Pitt's third-grade class, winners were Kaylon D. Hankins, first; Floyd Jamie Williams, second; Tamara Gause, third; and Jack Todd, fourth.

In David Everett's class, winners were John Canady, first; Lula Mae Sellers, second; Sissy Edwards, third; and Larry Vaught, fourth.

In the book covers competition, four classes entered.

Winners in Karen Wilmoth's second-grade class were Shannon Hughes, first; Jennifer Holland, second; Keisha Gore, third; and Lashonda Gray, fourth.

From Annette Keese's second-grade class, winners were Jessica Hiatt, first; Robey Heavener, third; and Fallon Walker, fourth.

In Carolyn Yarbrough's second-grade class, winners were Gena Best, first; Justin Davis, second; Darelva LeBlanc, third; and Lindsay Whitman, fourth.

From Cheryl Pitt's third-grade class, winners were Kasey Galloway, first; Tara Champion, second; Allyson White, third; and Jack Todd, fourth.

Judges were Virginia Lauzon, a local artist, and Velma Williams, recruiter for Brunswick Community College.

Seniors Vie For $2,500 Williamson Scholarships

Two seniors from each of Brunswick County's three high schools compete Sunday, May 19, for $2,500 one-year scholarships to be awarded in the annual Odell and Virginia Williamson Oratorical competition.

The speak-off, which is open to the public, begins at 3:30 p.m. Sunday in the Student Center at Brunswick Community College in Supply.

Competing will be winners of school competitions at West, South and North Brunswick high schools.

From West Brunswick, the finalists are Chris Byrd, Abortion: Choi- ces for America, and Elisha Smith, whose speech title was not available.

Representing South Brunswick will be Ralph Parker Jr., Controlling Your Destiny, and Amy Thomas, Never Give Up.

Speaking from North Brunswick will be James Walker III, Troubled Times, and Crystal M. Williams, No Place To Go.

Each of these students has already received a $100 cash prize as a local school winner.

One senior boy and one senior girl will each receive a one-time, non-renewable $2,500 scholarship to the North Carolina four-year college or university, or two-year transfer program of their choice.

Entrants in the competition must have attended Brunswick County Schools for at least two years.

Competing in the local school contests were these additional students: Jamie Galloway, Jeff Letino, Daniel Whaley, Tonya Smith and Michelle Johnson, West Brunswick; Anthony Justice, Locke Karriker, Timothy Myles, Teresa Butler and Kristin Jones, South Brunswick; and Tabitha King, Chris McBride and Tim Kelly, North Brunswick.

ROCAME Teams Win 4 First-Place Awards

Brunswick County teams won first place in four of 10 events in the annual Region O Council for the Advancement of Minorities in Engineering (ROCAME) jamboree held at UNC-Wilmington April 27.

The local teams also won second place in two events while competing with ROCAME students from four area school systems.

Julian Bryant, of North Brunswick High, won first place in the mousetrap car competition. Terri Smith and Bonnie Lee, of South Brunswick High, won a first-place award in the scrapbook competition. Ms. Smith serves as its editor while Ms. Lee is an artist.

Tamara Johnson, of South Brunswick High, won first place in the process paper competition.

All-county quiz bowl teams won both the middle school and high school events. Members of the middle school team were Ali Knox, captain, and Deon Bowman, both of Leland Middle; Jayda Grant, of South Brunswick Middle; and Tiffaney Marlow, of Waccamaw Elementary.

Members of the high school quiz bowl team were Timmy Myles, captain, of South Brunswick; Julian Bryant and Rona Martin, of North Brunswick; and Tikila Morgan, of West Brunswick.

All-county teams won second place in industrial engineering competitions at both the middle and high school levels.

Students on the middle school team, called The Untouchables, were Corey Bell, Brad Moody and Shalane King, of Waccamaw Elementary; Jayda Grant and Amie Sidberry of South Brunswick; Deon Bowman, manager, Kyron Bryant, Crystal Davis, Shayla Waddell, Ali Knox, Clifford Sharon and Treja Evans, of Leland Middle.

On the high school industrial engineering team, called Brunswick Construction, were Isaac Brown, manager, Travis Sidberry, Jerome James and Dale Bellamy, of South Brunswick; Laurinda Hill, Michelle Morgan and Sigmund Jenrette, of West Brunswick; and Rona Martin, Kleist Bowman, Chasidy Delts, Charity Delts and Stephanie Cotton, of North Brunswick.

School coordinators attending the event were Shirley Williamson and Ophelia Keaton, of Leland Middle; Gloria Blanks, of North Brunswick; Sybil Mitchell-Simmons, of Waccamaw Elementary; Anita Benton, of West Brunswick; and Dr. William Flythe, of South Brunswick.
