Brunswick Woman Receives YWCA Achievement Award

Health care administrator Carrie M. Davis of Supply was Brunswick County's sole recipient of a 1992 YWCA Cape Fear Women of Achievement Award, presented May 7 during an awards banquet in Wilmington.

DAVIS

Ms. Davis was honored for her achievements in business. Awards were also given for work in the arts, community service, education, government, human services, industry, professions, sports and recreation, teen leadership and entrepreneurial achievement. Twelve of 45 nominees for the regional awards were from Brunswick County.

As vice president and administrator, Ms. Davis led Comprehensive Home Health Care, a company with seven offices in southeastern North Carolina, to become the first in the state of its kind to be accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation for Health Care Organizations. She was responsible for selecting middle management staff for all branch locations.

Ms. Davis was recognized for choosing talented, competent managers and giving her staff professional responsibility and autonomy while still being available for guidance and support.

Active in her church, Ms. Davis is Chair of Foreign Missions, which provides a link between her community and the health professions and organizes activities to heighten AIDS and drug awareness. She was instrumental in the successful effort to maintain existing volunteer rescue services to Supply in 1991.

Ms. Davis is a board member for the local district N.C. Nursing Association and the health occupations department at West Brunswick High School. She currently serves on the strategic planning committee of the N.C. Home Care Association and was a member of its standards and ethics committee for two years.

Other women and girls from Brunswick County nominated for the eighth annual Women of Achievement Awards include Elizabeth Baxter, Lucille D. Blake, Judith A. Brown, Grace M. Burton, Alison Paige Cumbee, Carrie M. Davis, Melody C. Gause, Maryn Foley Hall, Connie B. Milliken, Terri Antoinette Smith, Sarah Tripp, and Carolyn Segraves Williams.

New Classes Begin At BCC

The continuing education department at Brunswick Community College has announced several new courses for June. All classes will be held on the school's main campus on U.S. 17 north of Supply.

An emergency medical technician/ambulance attendant recertification course will be offered Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. in the ALS multipurpose room beginning May 28 and continuing through July 14.

The course should be of particular interest to rescue volunteers wishing to take the state exam on July 25, according to BCC Continuing Education Director Perry Hall.

A registration fee of $30 will be required. The course is free for all police, fire and rescue personnel.

Participants may register on the first night of the course. The instructor will be EMT-1 Lee Shepherd.

An instructor methodology course for rescue technicians, EMTs and fire services personnel will be held Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays June 1 through July 16 from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. in the basic law enforcement training classroom. Cost of the course is $30. No pre-registration is required. Ronald Hewett will be the instructor.

A Level I Spanish course will be offered June 1 to August 26 on Mondays and Wednesdays from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. Paul Hernandez will teach the course, which can be applied toward teacher renewal credits. No pre-registration is required. The cost will be $30.
