Glancing At The General Assembly

By M. L. SHIPMAN
Raleigh, Jan. 21.—The one sure subject for debate has been dumped into the legislative hopper. Representative N. E. Day, a mild-mannered man and personally "dry," of Onslow County, is the author of a bill to submit to a vote of the people three issues: Retention of prohibition, modification so as to permit liquor sales under the old "quart" laws or open sales under supervision of a State monopoly. Representative A. B. Palmer, of Cabarrus County, wants to increase the alcoholic content of beer from 3.2 per cent to 4.5 per cent. His bill is designed to provide for the sale of beer with some "kick" in it. Both are veteran members of the Legislature with enough prestige to insure consideration of their bills.

The "dry" forces, under the leadership of Cale K. Burgess, of Raleigh, who was in charge of the campaign that resulted in the defeat of ratification of repeal of the eighteenth amendment by a majority of 185,000, were not only prompt in meeting the challenge for a referendum on the question of legalizing sales of "hard liquor" but they have also been on the job in keeping their lines organized for the expected attack. Mr. Burgess is a member of the board of stewards of Edenton Street Methodist Church in Raleigh, and is usually in his seat on Sundays, but in recent months he has spent few Sundays in Raleigh. He has been speaking all over North Carolina. He is an excellent speaker, but he doesn't stop with speaking. He knows the value of organization. In the referendum held on November 7, 1933, ratification of prohibition repeal for the nation was defeated by a majority of 154,572 out of a total vote of 418,588. In the next election the Democratic vote was 319,000 and the Republican vote was 192,000, and this included absentee votes while in the repeal election there were no absentee votes. The dry forces contend that they are stronger than either the Democratic or Republican parties, and that the Legislature is in honor bound to stand by the mandate of the people of the State. Since some of the ablest and most astute political leaders of the State are leading the dry forces, it can readily be seen that a battle royal is promised on the bills now in the legislative hopper.

Several of the legislators are concerned over what to do about mad dog epidemics in their counties. Wake County representatives have introduced a bill permitting health authorities to require compulsory confinement and inoculation of dogs in the event of an epidemic. Raleigh is periodically threatened with such epidemics. The city fathers adopt an ordinance requiring muzzling, but it is so hard to keep a dog muzzled that nobody in Raleigh can recall that a dog was ever muzzled. Some of the counties do not have health officers, but have mad dog epidemics. Representative Vann is among the legislators seeking a remedy for such counties.

BAPTIST CHURCH OFFICIALS CONFER WITH SPRAY MAN
Rev. D. M. Dempsey, of Spray, N. C., who was called to the pastorate of the Hertford Baptist Church, recently met in a conference with church officials Wednesday night in reference to the matter. While the call has not been definitely accepted at this time, it is believed that Mr. Dempsey will in all probability be the next pastor of the Hertford Baptist Church.

Register Your Baby Now Slogan In State

"Register Your Baby." This admonition is the slogan of a campaign Uncle Sam will conduct in every county in North Carolina during the next few weeks, going into every city, town, village, community, and the rural side in an effort to get a complete record of every baby born in the State during the past 12 months.

State laws require that every doctor or midwife who attends a mother at a birth make a report of such birth and this is usually done. On occasions, however, midwives, particularly, and doctors occasionally, fail to make the proper report, with the result that there is no permanent record of the birth, and no birth certificate is later available. And many times, during the life of the average man, it becomes important, even vital, to establish his age.

The Federal Government is attempting to complete the records of births of babies throughout the United States and is calling upon all parents in North Carolina now to aid in this compilation. The campaign is being conducted by the United States Bureau of the Census, through the North Carolina State Board of Health and with the aid of the North Carolina Emergency Relief Administration.

Early in February the Bureau of the Census, with the aid of the Post-office Department, will distribute to every family in the State a card on which a few simple facts are to be filled in, and the card dropped in a mail box, without postage. The principal effort is to get all parents to whom babies have been born within the past year to fill in these cards and mail them. This simple act makes sure that the child reported is there properly recorded and a certificate of birth will be easy to secure. A complete response to the call is sought.
