hind them.”
Other Holcombs include Ryn, who has made her peace with the pink room, and 16-year-old Jason, a June graduate of West Brunswick High School.

Then there's Phil, who works with Cooke Realty and dashed home only long enough to be photographed. His one complaint about the house is that his downstairs study, doubling as an emergency guest accommodation, is its smallest room.

“In our other house, though, his office was the dining table,” Mary Mack protested. “At least he has a study now. That was another reason for us to build: the dining table got too full.”

The house will be open to the public this fall as part of a home tour planned in Ocean Isle Beach as a benefit for the Museum of Coastal Carolina, where Mary Mack is an enthusiastic volunteer.
