Security Wins Top Prize In Contest

Security Savings & Loan in downtown Shallotte claimed the traveling trophy awarded each year in the best decorated storefront contest held by the South Brunswick Islands Chamber of Commerce.

Part of the Hometown Holidays shop-at-home promotion, this year's contest with its "Home for the Holidays" theme drew 14 entries that were judged last week.

Garlands and large red bows decorated the entrance to Security's Main Street office, with a tree continuing the theme inside.

Shallotte Electric was second place winner and Shallotte Marine Supplies, last year's winner, received an honorable mention.

"All businesses were festively decorated and much thought and hard work went into each storefront decoration," indicated a chamber news release.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Hubert Brittain Heads BEMC Board

Hubert Brittain of Bolivia was elected president of the Brunswick Electric Membership Corp. Board of Directors at the board's reorganization meeting Dec. 17 in Shallotte.

BRITTAIN SIMMONS

tion meeting Dec. 17 in Shallotte. Brittain has been a member of the board since 1982, with his current term to expire in 1994. He replaces Frederick Tedder of Columbus County as president and will lead an all-new slate of officers for the co-op.

Also elected last Thursday were Jo Ann Bellamy Simmons of Ash, vice president, who was elected to the board in October; Calvin Duncan of Clarkton, secretary-treasurer; and Moses C. Herring of Supply, assistant secretary-treasurer. Duncan has been a director since 1991 and his current term ends in 1994. Herring has served on the board since 1982; his current term will end in 1993.

At Thursday's meeting, first-time board members Jack W. Miller of Guideway, D.V. Jones Jr. of Long Beach and Simmons were sworn in to office, said BEMC spokesman Phillip Morgan.

The cooperative provides electricity to members across much of Brunswick County and Columbus County and a small area in Bladen County.

CP&L Calendars In Mail
Calendars featuring nature scenes and safety instructions are in the mail to residents in the 10-mile area around Carolina Power & Light's Brunswick plant, a company news release states.

"Our theme for the 1993 safety information calendar is preserving state parks," said Richard E. Morgan Sr., interim manager of the Brunswick Nuclear Project.

In addition to nature photographs, the calendars contain information about emergency plans for the Brunswick plant. Each monthly page reflects public safety information such as the public warning system and instructions on what to do in an emergency. It also shows public evacuation routes and shelters.

Along with the calendar, CP&L is mailing a brochure for residents to put in the glove compartments of their cars. The brochure includes the basic emergency information contained in the calendar.

CP&L developed the calendar and brochure in cooperation with Brunswick and New Hanover counties and the N.C. Department of Crime Control and Public Safety.

Holden Merchants To Meet
The Greater Holden Beach Merchants Association will elect officers at its Jan. 5 meeting, set for 7 p.m. at the Quarterdeck Restaurant.

All officers' positions are up for election—president, vice president, treasurer and secretary. The association does not present a slate, and all nominations are made from the floor and voted on by the members present.

All members of good standing for 1992 will be eligible to vote, as well as new members who sign up and pay the $30 annual membership fee before the meeting begins.

In addition, the group's tentative agenda includes a vote on the dollar amount to be donated to fire and rescue, discussion of this year's "Day at the Docks," the Holden Beach brochure, causeway improvements, Festival By The Sea Logo for 1993 and discussion of long-term goals for 1993 and beyond.

Winners Announced
Five more shoppers are winners in the "Hometown Holidays" shop-at-home promotion sponsored by the South Brunswick Islands Chamber of Commerce.

Shoppers were able to register each week at nearly 40 area businesses for gifts of merchandise and special chamber "dollars" redeemable for merchandise at participating businesses.

Winning merchandise prizes were Thomas Reaves of Calabash, wall clock from Tripp's Jewelry Shop; Ida Johnson of Bolivia, dinner for one at Sizzling Sirloin Steakhouse; and Trudy Freeman of Shallotte, electric grill from Brunswick Electric Membership Corp.

The final and largest round of drawings was to be held Dec. 23.

Directors Chosen
Five members have been elected and one appointed to the South Brunswick Islands Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors.

Re-elected to three-year terms were Sheila McLamb of McLamb, Anderson & McLamb Attorneys at Law, and David Batten of Brunswick Electric Membership

Corp. New directors elected to three-year terms are William T. Russ Jr., Allstate Insurance; Don Evans, Coastal Insurance & Realty; and Tripp Sloane, Sloane Realty.

Also, the chamber board appointed David Sandifer of Holden Beach Properties to complete the remaining two years of the unexpired term of Ed Shreve of Shreve Brothers' Properties. Shreve resigned due to business conflicts.

Election results were tallied Dec. 9 and the new directors invited to the board's December board meeting. They will also participate in the chamber's annual planning treatment Jan. 19 at Brierwood Clubhouse.

Earns Certification
Alice Fields of Holden Beach, a radiologic technologist at The Brunswick Hospital, recently received certification in the field of mammography.

To become a certified mammographer, an individual must have previous experience as a registered radiologic technologist and pass the subsequent board examination. Certification in mammography is currently not required for radiologic technologists.

Fields has been employed by The Brunswick Hospital for four years and has more than 11 years of experience as a radiologic technologist.

"Mammography is one of the fastest growing healthcare services available today," said Fields. "It has earned recognition among women of all ages, as they are realizing its critical role in the prevention of breast cancer."

Anderson Chosen
Teresa Anderson has been chosen as December employee of the month at The Brunswick Hospital. A six-year employee, she is director of medical records.

A fellow employee who nominated her said, "Teresa is a friendly and caring person who is always ready to do more than she is asked to do. Nothing is ever too much trouble for her and she is congenial with everyone."

Anderson received a rosebud corsage, a complimentary meal and a cash prize.
