Bus Going To Mid-Year Event

BY BARBARA T. HEWETT

There's never a dull or slow moment for the young people of Ocean View Association and their supervisors.

HEWETT

On Saturday, Jan. 11, a chartered bus will leave Mt. Zion Baptist Church in Longwood bound for the Raleigh Civic Center, site of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Convention's mid-year session.

Youth of the association and Supervisors Arvella Marlow and Dorothy Lee Frink will be on board and are scheduled to help minister in music at the session.

Young people who haven't made their bus reservations are to call their local church supervisor right away, since the supervisors' reports are due.

A special feature of the program will be a memorial service for the late Minnie C. Lyons, a retired missionary who died in November at age 105 and whose funeral was held in Durham Nov. 14 at Ebenezer Missionary Baptist Church. She had retired from the mission field at Brewerville, Liberia, Africa, where a girls' dormitory bears her name. Arvella Marlow and the Ocean View youth have led the convention in donating books for the library there.

Choirs To Gather
The Choirs Confederation will gather at Rutland Chapel Jan. 12 at 2 p.m. for its monthly songfest, with the public invited.

This interdenominational group, with representatives from 11 area churches, has been gathering regularly since its beginning in the Bolivia area around the middle of this century. Its purpose is to inspire its listeners and lift a united voice in praise.

Birthday Greetings
Happy birthday to William Adolph Turner, Matthew Randal Wilkins and Ala Kay Small.

Tune In
Be sure to listen to WVCB Radio (1410 A.M.) in Shalotte for the Cedar Grove Area News Thursdays at 3 p.m. and Saturdays at 10:15 a.m. On Sunday evenings listen for the Moments of Inspiration gospel music ministry.

Weekly Scripture
The Scripture for the week comes from Psalms 82, "Defend the poor and fatherless, do justice to the afflicted and needy. Deliver the poor and needy, rid them out of the hands of the wicked."

CHURCH ACTIVITIES

Seaside UMC Receives Grant

Seaside United Methodist Church has received a grant of $25,000 from The Duke Endowment to help fund construction of a multipurpose facility for education, administration and parish life.

"This new building will add tremendously to the life of our parish," said Paul Justice, chair of the building committee, in thanking the endowment, other major contributors and congregational members.

Plans for a 9,400-square-foot structure, with classrooms, an administrative wing and kitchen. The estimated cost is $765,000, with completion targeted for May. Quinn Sweeney is project director for Phil Sharpe Architects of Wilmington.

Founded in 1924 by North Carolina industrialist James Buchanan Duke, the Endowment is one of the nation's largest private foundations with assets of more than $1 billion. It assists not-for-profit hospitals and child-care institutions in the Carolinas, rural United Methodist churches and Furham and Johnson C. Smith universities.

"Seaside United Methodist Church members and their pastor, the Rev. Camille Yorkey Edwards, are to be congratulated for their vision and progress," said the Rev. Albert F. Fisher, director of the Endowment's Rural Church Division. "We feel a great deal of confidence in the church's ability to complete this much-needed facility."

To Address Aglow

Carol Richardson of Bath, past president of Northeastern North Carolina Aglow, will be guest speaker at the Jan. 11 meeting of Shalotte Women's Aglow Fellowship.

RICHARDSON

The meeting will be held at the Lockwood Folly Community Building on Stanbury Road near Holden Beach. Refreshments will be served at 9:30 a.m. and the meeting starts at 10 a.m., said spokesperson Jean Barber.

Mrs. Richardson presently serves on the Board of Laity for the Greenville District United Methodist Churches. She has conducted many preaching services, revivals, retreats, Bible studies and seminars in the Methodist and other denominations.

All women and teenage girls are invited to attend the meeting. For more information, call Tuddie Dixon, president, at 842-6565.

Aglow Meets

Southport Women's Aglow Fellowship will meet at Western Sizzlin' Steakhouse on Long Beach Road in Southport Saturday, Jan. 18, at 10 a.m.

Sandy Pigott of Shalotte will be the featured speaker.

All women and teenaged girls are invited to attend and worship with the group.

Thompson To Sing

Kelly Nelson Thompson of Smyrna, Ga., formerly of the Rex Nelson Singers, will perform Saturday, Jan. 18, at 7:30 p.m. in Lettices Grove Church.

Pastor Maurice Milligan and Music Director Sandy Duran invite the public to attend.

The church is located about one mile north of Shalotte off U.S. 17.

Missions Team Performs

An international musical and mime missions team from Toccoa Falls College, Toccoa, Ga., will perform Mandated 1992 at Cape Fear Alliance Church near Southport Sunday, Jan. 12, at 6 p.m.

The church is located on N.C. 87 and N.C. 133.

According to a news release, Mandated 1992 is "a sight and sound presentation of the believer's responsibility for world evangelism, implementing a forceful combination of mime, music, visual and spoken word."

The team will be accompanied by the Rev. Paul Burkhardt, missionary in residence, from Irian Jaya, Indonesia. He and his wife, Jeannie, have served in remote areas of Irian since 1967 as church planters, Bible school teachers, translators and evangelists and in medical ministries.

Toccoa Falls College is an interdenominational Christian college.

Building Project Affects Schedule

Sunday School classes will not meet at Calvary Baptist Church in Shalotte for at least the next three weeks because of the renovation and expansion of the sanctuary and other church facilities in progress.

Worship, prayer meeting and other services will continue on their regular schedule, but will be held in the fellowship hall, said the Rev. John Landers, pastor. Those services include Sunday morning worship, with junior church and nursery available, Sunday evening worship and Wednesday night prayer meeting.

"We're looking forward to being back in the sanctuary in about a month with the baptistry, new choir loft and new carpet in place," said Landers.

The church is located on N.C. 179 in Shalotte.
