

Introducing A Brand New Store Based On Some Old Ideas.

WAL★MART®

Dear Shallotte,

It's a brand new store. But it's run on a firm belief in the old idea that a company's most valued asset is you -- the customer.

You'll feel it the moment you are greeted by an associate ready to help you find just what you're looking for.

You'll see it again when you compare prices. Because at Wal-Mart, you'll always find the low price, everywhere you look, every day, on the brands you've come to know and trust.

And you'll experience it in the service you'll receive from dedicated people who are willing to keep their pledge "satisfaction guaranteed" always.

It's a big new store, filled to the brim with new merchandise. What it stands for has been around for a long, long time.

That is what you'll find at the new Wal-Mart store. This is who we are.

Always.
