CLUB BRIEFS

Gwen Causey To Head North Carolina 1812 Society

Gwen Clemmons Causey of Supply has been installed as the 1991-94 president of the North Carolina Society, U.S. Daughters of 1812.

She was installed by national president Mrs. George E. Lundeen of Sanford at the 1991 State Council Meeting held Sept. 28 at Greensboro College.

Mrs. George E. Thompson of Emerald Isle, a native of Supply, will serve as chaplain.

During Mrs. Causey's term, the National Society will observe its 100th anniversary (1992).

The society's purpose is to promote patriotism and to preserve and increase knowledge of American history, particularly through the awareness of the deeds of those who helped shape the government and protect the country between the close of the American Revolution and the close of the War of 1812.

Membership is open to women 18 and older with satisfactory proof of lineal descent of an ancestor who rendered civil, military or naval service during the period 1784-1815, subject to approval of the society.

Club Slates Auction

Long Bay Garden Club members made plans for its November auction during its October 17 meeting at the home of Carol Roycroft in Shallotte.

The club's main fundraising event of the year, the auction will be held Nov. 21 starting at 7 p.m. at the home of Tom and Vickie Jones of Shallotte. Crafts, recipe booklets and other items will be featured.

At the October meeting, led by President Ann Laughinghouse, the club welcomed new member Dolores Evans; heard from Sybil McLamb that $50 was donated to Brunswick Adult Day Care Center to help in landscaping its Shallotte site; and gave Dianne Baxley the October rating sheet award for planting and recycling.

Members also scheduled a wreath-making work session Dec. 7 at the West Brunswick Branch Library. The wreaths will be used to decorate the library and Shallotte Senior Citizens Center for the holidays.

After the meeting the group participated in a trash can covering workshop led by Vickie Jones.

Fruitcakes For Sale

The Shallotte Lions Club begins its annual Claxton Fruit Cake sale Friday, Nov. 1.

One-pound cakes from the Georgia bakery will be available at local financial institutions and businesses for $2.50 per pound or three pounds for $7.

Proceeds from the sale will go toward Lions Club sight conservation projects in the community, said Don Eggert, project chairman. The Shallotte Lions Club provides eye glasses and eye examinations to the needy in the Shallotte area.

New Club Forming

A new Toastmasters International club is being organized in the Town Creek community and will meet at Zion United Methodist Church.

An organizational/demonstration meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 14, in the fellowship hall of the church, said the Rev. Billy Peele, a member of the organizing committee.

"We wish to invite all interested persons in our area to come see what Toastmasters is really like," said Peele. "We know that Toastmasters will be good for our community."

Toastmasters International is a nonprofit, worldwide organization whose members help each other to become better listeners, speakers, thinkers and leaders.

Zion Church is located on Zion Church Road (old U.S. 17), north of Winnabow.

Interested persons who want more information about the club, but will not be able to attend the meeting, are asked to call Peele at 253-5349.

Winners Announced

Holden VFW Post No. 8866 and its auxiliary have announced winners of the drawings held Saturday at their N.C. Festival By The Sea booth by post Commander David Bellamy and Addison Hayes, past commander.

Linda Boso of Fayetteville won the 13-inch color television set and Ernie Cooper won the Bryan Varnam print of the U.S. Coast Guard Station at Oak Island.

Proceeds of the project will be used in efforts to obtain a VFW post home, said auxiliary publicity chairperson Lena Mannara.

Bellamy and his wife, Helen, and Howard and Aleese Grissett represented the VFW and Auxiliary in the festival parade, a tribute to those who served in Desert Storm.

Seniors Will Dine

The Town Creek Senior Citizens Club will hold its annual Thanksgiving covered dish dinner in conjunction with its regular meeting Thursday, Nov. 7.

The meeting begins at noon at the Town Creek Township Park Community Building on U.S. 17 in Winnabow.

Lena Beachum, club president, said the club will furnish meat for barbeque, and all club members are to bring their favorite covered dish.

Part of the meeting will be devoted to planning a club project, gathering food donations for the Brunswick County Volunteer and Information Center.

For more information, call Bill Dunn at 845-2163.
