CHURCH ACTIVITIES

Church Dedicates New Facility Sunday

Calabash Presbyterian Church will meet for its first Sunday morning worship in its new building on Georgetown Road Nov. 24 at 9:30 a.m.

Leading the Thanksgiving dedication of the facility will be the Rev. Dr. Francis M. Womack Jr., pastor. Other participants will include the Rev. Dr. John MacLeod, general presbytery of Coastal Carolina Presbytery; the Rev. Jerry McCann, former interim pastor; the Rev. Lewis W. Fowler, presbytery associate for church growth; and others who have had a part in the life of the new congregation.

During the ceremony the building committee, led by Tom Medeiros, will receive keys from the general contractor, Darius Lewellyn. In turn, the keys will be presented to the session of the church. A fellowship period will follow.

The congregation has been worshipping in the VFW Hall at Traders Village in Calabash. Organized in 1990, the church began construction this past June.

Its new facility includes a combination sanctuary and fellowship hall that will seat 175 people, a kitchen, two offices and a large classroom.

The building is being completely furnished with equipment and furnished donated by members and friends of the church. The chancel furniture was designed and built by members, with funds for materials provided by a contributor to the church. A family in the church has donated a new organ and other individuals have donated items that will enhance worship and make fellowship events possible.

Attending Conference

A group of local women will be attending the Women's Aglow International Conference Nov. 20-23 in Orlando, Fla.

The 10 women attending from Shallotte are: Tuddie Dixon, Annette Ward, Irene McCrackin, Marlene Varnum, Elaine Pigott, Gizella Mutshinski, Jean Barber, Jean Leggett, Toni Iossi and Johnnie Smith.

They will hear a variety of speakers as training for their part in world ministry.

Training Rally Set

A discipleship training rally will be featured at the Brunswick Baptist Association Mission or "M" Night Monday, Nov. 25, at First Baptist Church of Oak Island.

The Rev. Horace Jackson, a pastor emeritus from Wilmington, will lead the 7 p.m. training program.

CEDAR GROVE AREA NEWS

Give Thanks For Safe Returns

BY BARBARA HEWETT

The Thanksgiving holidays are right around the corner.

HEWETT

We who have had friends and loved ones returned to us from the Persian Gulf have something extra to give thanks for this year.

A year ago so many were fearful of what was about to happen or had already happened in the Gulf region. Our hearts are thankful.

Three Dedicated

Three babies were given back to the Lord in a dedication service Sunday after worship service at Cedar Grove Missionary Baptist Church.

All three are grandchildren of the Rev. Freeman Gause, pastor, who performed the ceremony. They are Kendra Jabril and Lendra Abril Gause, twins of Lendred and Berta Gause and godsons of Evelyn Johnson, and Kierra Danielle Shields, daughter of Permelia and Billy Shields of South Carolina and goddaughter of Louise Gause.

Many relatives and friends from Pleasant View and Pleasant Grove congregations attended the ceremony.

Union Well Represented

Ocean View Union was well represented at the 10th annual Youth Evangelism Conference. Not only a chartered bus but many cars took local young people, their supervisors, teachers, assistant principals and state officers to Raleigh.

They enjoyed music by the Johnson County Union Youth Mass Choir as well as the ministry of the Rev. Gregory Moss of Reidsville, historian for the General Baptist State Convention.

Bryant Attends Session

James Hobson Bryant, a deacon at Cedar Grove, can be depended upon to help keep members current on Christian activities across the state.

Most recently he attended the annual session of the General Baptist State Convention, Inc. at Cornerstone Missionary Baptist Church in Greenville.

Birthday Greetings

Tune In

Be sure to listen to WVCB (1410 AM) in Shallotte for the Cedar Grove Area News Thursdays at 3 p.m. and Saturdays at 10:15 a.m. On Sunday evenings listen for the Moments of Inspiration gospel music ministry.
