BY LYNNE GAUSE

This is the season when women like to go on shopping trips. A girl becomes bored with winter finery and needs a change. We are very fortunate in eastern Carolina, because we enjoy four fashion changes each year.

Fashion shops carry a variety of new spring numbers this year. The beautiful powder pink, white, dynamic red and white, navy and white and bold orange, water green and yellow are high on the fashion agenda. You can choose these to suit your moods. Styles seem to flow this year. Hemlines cover the knees. Slacks are still an important part of the fashion scene. Evening clothes are prettier than ever in chiffon and crepe de chine.

The designers seem to have comfort in mind as they are omitting the bulky zippers and using the tie and wrap method. Drawstrings are being used to cinch the waistline and elasticized shirring and smocking add to the pretty shape of milady.

The blazer is making a big hit this spring. Tailored suits are in. A girl can satisfy any whim in her mode of dress this spring. Spring clothes seem to have a natural appeal. The designers have out done themselves without any sensational changes. The hemlines have not been drastically changed. If you think the sameness is boring, take another glance. You have a fresh new individual look because the new styles are designed to take their shape from the wearer's figure and movements.

Evening clothes are wispy and sexy without hugging the body. The flow of crepe de chine is as feminine as anything ever designed.

In looking at spring fashions we see suede combined with synthetic blends in all types of sportswear creations. These suede look-alikes can be tossed in the washing machine, according to fashion experts. This fabric can also be seen in handbags, hats and belts. Check your labels for laundering instructions. Wearers will be happy to know garments made from this fabric are wrinkle resistant. You can touch up with a warm iron.

Shoes for spring range from casual, traditional to elegant and are a lovely accent to milady's wardrobe.

Fancy handbags are popular with designers this spring. Intriguing evening bags are small and some can double as table ornaments. Picture a bag fashioned of seashells that compliments your evening gown and after the party serves as a table decoration. It can be a great conversation piece.

This should be an interesting season of fashions. I must make a note on my bulletin board to treat myself to a shopping excursion very soon. I enjoy spring buying more than any other time of year. I guess it is because mother nature dons her brightest, most beautiful colors as she awakens the sleeping earth in spring. Her symphony begins the season with music that seems to say, "Come alive—be an intrical part of the miraculous rebirth of the world."

This year the fashion experts seem to be telling us to be happy as well as pretty in our new fashion wardrobes.

In And Around Oriental

By MRS. G.P. MIDYETTE
This writer has been out of town since Friday, March 26 until Monday the 29th so most of this news is second hand.

Fine Arts Festival
Mrs. Inez Hargrove and I have been attending the Fine Arts Festival in Winston-Salem and are glad to report that two of the nine blue ribbon winners that were on exhibit won red ribbons, or second place on the state level. The two winning articles were weaving by Suzanne Bond and a crewel embroidered skirt made by Mrs. Louise Oldham.

When we see all the beautiful things there in the 39 categories of crafts from all the 16 districts represented, many of which won nothing, we can indeed feel proud to have won two second place ribbons.

Our Public Speaking contestant, Avis Squires, was second runner up in her speech on "Unity in Service with Love." There were speakers from each of the 16 districts in the North Carolina Federation of Woman's Clubs, with four different topics. The young man who won used the same topic as Avis.

Other topics were, "Happy Birthday, U.S.A.," "You Have Come a Long Way, Uncle Sam. What Now?" and, "North Carolina, First in Freedom."

Mrs. Hargrove and I were thrilled with the sincerity, ability, excitement and imagination of these high school students, our young people, as they gave their speeches. It is a way of having our faith and pride reinforced in the youth of our country.

Attended Banquet
Mrs. Cheri Bond joined Mrs. G. P. Midyette in Raleigh on Monday, March 29 for the banquet given by "Keep North Carolina Beautiful, Inc." at the close of the year-end meeting. Following the banquet awards were presented to the communities in nine different categories, first, second, and third place winners.

Oriental had been notified that they had won one of the top three awards in category No. 2. When Oriental was called it was for a third place award, a beautifully framed certificate of merit for helping to make our part of North Carolina more beautiful.

Children's Choir Festival
Many of our people went from Oriental to New Bern on Saturday, March 29 to take children and to hear the Children's Choir Festival. There were 286 children gathered in Centenary Methodist Church from 21 churches in the vicinity. There were 34 in the group from Oriental. Those who heard the concert were thrilled to tears and said it was the most beautiful sound they had ever heard.

Residents of Oriental will be given several chances to hear our part of the group as they will sing at the Free Will Baptist Church or Methodist Church and will make up their choir on the opening night of First Baptist's revival. Mrs. Ruth Statham trained the Oriental group.

At Community Concert
Those attending the Community Concert in New Bern Monday night, March 29 were Helen Stephens, Mary Harris and Ivey Gilgo.

Rotary Ann's Were Guests
The Rotary Club entertained their Rotary Ann's at the Oriental Marina Restaurant

Monday night, March 29. Andy Denmark, president, presided. One new member, Richard Uthoff and his wife, Rosemary, were recognized.

Jimmy Ragan presented Miss LaVerne Parker, art teacher at Pamlico County Senior High School. She gave a very entertaining demonstration of wipe out art, a method used by Rembrandt. Miss Parker encouraged everyone to attend the art show showing of her students at the High School May 7.

On Visit
Arol Land is visiting his nephew, Julian Land, in Florida. He is also taking in some of the tourist attractions.

Enters Hospital
Mrs. Blanche Sanders entered Craven County Hospital Friday night. She had a cardiac arrest Sunday morning and is reported to be very sick in the cardiac care unit. It has been reported that she underwent surgery on Monday for the removal of a blood clot in her leg. Her name has been added to our prayer list for cottage prayer meetings to be held this week with Mrs. W. G. Dixon on Wednesday night.

Others on the prayer list are Rena Daniels, John Bond, Bruce Tingle, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hall, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Lacy Henry, Mrs. Beulah Hill, grandmother of Mrs. Sally Midyette; Mr. and Mrs. Silverthorne, Flavell Mills, Carson Sloan, Lucille Murray, Mrs. Bobby Statham, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Ashburn, Mrs. Bryan Phelps, Ricky Miller, Carl Nuerburg, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Keever Lewis, Edith Kelly, Mrs. Johnny Shines, Gary Slade; Leona Lupton, Eunice Gilgo, Ruby Watson, Becky Lupton and family, Mary Harris, Mrs. Garland Fulcher and her mother, Mrs. Jennie Langley; Mrs. Muade Walker, Mr. Ben O'Neal and many others, although all of these prayers are not for sickness alone.

James 5:14-16 says, "Is anyone sick among you? Let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord; And the prayer of faith shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him. Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much."

Wastes No Time

Thad Eure wasted absolutely, no time in throwing his straw hat into the ring Monday. The veteran Secretary of State, in a ceremony coinciding with his traditional observance of Straw Hat Day, paid his filing fee for reelection at 12 noon, the exact time prescribed by law for the filing period to begin in North Carolina.

Eure thus became the first candidate to formally file for public office under the new North Carolina election law.

During his visit to the State Board of Elections, Eure sported a new hard sailor straw hat symbolic of his annual observance of Straw Hat Day. The hat, like those he has worn in past observances, was donated by a longtime friend, Maurice Fleishman of Fayetteville. For many years Eure has donned a new straw hat on April 5 in honor of the birth date of his father.

Eure, the dean of state officials, said he will count heavily upon his record of "dedication and loyalty to the Democratic Party and impartial faithful service to the people of North Carolina with efficiency, economy and integrity in government."

Suit...

The Medical Society is very concerned that the provisions of the act will interfere with the physician-patient relationship, the practice of medicine, and will not be in the best interest of the patient.

One of the disputed provisions of the law is that prior to the expansion or construction of any health care facility a "Certificate of Need" is required to be filed with the Department of HEW. The law stipulates that states will have to enact certificate of need legislation in order to receive federal funds under the act. A certificate of need law passed earlier by the General Assembly was declared unconstitutional in 1973 by the Supreme Court of North Carolina.

"We understand," stated Dr. Davis, "that the State is claiming this law is coercing it to enact legislation against the will of the State and its constitution. "We heartily agree with this claim," he added. It also gives the Secretary of the Department of HEW the final word on awarding of all federal grants and other federal funding.

Dr. Davis added, "Any act that delegates such overwhelming authority to the Secretary of HEW is unsound in providing quality medical care to the public." He emphasized that "We will, however, continue to cooperate with the law until there is some final determination of its constitutionality."

The first cookbook is believed to be a Roman one called "Of Culinary Matters," written in the first century.

Mark Twain published "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer," 100 years ago in 1876. It became a best seller in the same year!
