

HIT OR MISS

Following are some personal items from Ballhack which appeared in the Hertford Herald in 1901:

J. T. Brinn's new residence and cotton gin are nearing completion. Mr. Brinn is one of our most progressive agriculturists and believes in keeping up with the march of progress. His new home will be one of the most inviting in the county when completed.

(Editor's Note: Mr. Brinn later built another and more modern home, the present residence of the family just outside of Hertford.)

Miss Julia White, the popular and talented teacher, returned from Greenville Saturday. The Ballyhack high school was opened Monday, with Miss White as principal.

Mr. and Mrs. Darius White spent a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Watson White, near Edenton, last week. They report that the old time Chowan hospitality is still dispensed to all who cross her borders.

Below appear some Hertford persons of the same date:

Misses Helen and Sarah Gaither are visiting their parents in West Hertford.

Misses Kate and Janie Blanchard have returned from a visit to friends in Hertford County.

It may be that quite a little fund will be realized if the county commissioners decide to act upon the suggestion to fine those who cut across the court house green. The appearance of the paths cut across the lawn indicate a pretty general use. But only a few fines would have to be imposed to correct the situation which is due to thoughtlessness. It is so easy to take the few extra steps which would save the appearance of the pretty green that it seems a shame not to.
