In And Around Oriental

by Mrs. G. P. Midyette
Joint Vacation Bible School Held
The First Baptist Church and United Methodist Church have been involved in a joint vacation Bible School that has now come to a close. Mrs. Inez Hargrove served as principal and Mrs. Betty Welsh was pianist. Teachers were Candy Broughton, Barbara Lupton and Mrs. Freeda Lupton; Mrs. Fay Bond, Mrs. Lucille Murray and Nancy Piner. The youth group was under the direction of Mrs. Irma Midyette and Mrs. Lil Midyette. There were around 50 students attending each day to learn about the Bible and its teachings. Refreshments were served daily.

On hand to serve refreshments, different ones serving on different days were Linda Sanderson, Ruth Statham and Freeda Lupton; Sylvia Roberts, Lucy Gilgo, Clara Bailey, Doris Rockwood, Annie Willis, Eva Mae Lewis, Rebecca Paul and John Bond.

Commencement exercises were at 10 o'clock Friday with parents present.

Excitement In The Air
Everyone was getting excited last week this time about the Independence Day Celebration that was held on July 3 at the mini park. We must look to our next edition to see who won the many prizes offered for several contests.

Surprise Visit
Betsy Thompson was pleasantly surprised last Tuesday by a visit from a college classmate, Mrs. G. C. Webb and her husband from Weldon. They spent the afternoon together reminiscing. She was surprised again on Wednesday when her sister, Billie Jean Midyette-Furlong, came home from Charlotte to spend some time with her mother, brothers, sisters and friends.

Changing Hands
The Harbor View Galley in Oriental has changed hands; also Norman's Grocery Store. Johnny Pye and his wife, Cheryl bought out Brantley and Sylvia Norman. Let us welcome them to the community.

Celebrity Here
It is reported that Foster Brooks of TV fame was a visitor at the Oriental Marina Restaurant recently. He was with a group who were taking part in the sail boat races.

Take Up Summer Residence Here
The Kenneth Midyette family of Raleigh have taken up summer residence here in one of the depot apartments which is their second home.

Pamlico County—Past, Present And Future

By Dot Avent
Recently United Press International released several articles about the Civil War ships, the Monitor and the Merrimac. It was exciting to learn that recovery experts now feel that the Monitor can be exhumed from "The Graveyard of the Atlantic" one hundred and fifteen years after her death. The ship was equipped with as many as 40 inventions of the designer-inventor John Ericsson which were never patented due to lack of time. Included in this number were a movable turret, flush toilets, a hidden anchor, and a forced air ventilation system. Nicknamed "Cheesebuns on a Raft," she sank in a storm New Year's Eve 1862 some nine months after the inclusive battle with the Merrimac.

John Newton, executive director of the Monitor Research and Recovery Foundation, is creating authentic documentation of the construction and life of these two ships from this historical era of our past. Any information pertaining to these vessels would be appreciated, but he is especially interested in locating descendants of the ships' crews. Perhaps someone from Pamlico County was a crew member. If you have any information, please forward it to Mr. Newton in care of the foundation, P. O. Box 1862, Beaufort, N.C. 28516. It will be gratefully received.

Vacation time is here once again. There are many at-home and nearby attractions. The outdoor dramas at Bath and on Roanoke Island are just a "stone's throw" from Pamlico County. Ticket information for "Blackbeard, Knight of the Black Flat" is available by writing Blackbeard, P. O. Box 209, Bath, N.C. 27808. Roanoke Island's drama, "The Lost Colony," first performed in 1937, continues to entertain audiences both young and old. A schedule and prices may be obtained from The Lost Colony, Ticket Information, Manteo, N.C.

Sailing is another of the favorite summer pastimes in Pamlico County as evidenced by the many sailing boats on our waterways. The Neuse River Sailing Association starts its season in March but the big event is the Oriental Sailing Social. For information about memberships and events, contact Ed Bailey, The Shipyard, Oriental, N.C. 28571. The Blackbeard Sailing Club is headquartered just at the edge of Pamlico County but on the Craven County side of the boundary line. The club sponsors the annual Blackbeard Regatta. Charles Marr, P. O. Box 303, New Bern, N.C. 28560, dispenses membership and racing event information.

Thank you for all the information you have shared this week about the cemeteries in Pamlico County. The file is beginning to be an arduous and hopefully will soon include every burial site in the county. Many sites cannot be catalogued before Fa., but sites are being marked on our map to be visited. Please keep passing this information along.

Obituaries

Ross
Hugh Herbert Ross, Jr., 70, formerly of Beaufort County, youngest son of the late H. H. Ross and Lula Rowe Ross, died Tuesday at his home in Rome, Ga. He is survived by his widow, Sara Chadwick Ross and three sons, H. H. Ross, III of Schneccity, N. Y., Chadwick Ross of Red Bank, N. J. and Dickinson Ross of Atlanta, Ga. and four grandchildren.

The deceased was the brother of Mrs. Irma Ross Midyette of Oriental and Miss Mildred Ross of Wilson, now residing in Durham with her nephew, Robert Paschall. He was a brother of the late John R. Ross of New Bern and was a long time employee of Metropolitan Life Insurance until his retirement three years ago. Burial was in Rome on Thursday. In lieu of flowers a memorial gift to the Cancer Society was requested by the family. The address is Kingston Road, RFD-8, Rome, Ga.

Ray Hathaways In St. Louis

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hathaway of Hobeucken, who were recently married, attended the Hathaway family reunion in St. Louis, Mo. and report having a wonderful time. According to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, for Ray it was like gaining an instant family. He had never attended a family reunion before. He said he had never met any Hathaways before because his father was an orphan and he never had any way to trace the family.

He began the search about 10 years ago when he heard about Mrs. Elizabeth Versailles, a Hathaway descendent who is genealogist for the association. He wrote to her for information about the family. He plans to start attending the reunion each year.

The annual event is held every other year in New England and in different cities across the country in alternate years. The first settlers of the family

HOW 9 SOCKS, 3 T-SHIRTS AND 5 PAIRS OF SHORTS COULD FORCE US TO BUILD A 460 MILLION DOLLAR PLANT.

It may sound strange, but it could happen. Here's why. At CP&L, our plans are to provide more than adequate power for that one day of the year when the demand is the greatest. This particular time is called "Peak Load." Nobody knows exactly when it will come, but it's usually in the summer.

Do your laundry outside this "Peak Load" period. Use cold water whenever you can and always run full loads. Don't use your dishwasher until it's full, and do it after 10 PM. Try to take showers before 10 AM or after 10 PM. Try serving cooler meals; cook outside "Peak Load" periods whenever possible. Most importantly, keep your air conditioner at the warmest possible setting, day and night.

Whenever it comes, the higher the peak, the greater the chance of our having to plan and build more generating capacity. And with today's high building costs, (our new units at Mayo will cost about $460 million each) that eventually means higher costs for your electricity. So we're doing all we can to avoid having to build new plants before they're absolutely necessary. And you can help. Here's how. Do everything you can this summer to keep down the "Peak Load" between the hours of 10 AM and 10 PM.

It helps to keep drapes closed to direct sunlight. And the insulation that will hold down heating bills in winter, will do the same for cooling bills in the summer. There's more you can do to help "Beat the Peak" and, at the same time cut down on your electric bill. The information's available at any CP&L office. So call or come in soon. After all, you don't want it to be your next load of laundry that forces us to build another multi-million dollar plant.

Last Years Celebration Remembered

In a letter to Ms. Cheri Bond, Oriental Recreation Director, Mrs. Ruth C. Wilson of Oriental said that she noticed in The Pamlico County News that Oriental had planned another July 4th celebration on the Sunday preceding the holiday.

She said she was so impressed with last year's that she would like to have a small part in the financial support of the 1977 program and enclosed a check to be used for the event.

In expressing her appreciation for Mrs. Wilson's letter and contribution, Ms. Bond said something like this really made her day and made her feel her job so worthwhile.

Celebration . . .

ladies age one through five, was next with all of the contestants attired in old fashioned dresses and displaying much poise for their tender ages.

A family picnic, with lunch spread on tables in the Park or on cloths laid on the grass, was enjoyed by hundreds of people of all ages, making a truly old fashioned family day.

A parade, Oriental's second, was held beginning at 3:30. Due to newspaper deadline on Sunday, these pictures will not appear until next week. The parade was followed by many special events at the park where booths had been erected by civic or church groups to serve refreshments or sell various items.

In addition to these, there was a sidewalk art show displaying work of local artists, this being under the direction of Ms. Nancy Tuttle; A quilt raffle for the Bicentennial quilt made last year by members of the Oriental Junior Woman's Club; old fashioned games such as a tug o' war, sack races, dashes and egg throwing, culminating with a Corn-On-The-Cob Eating Contest to see who could eat the most corn.

The square dance held at Lou Mac Park under the stars at 8 o'clock was thoroughly enjoyed by the many attending who were serenaded throughout by "Bruce and his Buddies."

Oriental's Independence Day celebration ended with a fabulous fireworks display, sponsored by Oriental Service Station and Oriental Tavern. This was held on the waterfront of "Lou Mac Park" bringing to a close a most meaningful observance of America's 201st birthday.

The celebration was sponsored by the Oriental Recreation Department in cooperation with local churches and businesses. Cheri Bond, Oriental Recreation Director and members of the Oriental Independence Committee are to be congratulated on such a well planned event that brought joy and renewed patriotism to so many. Members of the committee were Norma Smith, Clara Bailey, David Lupton, Linda Sanderson, Inez Hargrove, Betsy Thompson, Grace Evans and Cheri, of course.
