A 15-foot tall tree will be lighted for the holiday season, said Coordinator Alex Mearns of the South Brunswick Islands Rotary Club.

A half-hour musical program will feature the band and chorus of West Brunswick High School and a sing-along.

Santa Claus will arrive aboard a Shallotte VFD fire engine, bringing candy for children who attend the program.

Waterway Regatta Will Ring In Season At North Myrtle

Boats will once again vent their way up the Atlantic Intracoastal Waterway in a festive holiday display Saturday, Nov. 30, when the Jaycees of North Myrtle Beach, S.C., hold their seventh annual Intracoastal Christmas Regatta.

The event will include a food drive for needy families in that area.

The event begins at 4:30 p.m. at Tilghman Point, and the public is invited to watch the night-time marine parade along the Atlantic Intracoastal Waterway as dozens of boats pass by, said Amy Bruton, publicity director for the Jaycees. The parade route ends approximately 7 p.m. at Vereen's Marina in North Myrtle Beach.

Ms. Bruton said that admission will be accepted in their traditional asking form of canned goods, unwrapped toy or financial contribution which the Jaycees will be collecting to distribute to underprivileged families during the holiday season.

Boat owners will be competing in the regatta by dressing up their vessels with lights, music and other decorations. The entry fee for boats is $25 each.

Awards will be presented in five different categories: sailboat, power boat, power boat (27 feet to 50 feet), power boat (over 50 feet) and pontoon/houseboat. Winners of each category will be announced at the awards ceremony held Dec. 1 at Palmetto Shores Marina, North Myrtle Beach.

For more information, or to make a contribution, contact the North Myrtle Beach Jaycees, 803-272-3462, or the Palmetto Shores Marina, 803-249-4131.
