

Judge Increases Bond For Man Charged In Southport Robbery

A Brunswick County District Court judge has doubled bond for a Southport man charged with the armed robbery of a convenience store there.

Judge D. Jack Hooks Jr. increased bond for Rasheen Rashad, 23, also known as Michael Hill, of Jabbertown Road, from $125,000 to $250,000 following a probable cause hearing in District Court last week.

Hooks found probable cause existed for the armed robbery charge against Rashad and ordered that his case be bound over to Brunswick County Superior Court.

Rashad was one of two men arrested in Raleigh three days after they allegedly held up the Handy Hugo convenience store at N.C. 211 and Long Beach Road near Southport on Sept. 16.

Also charged with armed robbery was Lorenzo Smith, 25, of Southport. The two men are accused of entering the store around 10:45 p.m. carrying guns.

A clerk was ordered to the floor while the suspects allegedly took money from the register and then fled west on N.C. 211.

Brunswick County sheriff's detectives contacted Raleigh police that the suspects might be headed there. Raleigh police apprehended them and also recovered a stolen car, which had not been stolen in Brunswick County.

Following their arrest, bond had been set for the men at $125,000 each. At a first appearance in District Court Sept. 23, bond was reduced for Smith to $20,000. He will have a probable cause hearing Oct. 29.

Judges Hooks and David G. Wall also heard the following cases in District Court for the period Oct. 14-15:

Seven Suspects Linked To Area Theft Ring

BY TERRY POPE

Brunswick County sheriff's detectives have linked seven suspects to a theft ring said to be responsible for taking thousands of dollars of property from several Shallotte area homes and businesses.

Four men were being held in the Brunswick County Jail Monday morning on various breaking and entering and larceny charges. Warrants were drawn on three other suspects detectives are still trying to locate.

Detective Billy Hughes said a break in the case came last week when Deputy Shelton Caison received an anonymous tip that the suspects were in Horry County, S.C., with two stolen vehicles.

The cars had been reported stolen from Oceanway Auto Sales at Grissetown south of Shallotte, said Hughes.

When officers approached the car two suspects ran, said Hughes. Two people who remained inside the vehicle gave officers the names of the suspects, he said.

CRIME REPORT

"Stemming from that incident, there have been 11 cases solved," said Hughes, who was assisted in the investigation by Sheriff's Detective Don Stovall and Shallotte Detective Tom Hunter.

Officers have charged the following men with a number of break-ins that occurred over the past three months: Swindell Daniels, of Hickman's Crossroads; Willie "Mack" McNeil, of Route 7, Shallotte; Johnny Williams, of U.S. 17 south, Shallotte; and Andre Davis, of the Cedar Grove community.

The men are accused of several break-ins at Sea Village, Acme Convenient Store at Grissetown, a home on Green Bay Road and Oceanview Auto Sales, said Hughes.

Detectives believe some of the suspects are also responsible for a Shallotte break-in and the forgery and uttering of checks taken from an Ocean Isle Beach home.

Televisions, microwaves, guns and telephones had been stolen from the homes. At one break-in, an estimated $11,000 in goods was stolen, including two motorcycles. Some of the items were recovered from one of the vehicles, said Hughes.

As of Monday morning, bond had not been set on the four suspects held in jail pending the filing of additional warrants, said Hughes.

In other reports on file at the sheriff's department:

■A truck stolen from a Town Creek Road home last Wednesday was found parked at the entrance to Palmer's Branch subdivision on Friday, Deputy Steve Mason reported. It had been driven 60 miles but was undamaged. A wallet and $19 had been stolen from the home.

■Someone used an ax to break open a drink machine at the Phoenix Country Store on Mt. Misery Road early Monday, causing $400 in damage. An estimated $55 in change was taken, reported Deputy William Hewett. The man walked from behind the store with the ax and fled to the woods after the incident.

■An estimated $21,464 in goods was stolen from a home on Old Maco Road between Oct. 14 and 18, reported Mason. A stereo, television, microwave, appliances, safe, jewelry and guns were taken after a rear door was forced open.

■A $400 television was taken from a Sandy Creek Drive home Saturday after someone pried open a door, causing $250 in damage, Deputy William Hewett reported.

■A $3,000 Chevrolet Camaro was stolen from a home at Leland Mobile Home Estates Sunday, reported Deputy Brian Sanders. The victim was staying with friends and had left the keys inside the car.

■A deer hunter told Sanders that a car he left parked on the shoulder of U.S. 74-76 near Maco Saturday morning was stolen, but the 1973 Oldsmobile had been towed away by the State Highway Patrol instead while the man was in the woods, said Lt. Donnell Marlowe.

■Vandals tried to pry open a telephone line box near the Old Forest Store on Mt. Misery Road early Sunday, causing $2,500 in damage, Sanders reported. The box, owned by Southern Bell, had been dented but the wiring was not exposed.
